Chamber Blocks French Cabinet Crash

'Al' Smith Boomlet Gives New Measure For Guaging Leaders

THEY are again booming Governor "Al" Smith of New York for president, on the ground that, even out of a politically hostile legislature, he got more of his bills passed this year than any other governor.

It is too early for speculations on presidential candidates to be worth much; but this particular boost is interesting on another ground. It illustrates our recent habit of judging governors and presidents, not by what they do, but by what they make the legislatures or congress do. Regardless of the "literary theory" of the constitution, we have come to look on our executives, not simply as administrators of the laws which the legislature branch passes, but as the leaders of the legislative branch itself. We have made it the function of governors and presidents to propose laws, and of congresses and legislatures to accept or reject them.

THE French make it plain that their interest in a disarmament conference will begin only after the settlement of the security of France. Whoever will agree to help France to keep the Germans out, in "the next war," may also invite France to discuss disarmament. Since America shows no disposition to do the first, it is not encouraged to do the second.

Of course, if America were to offer the remission of debts, that might open the door, too. But America shows no sign of doing that, either. So the preliminaries are likely to wait on European settlements, before the American invitation can be worth much.

Fortunately, Time and Fate are on our side. France is essaying to play a larger role in Europe than it is equipped to pay for. Sooner or later, the sure test of the franc will set a new key. It is easy now to say, "help us, or we will help ourselves." Then it will be, "help us, for we cannot help ourselves." On that basis, the unity of Europe and the peace of the world can be assured. Pre-war Germany was proud of having no friends, and of relying on its "own fist." No nation in the remade world, not even America, can ever do that again.

PRACTICAL jokers thought it was funny to send a honeymoon couple handcuffed together from Denver to San Francisco. The key, forwarded by air mail, awaited them at their destination, so no great harm was done, and if they thought it a joke, it was.

Melanesian savages, in the South Seas, have a more serious and permanent method of guaranteeing the "sacred indissolubility," of marriage. There, if a wife tries to run away from the husband who has bought her, they put a red-hot stone under her knee, and tie the leg bent over it until the tendons are so burned that the joint will never straighten again.

There is no danger, for the rest of her life, of her ever hobbling far from the marital hut. There are those who would protect the "sacredness" of Christian marriages by methods scarcely less Christian, only they sear the soul instead of the flesh. Those whom only fetters hold together, man would better put asunder.

PRESIDENT Coolidge is popular with the American people for the appropriations he has saved. Each senator or congressman who comes home appeals for popularity for the appropriations he has "got." And each has his reward. The whole people want economy, and honor the president for securing it to them. Each district or state wants appropriations, and honors the representative who has got them. The less congress spends, the better we think of it.

The more each congressman induces it to spend, the better his constituents like it. And we expect to get an economical congress composed of extravagant congressmen! In mathematics, the whole is equal to the sum of all its parts; but not in politics. The president represents the whole people. Therefore he can lead in the economy which the whole people want. Congress represents the sum of all the parts of the people. Therefore, it tends to the extravagance those parts want.

DEPUTIES BY VOTE REVEAL CONFIDENCE

Herriot Ministry, However, Is Crumbling, and Collapse Is Felt Certain

FINANCE HEAD QUITS

Proposal to Increase Circulation of Bank Notes Perils Paris Government

PARIS, April 3.—Premier Herriot this afternoon revealed to the Radical Socialist group of the chamber of deputies that he plans to meet the French financial crisis with a proposal for a long-term capital tax levy. The exact extent of the levy, however, he left unclear, saying that it would apply "only on acquired wealth," and would not affect "wealth in formation."

Herriot apparently made no definition of the meaning of "wealth in formation" and it was believed that on its definition will rest the real policy of the government. The announcement, however, was the first important step any government has taken towards meeting the financial situation.

PARIS, April 3.—The French cabinet, fall of which is threatened as a result of the financial crisis, was saved temporarily today when the chamber of deputies voted unanimously to postpone indefinitely interpellations of the ministry on its financial policy. The vote was an indirect expression of confidence

Premier Herriot's cabinet has begun to crumble as a result of the greatest crisis in France's financial history.

M. Clementel, minister of finance, already has resigned, and the resignation of other members of the cabinet, including Herriot himself, is considered possible, if not probable.

Propose Financial Remedy.

Announcement was made that Premier Herriot would speak in the chamber this afternoon, and that early next week the government's plan to remedy the financial situation will be introduced.

It was learned that, before De Monzie accepted appointment as an embassy will probably be maintained at the Vatican.

Clementel's resignation came during an all-night cabinet meeting precipitated by his proposal to increase the circulation of bank notes by two billion francs.

The sudden resignation of the minister of finance was the outcome of a long conflict between the senate and chamber of deputies, and also a disagreement with Premier Herroit.

Proposal Not Authorized.

After Clementel's plan to issue bank notes with gold backing had met with Herriot's disapproval, the finance minister unexpectedly, and without cabinet authorization, made his sensational proposal regarding inflation before the senate.

Herriot, in a finely-shaded statement, repudiated Clementel's proposition, though admitting a drastic remedy was needed.

In explaining why he resigned, Clementel said today:

"I found that I could not longer remain as minister of finance in the present cabinet. I felt myself censured by the words that Premier Herriot pronounced before the senate. I definitely defined the

Ignores Wife For Church, Spouse Avers

LOS ANGELES, April 3.—Floyd Brubaker, of Pomona, after joining the Church of the Assemblies of God, spent his money for religion and failed to support his wife, according to the latter's petition for divorce, on file here today.

After getting religion, Brubaker became a prophet, the complaint said, and told his wife the world would end on Easter Sunday and she was on the way to perdition. "He was a religious fanatic and instead of spending his money in supporting his wife, he gave a large part of it to the leader of the "Assemblies of God," the petition said.

Mrs. Brubaker also charged her husband added to her domestic misery by stretching himself on the floor and making peculiar sounds and shouts at the top of his voice for the "Holy Ghost."

She demands the divorce on the grounds of cruelty.

GASOLINE TAX HINGES UPON BOARD ACTION

SACRAMENTO, April 3.—Upon the attitude taken by the state highway commission Monday, before the senate committee on revenue and taxation, rests the ultimate fate of the one-cent gasoline tax increase.

This was the opinion voiced today by several members of the upper house, following the senate's action of yesterday in adopting a resolution "requesting" officers and employes of the commission to attend a meeting of the committee, which is considering the gasoline tax measure.

If the commission continues its present attitude of passive resistance to the senate's request for its program of expenditures for the next two years, little likelihood is seen of the legislature voting any further monies into the highway treasury.

One Vote Opposes

The resolution adopted yesterday had only one dissenting vote. Senator J. M. Inman, of Sacramento, shouted a vigorous "No" because the document "requested" rather than demanded" the appearance of the committee at the meeting Monday night. If the commission fails to accept the invitation, subpoenas may be issued.

Those members of the senate who sponsored the move to determine the program of construction mapped out by the commission on which it based a request for $20,000,000 for the biennium, are insistent in accomplishing their purpose.

Some members plan an attempt to include an allocation of the funds in any measures calculated to increase money available for new highway construction. This is the basis for the highway commission's attitude.

Accept Colorado Pact

Legislators from the Imperial Valley section today were celebrating their victory of late yesterday in the ratification, with reservations, of the Colorado river 6-state compact. These lawmakers waged a bitter fight for inclusion of the qualifying clause, which they declared necessary to protect the water rights of the irrigationists.

The resolution was adopted by a 29 to 11 vote, after two attempts to amend it by the opposition had been voted down. The five other states involved ratified the treaty without reservations.

Under the provisions of the reservation, California's ratification will not become effective until congress has authorized construc-

TEN RADICALS JAILED AFTER RIOT IN L. A.

NAB WOMEN IN MELEE

Trouble Starts When Russian Exile, Warned of Death, Begins Speech

LOS ANGELES, April 3.—Ten alleged radicals, including four women, were jailed here today, following a riot at Labor Temple between Communists and their enemies.

The outbreak occurred during an Anti-Soviet meeting, addressed by Raphael Abramovich, who delivered a tirade on the "Evils of Communism in Soviet Russia."

The prisoners were charged with disturbing the peace.

Twenty-five members of the radical squad of the police department were present at the meeting and probably prevented further cutbreaks.

Gets Death Warning

Abramovich, a Russian exile, had been warned before the meeting that he would be killed on the platform if he attempted to deliver his address.

More than 1000 members of the Jewish Socialist verdant jammed the hall to hear Abramovich speak.

The speaker had barely started his address, when the demonstrations began.

More than a score of Hecklers were ousted from the hall by a special squad of police, which had been assigned to protect the speaker.

Toward the close of the meeting, the demonstrations developed into a free-for-all fight.

Women Claw Officers

One of the women arrested was attired in a flaming red sweater, and caused considerable annoyance to officers with her hatpin before she was subdued.

The prisoners, according to police, are members of the Communist party, and gathered to prevent Dr. Abramovich's asserted expose of conditions in Russia under Soviet rule.

DOROTHY UNMOVED BY SORDID TALES

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3.—Dorothy Ellingson sat in court today and listened without changing color to stories of her affairs.

Testimony of Mrs. Susan Deacon juvenile officer and reading of statements signed by the girl admitting repeated indiscretions failed to bring a blush to the cheek of the 17 year old girl charged with slaying her mother.

The defense brought out the testimony as part of its move to prove Dorothy insane.

"Dorothy was in juvenile hall in 1922 when she was 14 years old," Mrs. Deacon testified.

The jazz girl, apparently stronger and in better spirits than any time thus far in her hearing gazed at the witnesses without concern. The burning eyes of spectators were on her, but they brought no apparent sign of conscience pangs.

FATE OF CHAPMAN IN JURY'S HANDS

HARTFORD, Conn., April 3.—The case of the state of Connecticut against Gerald Chapman, mail robber, charged with killing Policeman James J. Skelly, went to the jury at 12:59 today, following Judge Jennings' charge.

Judge Jennings told the jury that, in view of the fact that James Skelly was killed while a felony was being committed, there is only possible a verdict of first degree murder or an acquittal.

He said there were no extenuating circumstances, whereby a verdict of second degree murder could be returned. Through his charge, Jennings told the jury that Chapman either shot Skelly or he didn't, and if he did, he is guilty of first degree murder.

Jennings cautione the jury to "give Chapman a fair, impartial trial, according to the evidence in court, and not judge him on his past records."

Officers Kill Bank Bandit At El Segundo

EL SEGUNDO, Calif., April 3.—One bandit was shot and killed and another captured by two motorcycle officers today during an unsuccessful attempt to rob the El Segundo State bank. Two other members of the bandit gang escaped.

The $100,000 payroll for employes at the local refinery of the Standard Oil company had just been deposited at the bank.

The officers were on duty at the bank, expecting the robbery, following a tip to the sheriff's office a week ago. The dead bandit was identified as Charles Davis, 22. His companion, who was captured, is Norman Mason, 22.

SECRETARY OF WAR RECOVERS FROM STROKE

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Secretary of War Weeks suffered a faint stroke of cerebral thrombosis, which usually causes paralysis, on Wednesday morning, but is now almost completely recovered, it was disclosed in a physician's statement issued today.

The bulletin, issued by Dr. B. L. Hardin, said:

"Early in the morning of April 1, Secretary Weeks had a thrombosis of one of the smaller branches of the middle cerebral artery, producing a weakness of the muscles of the left arm. No other symptoms have developed. Considering the rapid improvement he has made in the last 48 hours, he will be out in a short time."

The extent of Weeks' recovery can be measured by the fact that Weeks today was sitting up reading newspapers. It was said at the war department. It was recalled, however, that it was a cerebral thrombosis which completely paralyzed the left side of Col. Charles R. Forbes, former director of the veterans' bureau, last week, and left him in serious condition.

More Funds Are Received Today for Sufferers

Contributions to The Register fund for the relief of suffering in the devastated area in the middle west continued to be received today, with the total reaching $831.50.

In presenting a donation of $10, George Minter, pioneer resident of the city, who has been ill, expressed regret that he did not get his "mite" in sooner.

Several contributors have expressed the hope that others will make additions until the fund has reached a total of $1000.

Rains Again Fall In Northern Area

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3.—Fitful rains dampened northern California during the last 24 hours, with the coast regions receiving the greater part of the precipitation. Eureka reported 1.84 inches, the maximum fall. Santa Rosa reported .62 of an inch. San Francisco had .22; Red Bluff, .18; Chico, .16; Colusa, .14; Sacramento, .02, and San Jose, .01.

AVERT PANIC IN BLAZE AT SCHOOL PLAY

COSTUMES TAKE FIRE

Lights Go Out and Stage Hand Strikes Match, But Catastrophe Is Averted

TWO small girls were slightly burned, and the lives of 500 children and an audience of 1550 other persons were placed in jeopardy last night at the Santa Ana high school auditorium, when paper dresses, worn by four girls, caught fire, as approximately 60 children were grouped on the stage for the presentation of a school pageant.

A threatening panic was averted by the coolness displayed by Mrs. Frances Beeson, director of music in the graded schools, and several high school boys, acting as stage hands, who quickly beat out the flames.

Although smoke was drifting over the audience, and the word "fire" was shouted in the halls of the building, the audience as a whole remained calm and seated. The high school orchestra, under the leadership of S. J. Mustol, played a part in dispelling the fears of the audience, playing one piece after another.

All Lights are Out

To add to the danger, every light in the building went out, throwing the place in complete darkness.

Virginia Trickey, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Trickey, 726 South Van Ness street, and Alberta Sanford, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Sanford, 920 West Myrtle street, were slightly burned, when cotton muffs they were carrying, and which were a part of their costumes as snowflakes, caught fire from a match struck by a stage hand, soon after the lights went out.

The Trickey girl was burned slightly on the left leg, but was able to return to her school work today. Alberta Sanford was more seriously burned, when a quantity of cotton, around her neck caught fire. Her condition is not serious however.

Two other girls' clothing, that of Evelyn Fairley, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. C. Fairley, 930 West Bishop street, and Mary Reed, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Reed, 402 South Birch street, also caught fire, but, quick work on the part of Mrs. Beeson and the stage hands, who rolled the girls on the floor, prevented injury to them.

Light Fuses Blow Out

Tinkering of wires in the spotlight operator's roo mis thought to have been the cause for a short circuit, which caused the main fuses for the building to burn out, it was stated today by W. L. Deimling, local manager of the Edison company, who early today made an investigation of the accident.

Deimling said that, so far as the wiring of the building was concerned, the work was perfect, and had not some boy or girl tinkered with the wires, the fuses would have held. The trouble was entirely local, he said, confined to the one building.

Although there were 500 school children in the building at the time of the fire, a great majority of these were stationed in class rooms, awaiting their turn on the stage. Many of these never knew of the trouble, and teachers, watching over them, led them to the school yard at the first report of danger.

Marches Children Out

Fully 100 children of the McKinley school, in charge of Miss Mary Andrews and other teachers, were in the music room of the high school awaiting their turn to perform. A man rushed to the door, called for his daughter, and announced that the building was afire. With great presence of mind, Miss Andrews called to the

Capture Rum Ship Set Afire by Crew

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3.—After being set afire by the crew and running for the beach to escape capture, an unnamed rum runner was caught off Pigeon Point by the coast guard early today. Two men were arrested.

The rum ship, a fishing boat of 40 feet, sank on the bar as it was being towed through the Golden Gate by the cutter Tamaroa. Liquor, seized as evidence at sea, was brought in on the Tamaroa.

The Tamaroa, on patrol last night, sighted the vessel off Pescadero, south of here, and opened chase. The rum ship was set afire and headed for the beach, but was overhauled by the cutter and stopped.

PROBE PLOT TO DISABLE U. S. NAVAL TANKER

SAN PEDRO, April 3.—Shore leave was denied to members of the crew of the U. S. naval tanker Cuyama today, while officers investigated what they believe was probably a plot to disable the vessel.

Capt. H. A. Orr, commander of the U. S. S. Procyon, said emery powder had been placed in the Cuyama's engine, presumably by a drunken sailor.

He is head of a naval board of inquiry, which is probing the affair.

Captain Orr said he did not believe any act of sabotage was intended by any member of the crew, but was inclined to suspect an intoxicated middie poured the emery into the vessel's bearings.

He said damage was slight, and that the ship would leave on schedule with the fleet this afternoon for San Francisco.

The Cuyama has a crew of 200.

THOUSANDS CHEER DEPARTING FLEET

SAN PEDRO, April 3.—A cheering throng of thousands lined the local waterfront for a parting glimpse of the fleet as it left the harbor this afternoon on the first leg of its historic journey to Hawaiian waters, via San Francisco.

Eleven dreadnaughts, headed by the U. S. S. Seattle, flagship of Admiral Robert E. Coontz, fleet commander, and nearly 100 auxiliary craft, weighed anchor in the local harbor at 1 p. m. and sailed northward.

Joined By Other Ships

Half an hour later, the remainder of the fleet from San Diego was scheduled to join the main squadron off Point Fermin, where the combined armada forms in Catalina channel and steams off below the horizon.

The grounds of Fort MacArthur were thrown open to the public and furnished a vantage ground for 50,000 spectators to view the department naval force.

Maneuvers Along Coast

The fleet, after assuming column formation off Point Fermin, divided into two groups and engaged in tactical maneuvers up the coast to San Francisco. The schedule calls for entrance at the Golden Gate shortly after daybreak Sunday. There the ships will anchor until April 15, when they sail for Honolulu.

The fleet is due at Honolulu on April 27, where extensive maneuvers are planned. Half the sea force will then return to the Pacific coast, on the way to Atlantic waters, and the remaining 75 vessels will make a "friendly visit" to Australia, returning to the local harbor the latter part of September.

Slayer Dies With Smile On His Lips

HUNTSVILLE, Tex., April 3.—Henry J. (Pete) Welk today paid the penalty for the murder of Willis Champion, Dallas county jailer, and the Texas Electric chair claimed its first white victim.

Welk went to his death in the state penitentiary here at 12:15 a. m., calmly and with a smile on his lips.

"Give all the boys my best regards and tell them I hope to meet them in a better world," Welk said to Sheriff Schuyler Marshall, of Dallas.

As attendants strapped him in the chair, Welk admonished them to "take your time and have the best of luck."

POINT TO RADIO TALK

Cite Speech By Walsh and Fact Unauthorized Persons Were In Jury Room

WASHINGTON, April 3.—All indictments of Albert B. Fall, E. L. Doheny, E. L. Doheny Jr., and Harry F. Sinclair, growing out of the naval oil reserve leases were quashed here today by Justice McCoy, of the District of Columbia supreme court.

McCoy sustained the motion of counsel for the defendants to dismiss the indictments on the ground that they were vitiated by the presence of unauthorized persons in the grand jury room when evidence was being taken.

Dismiss Four Indictments

The four indictments dismissed were:

Charging Fall with accepting a bribe from Doheny.

McCoy held that the presence of Oscar Pagan, justice department indictment expert, in the jury room during the taking of testimony, invalidated the indictments.

Counsel for the three defendants, in moving last February to quash the indictments, contended both Pagan and Peyton Gordon, United States district attorney, were illegally present during the taking of testimony.

Are Automatically Excluded

They argued that the law turning over the prosecution of the oil lease cases to Special Counsel Atlee Pomerene and Owen Roberts automatically excluded anyone connected with the department of justice from participating in the prosecution of the cases.

They also made the point that the radio speech of Senator Thomas J. Walsh, of Montana, chief prosecutor of the senate oil investigation, during the sittings of the grand jury returning the indictments, was an attempt to influence their decision, and the indictments should be quashed also on that ground.

The court's action does not affect the indictment of Sinclair for refusal to testify before the senate oil committee, which is still pending in courts.

The court refused to sustain the defense contention that Walsh's speech interfered with the jury's decision and it rejected a minor point that the indictments were not properly signed. The government was upheld on both these points.

Following the court's action, George P. Hoover, of counsel for Sinclair, said he believed the charge of bribery against Fall and Doheny was disposed of, but thought that the conspiracy charge against all four defendants might be resubmitted to another jury.

WILL APPEAL CASE, POMERENE ASSERTS

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 3.—"We will carry the case to the court of appeals of the District of Columbia," Atlee Pomerene, government counsel, said today, when informed the indictments of Albert B. Fall, E. L. Doheny and Edward L. Doheny jr., and Harry F. Sinclair had been quashed by Justice McCoy at Washington.

Santa Ana —the Favored City

Few cities have such limitless possibilities for growth and development as Santa Ana has today. Its rise in the last few years is merely a forerunner of the future that looms just ahead—a future full of thriving industries, fine residential sections, unprecedented civic advantages.

SEEK RECALL OF 2 H. B. COUNCILMEN

Two petitions asking for the recall of James Macklin and Richard Drew, Huntington Beach city councilmen, were filed early today with City Clerk W. R. Wright, according to word received here from the beach city.

At the same time, it was alleged that other petitions, asking for a recall election for W. R. Wharton and L. R. Ridenour two other members of the city council were being circulated. Ridenour is mayor of Huntington Beach.

The petitions, one of which carried 273 names, and the other 263 names, alleged that the two councilmen were unfit for office in that they were wasteful, careless and indifferent to the best interests of the city government.

Persons said to be responsible for the circulating of the petitions are: Mrs. Louise Crawford, Ross D. Brown, Amos Houston, C. W. Warner, Mrs. Beulah Westmoreland and Mrs. Oliver B. Hetterdahl.

RESTRAIN SHIPPING BOARD FROM CLOSING LINER SALE

WASHINGTON, April 3—The U. S. shipping board was temporarily restrained by an injunction secured by the Pacific Mail Steamship company here today from consummating the sale of the five President type liners, which it recently voted to turn over to the Dollar line.

The injunction was granted by the District of Columbia supreme court upon the application of the Pacific company. The shipping board must show cause by April 13 why it should not be made permanent.

In its petition for the injunction, the Pacific company declared the "arbitrary refusal of the shipping board to consider plaintiff's bid can only be explained by a desire to expedite sale of the five vessels, even at a heavy loss to the government and sacrifice of national interest and the merchant marine act."

The petition referred to the action of the board yesterday in voting down a motion of Vice Chairman Plummer that the proposed contract should be submitted to the attorney general for his opinion as to whether it conforms to the merchant marine act.

"During the war, the vessels of the Dollar interests were operated under foreign flags, whereas the Pacific Mail operated under the American flag," the petition said, declaring that the Pacific Mail vessels were commandeered by the U. S. government and paid to the government $7,500,000 in earnings and more than $3,000,000 in taxes.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 3.—Four bandits shot the cashier of the Portland bank today and fled with $4000. Physicians say the cashier, F. L. Kilingham, may not recover.

CHICAGO, April 3.—The third attempt of William D. Shepherd to obtain bail pending trial on the charge that he killed Billy McClintock failed today when Judge Brothers denied a motion to re-open the bail hearing.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3.—Mrs. Gertrude Silva was strangled to death today in her home by an unknown slayer as her 5-year-old son, Billie, looked on. "I went to mamma's bedroom and saw a man tying a strap around her neck," the child said. "Then he left."

DIVIDED SKIRTS, LATEST FOR MEN

LONDON, April 8.—Young men have become so femininized in their clothes, according to West End tailors, that they are now wearing "divided skirts."

At least the new trousers affected by the young blades at Oxford and Cambridge can scarcely be told from divided skirts.

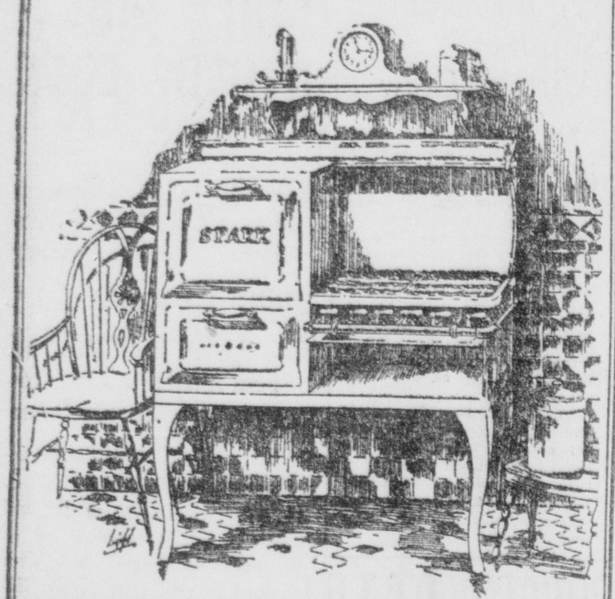

"Look at this pair," said a Savile Row tailor mournfully.

"The waist is 30 inches and each leg is 25 inches around the knee and 22 inches around the shoe top. Those are practically the measurements of a divided skirt.

"But it is the latest style and the young men demand them. They go even further. They have now begun cutting their sport shirts low-neck—a purely feminine fashion."

FULLERTON, April 3.—When George L. Story takes office as city recorder the police business of Fullerton will be entirely in new hands with the appointment of O. W. Wilson, graduate of the University of California and the police school of Chief of Police August Vollmer of Berkeley, to be chief of police.

Story will take office as city recorder following the resignation of William French. The resignation of both French and Arthur Eells, former chief are laid by their friends to the alleged wet and dry war being waged by city trustees and city officials at Fullerton. City trustees deny there is any issue on the liquor question and say they are solidly in favor of impartial and strict enforcement of the dry laws.

Wilson is 25 years old. He is believed to be one of the youngest men in the United States to hold such a position. Wilson succeeds Arthur Eells who resigned because of friction with the board.

The appointment came after the city police commission headed by Trustee W. J. Carmichael had interviewed numerous applicants for the position left open by the resignation of Eells. Wilson comes with a splendid recommendation from Chief Vollmer, under whom he has served on the Berkeley city police force for the past four years, gaining practical experience in every branch of the work. While serving as a full time member of the force he studied in the university and in Vollmer's police school he pursued studies in police organization and administration and various special courses of applied criminology.

With a ready smile and a gracious, unassuming manner, the new chief is easy to meet and to talk to. Though coming equipped with the best there is to know in modern police administration he has evinced no intention of instituting any drastic changes in the local department proceedure. His own words perhaps best express his whole policy.

"The honest and efficient administration of the department with a just but strict enforcement of all laws and ordinances, a clean police service above all affiliations—this, as far as my character, ability and training will permit, shall be my policy as Chief of Police of Fullerton."

The gracious smile disappears when he declares himself in this way and one is aware of a very square and determined jaw and grey eyes unflinchingly sincere.

At a special meeting called by Mayor Crooke and at which the city trustees, members of the police force and newspaper men were present, Wilson was assured the unqualified endorsement of the city fathers and the co-operation of the members of the force. The mayor stressed the necessity of absolute harmony between the Council and the various departments of the city, stating that he wished Wilson to feel that the board to a man has the best interests of the community at heart and wishes to co-operate with him in making the police department highly efficient in serving the city.

Wilson announced to his men his intention of holding a meeting of the force each week, at which times individual grievances and suggestions may be aired and discussed. He also stated that the development of an up-to-date finger-print and photographic system, and of a "crime prevention" department, similar to the one used in Vollmer's internationally famous school in Berkeley, would be gradually effected in Fullerton.

DR. KERR TRIAL IN LOS ANGELES IS POSTPONED

Attorney John S. Cooper, defending Dr. Kerr, introduced physician's deposition to the effect that Dr. Kerr is suffering from acute indigestion and nervous trouble and would be unable to appear in court for at least 14 days. Judge James set the tentative date for his trial as April 8.

The physician emphatically denies the charge.

In the meantime Judge James said he would send other physicians to Dr. Kerr's home at Garden Grove to ascertain his condition.

The package of alleged poison candy was sent to Dr. Luella Kerr, divorced wife of the physician, now residing in Los Angeles, last Thanksgiving day. The peculiarity of the handwriting on the package aroused her suspicion and she turned the box of candy over to postoffice inspectors who, in turn, ordered a chemical examination made.

The report of chemists was to the effect that potassium cyanide had been injected into the chocolates with a hypodermic needle.

Dr. Kerr is at liberty on $15,000 bonds. United States District Attorney S. W. McNabb is prosecuting the case.

Dr. Kerr's wife, whom he claims to have educated in medicine, was present in court today. The Kerrs have a son 15 years old, now in the custody of the mother.

TREES IN CENTRAL PARK DYING, CLAIM

NEW YORK, April 3.—Trees of Central park are gradually starving to death and unless prompt and serious measures are taken to save them, New York's historic playground, in a few years, will lose much of its beauty.

This was the warning given in an address by Congressman Martin L. Davey, of Kent, O., and one of the nation's foremost authorities on trees.

"To New York's shame," said Davey, "the noble trees of Central park are dying off rapidly through gross neglect. Many of them are dying from lack of food just as Floyd Collins died in his Kentucky cave.

"The essential plant food elements have bee n steadily pumped out of Central park soil by trees and other vegetation. Nature provides for the replacement of this food through the annual fall and decay of the leaves. But the leaves in the park are raked up and destroyed and these elements are not replaced either naturally or artificially."

FORT SILL LEADS IN GUN PRACTICE

LAWTON, Okla., April 3.—More rounds of artillery ammunition are fired on the Fort Sill reservation, near here, tha non any other firing center in the world, according to the estimates of army engineers.

Fort Sill is considered the greatest artillery center of the United States army.

Approximately 2,376,810 pounds, or 1188.4 tons of ammunition, were fired on the Fort Sill range during the year of 1923-24, according to figures compiled at the post. The size of the shells used ranged from 37 mm., weighing approximately one pound, to 9. 2 inch shells of 286 pounds.

he U. S. war department makes liberal allowance in munitions for Fort Sill in an effort to make the course in the artillery school as practical as possible.

U. S. Envoy Can Use Chopsticks

TOKYO, April 3.—The American ambassador, Edgar A. Bancroft, has learned how to use the native chop-sticks. He went to a dinner given in his honor by the newspaper men of Tokyo recently—the Japanese papers, that is to say. It was what is known as a gyunabe.

The chief food is rice, with which strips of beef are served, cooked on the charcoal fires on the tables. One sits on the floor, like a tailor, and eats with chopsticks. The Japanese papers praised the ambassador for his deftness in handling the tricky instruments.

Dr. Frederic Bancroft, the ambassador's brother, had to use his fork. "It's easy," quoth the ambassador. "Try and do it," said his brother.

SANTA ANANS RECEIVE WORD OF OIL FIND ON LAND THEY OWN IN SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY

Sixteen residents of Santa Ana today were talking finances in the numerical of one million, following discovery of oil sand on one of nine sections of land they own in the San Joaquin valley. The 3240 acres are located near Raisin City, and is seventeen miles southwest of Fresno, in the direction of Coalinga oil field, which is 40 miles distant.

The group is said to have under consideration today an offer of approximately $1,000,000 for its holdings. Definite confirmation of the report could not be made here today, members of the group declaring that the situation was such that disclosures could not be made.

It was learned that some months ago the company leased four sections to a wildcatting company. The company started drilling and now has a hole down 5300 feet, and it is reported that 100 feet of oil sand has been uncovered at the great depth. It was asserted here, however, that the local owners are not sufficiently informed as to whether the sand carries oil in paying quanties. For this reason, it was said, the group is working more or less in the dark in giving consideration to a sales offer. The wildcat company recently has leased one and a half sections to the Associated Oil company.

With three Los Angeles parties, the following Santa Anans own the property: E. B. Sprague, John Cubbon, C. E. Parker, P. A. Robinson, J. G. Quick, Mrs. Emma L. French, Mrs. E. E. Keech, Mrs. J. A. Nunn, A. C. Williams, W. D. Baker, the Menges family, Miss Margaret Orr, S. H. Finley, and Miss Ora E. Davis. Dr. Jesse Chilton, of Fullerton, is in the group.

The property was acquired by the group 15 years ago and has been rented as pasture land, it was stated today by a member of the syndicate.

According to this man, discovery of oil sand in the wildcat well is the first and only discovery of oil on the floor of the San Joaquin valley. If oil is found in paying quantities, it is predicted one of the greatest fields in the state will be opened.

PANIC AVERTED IN SCHOOL PLAY BLAZE

children to form in line and march out. A teacher was stationed at each turn, and by talking to the children, cautioning them to go slowly and carefully, in the darkness, the children marched out as calmly as though at an ordinary fire drill. Parents were excitedly calling for children, searching along the line, but in spite of the excitement and confusion of parents, the children maintained perfect order.

Too much praise can not be given the teachers who had charge of the children. In every instance where children were grouped throughout the building, the teachers, with cool precision, marched their pupils to safety.

Several parents, seated in the auditorium, became excited and searched for their children, and when finding them, rushed them from the building, but these were few, and the children, in most cases, were directly in charge of the teachers throughout the evening.

Wild Rumors Circulated

Although many rumors were heard at the building last night, about injuries and narrow escapes, many of these, run to earth, were found to be without foundation, and criticism as to the condition of the fire escapes, heard last night, was unnecessary.

In all, the danger period lasted for about 30 minutes. The lights came on again after that time and the show was resumed just where it was interrupted.

In discussing the probability of fire at the auditorium, F. L. Andrews, secretary of the board of education, said that it would be almost impossible for an extensive fire to occur in the auditorium.

"The walls are of brick, and both inside and out are fireproof," he said. "The beams are of steel. The scenery and curtains could catch afire, but even with all that burning up, it is not at all likely that the rest of the structure would burn," he stated.

Andrews said that, reports to the contrary notwithstanding, both exit doors to the right and left of the stage were in proper condition. All that had to be done to open these was to shove against the bar that runs across each door. In the darkness and excitement last night, someone broke the glass of the west exit door, instead of shoving against the bar.

CONSIDER EMERGENCY SAFETY MEASURES

Reports were current today at the board of education offices that recommendations for installation and operation of several emergency safety measures, including installation of an independent battery lighting system, installation of sprinkling system on the stage, and a regular and methodical inspection of fire protection in school buildings, will be considered at the regular school board meeting scheduled for Tuesday afternoon.

This action, it was intimated, comes as a result of the small fire which broke out last night on the stage of the high school auditorium, resulting in slight injuries to two young school children, participating in a pageant.

Expect Cabinet to Quit.

Those well informed on the situation said today there was no question but that the entire government soon would resign.

The senate was scheduled to continue its financial discussion this morning, but several senators asked postponement because no minister of finance would be present. Senator Renoult, the government spokesman then explained:

"I am in a position to announce that a minister—Senator De Monzie—has been appointed to succeed Clementel, and that the new minister will soon be here."

The session was then postponed until this afternoon, when De Monzie will be present.

The momentous meeting at Quai D'Orsay last night opened at 10 p. m., and was not adjourned until six hours later.

Members of the chamber, who left the conference at midnight, refused interviews, explaining they were found to strictest secrecy. But it was understood the Socialists were insisting that capital must be further taxed to help France out of her financial difficulty.

Herriot was reported undecided on this point and was said to have proposed that income tax rates be doubled throughout Rrance.

Mrs. Lopez was leaving the building by a fire escape, following the performance of "The Little New King," a school pageant, which she was "covering" for The Register, when she slipped and fell. She will be confined to her bed for several weeks.

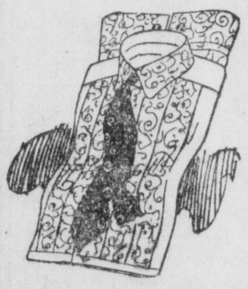

Believe Balkan League May Aid In World Peace

GENEVA, April 3—Hand in hand with the political and military alliances that are building up all over Europe, such as the Little Entente and the various French defensive pacts, a new movement has developed for the creation of economic and customs unions.

While some of these, like the proposed German-Austrian economic and customs union, are looked upon a trifle askanse, as being possibly productive of future political and military unification, others are being hailed as potential peace makers.

The most important of the latter kind is the proposed Balkan economic alliance, which is being backed by the Pan-Balkan Commercial league. The founders of the latter are confident that the best way to ease the world of the perpetual Balkan peace menace is to get the Balkan countries together so that their economic interests coincide and after that it will be much easier to get them together politically.

The WELL-DRESSED MAN
By BEAUNASH
Correct Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

THE WELL-SHIRTED MAN

Follow style, but don't chase it. It means more that a man is correctly dressed in the essentials than that he is "modishly" dressed in the incidentals, which, after all, are a matter of personal preference, instead of fixed fashion. There is a regrettable and ridiculous proneness among many style writers to "point with pride" to a single cut, color or cloth and to "view with alarm" the adoption of anything else. According to these one-idea exponents, like other worthy, though misguided, zealots, the only way to go to fashion heaven is by their particular route. If you detour, you're doomed. This warped, weazened notion of style is twenty years behind the times and forty leagues behind the truth. All men are created equal, yes, but they don't grow up that way. Some are tall; some are short. Some are slender; some are stout. Some are of florid complexion; some are sallow-faced. Some are old; some are young.

How can a single cut, color or cloth, like a patent-adjustable contraption, befit men of all types, when even so trifling a thing as thumb-prints differ widely? Select those styles and shades which are becoming to you. Shun those which are not. Play up your personality in dress. It has been well written: "We move too much in platoons; we march by sections; we do not live in our vital individuality enough. Human faculties are common, but that which converges these faculties into my identity separates me from every other man. He cannot think my thoughts; he cannot speak my words; he cannot do my works."

One of the notable tendencies of spring is the gradual revival of the pleated-bosom shirt. This lends a more decorative touch to men's dress than the plain front, which has been in vogue for many years. It is, too, in harmony with the spirit of the times towards greater formality in town and business clothes with the object of separating them completely from sport, country and knockabout styles. This distinction is very important and is observed by all well-dressed men.

The smart shirt shown here has a solid-colored body and sleeves together with a vari-colored bosom and cuffs. The pattern is formed by an intricate scroll effect in several contrasting shades. The pleats are very broad, but narrower ones, if one prefers, are quite as correct. The double-band, deep-pointed collar matches the bosom and cuffs. You will see many shirts of such a, now, fashionable type of which that illustrated is only one example. All these denote the richness and colorfulness which may be applied even to so humble and retiring an article of dress as your shirt.

WOMEN OF ALL NATIONS URGE EQUAL RIGHTS

WASHINGTON, April 3. — In Turkey and Wisconsin, South Africa and California, Buenos Aires and Washington, D. C., and in Norway and France and England, women are striving for equality with men—in business, in the professions, in the governments, and before the law.

The movement for "equal rights" between the sexes, given a great impetus by the woman suffrage constitutional amendment in the United States, has become the object for the latest international conference.

An international parliament of women, representing feminists from every section of the globe, will be held in Washington next December, in an effort to coordinate the efforts of women toward political, economic and social freedom. Alice Paul, one of the leaders of the national woman's party in its early campaign for suffrage and later for equal rights and the removal of discriminations against women, is now in Paris and London, where the international committee to handle the meeting is being organized.

Pledge Joint Efforts

Leading suffragists in France and England have pledged their efforts to aid in the new movement.

The women of the United States have gone far in obtaining equality with men, but much remains to be done, according to the leaders of the woman's party, which has headquarters here. A constitutional amendment to provide that men and women shall be equal before the law, which would remove all discriminations of the law both favoring and opposing general welfare of women, is being proposed by the party. It was introduced in the last congress, but failed to be acted upon.

Women in France are engaging in an active campaign for suffrage. English women are demanding more equal suffrage with men through elimination of higher age restrictions. German women have the ballot.

Some Nations Lag Behind

But in the other nations of the world woman's condition is very bad, in that she is not regarded by the laws and customs as a person with rights, but asa chattel or precious belonging, according to the feminist leaders here.

The program for the conference will include the handicaps that each country sets up against its women, and means of uniting to fight the laws and customs that "lead to subjection of the women."

The leading suffragists of France—Mme. Durand, Mme. Duchene, Mme. Jouvre, and Mlle. Dumont—and those of England—Lady Rhondda, M. P., Elizabeth Robbins, well-known author, and Mrs. Pethick-Lawrence—have become members of the committee.

Prominent American women in France who joined the movement include Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, president of the women's party; Gloria Swanson, the movie star; the Countess of Lausane, who was a prominent suffrage worker in the United States before her marriage, and Ganna Walska, opera singer. Mrs. John Barrymore and Julia Marlowe also have an interest in the movement.

CHAMBER MEETING INTERESTS WOMEN

That women of the city are evincing interest in the annual membership meeting of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce was revealed today by A. L. Oliger, secretary, who announced that virtually half of the reservations made for the dinner at 6:30 p. m. today, at St. Ann's Inn have been made for women.

Reservations pointed to the presence of 125 men and women, the secretary said.

The orchestra of the Julia Lathrop junior high school will play during the banquet, Oliger announced as a new feature for the entertainment program.

Carl Mock, who is directly in charge of entertainment, said that the program would be one that would be pleasing to all who attend.

"The meeting will offer opportunity to 'get over' to members some of the big plans of the chamber and at the same time give them the viewpoint of community building by men from outside of the city," the secretary said. "Judge Mathoniah Thomas of Long Beach, who is to be the principal speaker, has a real message to deliver and those who do not hear him will miss a treat."

Women are more numerous than men in Alabama, Georgia, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New York and the Carolinas.

CIGARETS NOW ARE LEGAL IN NORTH DAKOTA

FARGO, N. D., April 3.—For the first time in 12 years, cigarets were lawfully sold in North Dakota April 1. The 1925 session of the North Dakota legislature passed two measures repealing the statute of 1913, prohibiting "the manufacture, sale, disposing of, giving away and soliciting oders for cigaret papers" under penalty.

Because of the emergency clause the two laws now are effective. Licenses and stamp taxes, estimated to bring in $500,000 in revenue, are provided for and the use of the injunction in enforcing the regulations and the prohibition against sale to minors.

State Women's Christian Temperance union headquarters, who led successfully the fight against repeal of the anti-cigaret law in the six legislatures and in one election where a measure permitting their sale was initiated, say that, in order to secure half a million in stamp taxes and licenses, North Dakotans must spend $3,000,000 more annually than they do now for tobacco.

The argument of non-enforcement was used in passing the measures. The two women legislators voted against the bills, with the result the W. C. T. U. suggests a concentrated effort to elect more women to the legislature in 1927. The temperance union does not now contemplate referring the laws next year, as it is their belief that public opinion will in time demand repeal.

On the statute books of North Dakota still remains the law forbidding smoking in dining rooms where men and women are both served—believed to be the only law of its kind in existence.

MANY AFTER POST AS EXECUTIONER

BERLIN, April 3.—"No executioners needed!"

This laconic advertisement has been issued by the Prussian ministry of justice to ward off the flood of applications for this gruesome post. How coveted the job in Germany is, is shown by the fact that the ministry receives every day scores of letters in which the candidates disclose their abilities for the post.

Thus an applicant describes himself as" a man of high and imposing figure with a bushy moustache." Another declars that he has ben a student of theology and that therefore he would be especially fit for sending people to another world. The applications are so numerous that the ministry has issued printed forms saying that "for the moment" there was no need.

The executioner gets a retainer fee which amounts to the salary of a small official. Besides this he receives a fee for every execution, amounting to sixty marks for himself and fifty for each of his four assistants. The latter have to be trained by him and must always make the same manipulations to ensure a quick excution.

The axe with which executions are carried out in Germany must be provided by the executioner. Also the block on which the criminal puts his head is his private property. The state pays for the transport of these tools and provides for the expenses of the executioner when he acts in another city, granting him also a third class railway ticket.

Fall Follows Pride, Bedroom Burglar Finds

BOSTON, April 3.—When the Lone Wolf, notorious "boudoir burglar," gets out of jail he is going to tear up his correspondence school certificate, chuck his detective books away, and forget all about his courses in finger-printing.

For too much education along these lines developed his ego. And too much ego led to his capture.

For months the police of the Back Bay district, Worcester and Providence had been baffled by this bedroom burglar. He would break into an apartment, tie his women victims to their beds, ransack their homes, and then stop leisurely and write his name with soap on a mirror.

When the police would come they would find the carefully written name: "Lone Wolf," but no other clues.

The game became too easy. The burglar became more daring. He decided to goad on the police.

In his last robbery he stopped to leave a clear fingerprint on the neck of a ginger ale bottle.

The police were too dumb to find it, he reasoned. Wasn't he smarter than they? Hadn't he finished several courses in correspondence school detecting? Didn't he know all about fingerprints? Wouldn't he give them the razz?

He did for a short time. But his conceit gave him away.

With the fingerprint as their lead, Boston detectives ran down their quarry. They crawled into his window, as stealthily as he ever climbed through the windows of his victims' homes, and nabbed him in his bedroom.

Bu this time no "Lone Wolf" was soaped on the mirror. It was recorded on the police blotter, as the alias of James E. Walters, also known as Frank Stevens of Richmond, Va.

The first street lighting on record was in 1558, when people in Paris were ordered to place candles in front of their houses.

In Norway, there are no legal bars against a woman holding any office or position, except that of minister in a church.

A British inventor has developed a camera which will take pictures indoors without a long exposure. An unusually large lens is used.

The Customer Be—Pleased!

A certain business man once stated the above caption quite differently. Instead of pleased, he said damned. Perhaps he had never heard of the Golden Rule.

A merchant once said, "The customer is always right." Quite a difference. It is obvious that either customer or merchant can be wrong, but we prefer always to give the customer the benefit of the doubt.

Our policy is that the customer, right or wrong must be pleased and we will go even to extremes to please him. This is a part of our Service.

Mark Birthdays of Four Friends With Party

Mrs. H. H. Lewis entertained a group of friends last evening at a very delightful "50" party in honor of four ladies whose birthday's occur in the same week, Mrs. Elba Hunt, Mrs. E. R. Stillens, Mrs. Frank McConnell and Mrs. Ernest Zimmerman. Mrs. McConnell received a very beautiful hand-made dresser scarf, while the rest of the ladies received handsome luncheon sets. After a very pleasant evening spent in cards high scores were won by Mr. T. J. Ernst and Mrs. C. B. Henry.

Delightful refreshments were served by the hostess after which Mrs. R. A. Wilcox presented the honor guests with a large birthday cake. The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Westgate, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Ernst of Hollywood, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Ernst, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mize, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Farmworth, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Henry, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stennett, Jack Jentdef, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Stillens, Mrs. Elmer Hunt, Mrs. J. F. Williams, Mrs. Maude Connoway, Mrs. Harriet Barnes, Mellissa Zimmerman, Mrs. Margaret Zimmerman, Mrs. P. M. Larson, Mrs. Ella Hotz, Mrs. Frank McConnell, Mrs. R. A. Wilcox, Mrs. Ida Ashby, Mrs. Margaret Gunther, Miss Margaret Hayhurst, Mr. John B. Hayhurst, Mr. Robert Pearson and Mr. Will Blidgett.

Entertain With Cards and Music

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Jamieson entertained a number of friends at their home on South Main street, Wednesday. Cards and music were enjoyed during the evening.

Mrs. Sam Ward received a gift for high score while Sam Ward was awarded the consolation prize.

At a wee small hour the hostess served a delicious supper to the following guests, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Note Hughes and daughter Ethel, Miss Hazel Flint, Mr. George Crawford and Margaret and Thelma Jameson.

Haleys Entertain With Delightful Dinner Party

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Haley entertained the fourth household economics section of Ebell at a delightful dinner party in their splendidly appointed home on Washington avenue last evening. Forty-five guests gathered around the tables, attractively decorated with Cecil Brunner roses. Progressive whist rounded out the entertainment. Mrs. C. H. Lurker and Mrs. Charles Mitchell cut for first prize, the former being the winner. Mrs. W. B. Whitson and Mrs. E. L. Peacock teid for low score, the award going to Mrs. Whitson. Mr. Lurker won top score among the men. Mr. J. A. Tartley got the "low" prize.

School Basketball Team Entertained

Willard White was a genial host Wednesday night to members of the basketball team of the high school and their young girl friends at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence White, 822 East Fourth street.

Waxen calla lilies and fleur de lys made attractive decorations in the living and dining rooms, and the party took on the nature of an April fool party with its various laughable stunts, guessing games and searching for "josh" favors to find partners for supper, which at first was a sham, but later was followed by really good things to eat prepared by Mrs. White, for her son's guests. She was assisted in her pleasant hostess duties by Mrs. Nell Winslow.

Besides the coach, Edward Covington, members of the team present were Lawrence Walbridge, Cornia McElree, Ray Smith, Freddie Fosdick, Herbert Hill, Merle Youel, Otis Goodman, Hubert Prior, Arthur Norman, George Preble and the young host, Willard White. The girls were the Misses Ella Jo Covington, Lucille Bailey, Alberta Crane, Lola Skaggs, Virginia Rice, Marguerite Carothers, Catherine Walbridge, Virginia Bailey, Gladys Stoneman, Evelyn Sherrill and Miriam Adamson.

Must Seek Land for U. S. People

NEW YORK, April 3.—The time is not far distant when it will be necessary for the United States to substitute a policy of trying to find land for people in place of its traditional policy of finding people for land and handing out large pieces of the public domains to them," says an article in the American Bankers Association Journal. The executive departments at Washington are working on the determination of probable future needs.

JOBS ARE GUARANTEED

PEKING, April 3.—Street car workers have gone back to work here, after being guaranteed 20 years' work by the company and an increase of $1 a month in wages.

Tell of Parental Responsibilities At Union Meet

The Congregational Women's Union held their regular all-day meeting Wednesday in the bungalow of the church. Mrs. F. P. Nickey, president, presided at the morning session. Reports, plans for service and sewing occupied the time. The report of the social service work given by Mrs. H. C. McCord was most encouraging. The ladies were also much pleased when Mrs. Schrock told of a new lamp installed in the kitchen, the gift of Mrs. Lucy Whiting. Pot luck lunch was served at noon by Mrs. Pendell, chairman of the hostess committee.

The missionary department convened at two o'clock, Mrs. P. L. Tople presiding. Mrs. Gebb, in the devotional service on law enforcement, spoke earnestly of the responsibility of the individual and especially of the duties of parents in teaching obedience. Mrs. T. B. Kelley reviewed the first chapter of the book, "Adventures in Brotherhood," by Dorothy Giles. Mrs. Kelley's review created an eager interest to know more of the fascinating book. Mrs. McCauley, playing her own accompaniment, sang a beautiful solo, "Brotherhood," a fitting close to Mrs. Kelley's review. Miss Fanny Pease gave a delightful talk on China's recent war, paying a high tribute to General Feng who, because of his Christian faith, does not believe in war and has done all that he can to make it less horrible. Mrs. C. F. Crose, in her news items, "Listening in at W. U. B. P.," told of the conference at Washington composed of delegates from nine prominent organizations of women who came together to discuss the cause and cure of war and what they might accomplish toward its outlawry.

Mesdames Pendell, Schrock and Gorten were appointed delegates to the missionary convention at Riverside, April 21, 22 and 23. Alternates are Mesdames McCord, Kelley and Bloodgood. It is hoped that many of the ladies will avail themselves of the privilege of attending, for it is to be a conference of vital importance to missionary work in the Congregational churches in Southern California.

RADIO FANS WILL HOLD WORLD MEET

HARTFORD, Conn., April 3.—Hiram P. Maxim and Kenneth Warner, of Hartford, have sailed from New York for the first international congress of radio amateurs to be held in Paris from April 16 to 20. They will represent the American Radio Relay league, of which they are president and secretary, respectively.

Other representatives of American and Canadian amateur radio operators will take part in the congress, which is expected to consolidate the interest of amateur radio fans throughout the world.

The International Amateur Radio union is expected to become, as a result of the conference, a vast federation of national amateur associations, the object of which will be to promote amateur interests and suggest methods of regulating and bettering international auxiliary language.

Three leading French amateur societies have banded together to entertain the delegates. Although only one vote from each country will be recognized a general invitation has been extended and a large number of visitors are expected.

Holds House-warming Party In Home At Tustin

Mrs. Louis Braasch was hostess at a delightful house warming party last night at her home in Tustin. During the evening the guests played cards and danced. The house was gayly and effectively decorated with spring flowers and ferns. Delicious refreshments were served. The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Featherland, Fred Wimbler jr., Mr. and Mrs. Limbly, Mr. and Mrs. Rex. Barker, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Boskuler, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Christenson, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wimbler, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Meade, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Comliffe, Mrs. Peckman, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wimbler sr., Mr. and Mrs. B. B. McCulla, Mr. Budlong, Mr. Russell Peterson.

Mr. and Mrs. Stocks Honored at Party

When George Stocks and his wife and son depart Sunday for a visit to relatives at Burton-on-Trent, England, they will carry with them pleasant memories of a surprise tendered them last night by employes of Fred H. Towner, Stocks being foreman of the machine and welding department of the Towner factory plant.

Gathering at the Towner plant at 111 North Main street, the group of fifteen employes proceeded to the home of the Stocks at 2069 Bush street, taking the family completely unawares.

The evening passed quickly and pleasantly with radio music, cards and conversation. Ice cream and cake, provided by the self-invited guests, was served during the evening.

A happy voyage and safe return was wished the travellers, Stocks personally expressing his appreciation of the good will of his associates as expressed by their presence.

Mrs. C. K. Carr gave a delightful luncheon in honor of Mrs. G. Stocks and Mrs. Alice Scheel. The home was beautifully decorated with spring flowers, pink sweet peas and forget-me-nots being effectively arranged. Friends present to bid farewell to Mrs. Stocks and Mrs. Scheel were Mrs. Neuschwauger, Mrs. Havens, Seal Beach, Mrs. B. Koster and Mrs. Herman Scheel. Each guest brought an appropriate gift for the travelers.

SAYS U. S. NEEDS GAS PROTECTION

NEW YORK, April 3.—Germany and other nations, even those of Latin America, are forging ahead in chemical warfare while the United States is falling behind, it is asserted by "Industrial and Engineering Chemistry," official journal of the American Chemical society.

"In this country we have only one modern gas mask per hundred enlisted men in the regular army and National Guard" the journal says, quoting a report that "Germany has stored, ready for use, sufficient modern gas masks to provide five for every soldier authorized by the Treaty of Versailles."

It is plain that "though the ascendency of chemical warfare is written everywhere, the . S. chemical warfare service is being treated as a stepchild by those in charge of Army appropriations."

Should war break out U. S. troops would be required to fight the first six months inadequately protetced with modern gas masks, the journal says.

MISTAKEN APPLAUSE

VIENNA, April 3.—Friends of Fritz Kreisler tell of an experience of the great violinist when he was playing before the former sultan of Turkey. As he played, the sultan started clapping his hands. Kreisler thaught this was applause and kept on playing until an attendant rushed up and asked: "Do you want to be beheaded? The sultan wants you to stop playing."

Community Players Hold Enjoyable Meeting

When the Community Players met last evening President Shaefer announced that the full amount of the royalty on the next play to be given by the thespians had been paid and that the membership quota of 100 percent had been filled.

Following the business meeting an enjoyable program was given. Mrs. Van Dien sang, "One Fine Day" and the "Song of Songs," by Del Reigs. Mr. Lloyd Roach sang "Invictus," and "Lassie of Mine." A one act play, "The Mayor and the Manicure" was presented with the following cast:

Bob Speed as the Mayor;
Miss Margaret King as the Manicure;
Carson Smith as the Mayor's son;
Miss Marjorie Ellis as the fiancee.

The playlet was much enjoyed by all the members. Other members on the program were songs by Herschel Clayton, first tenor, Tedol Griggs, 2nd tenor, Lloyd Roach, baritone, Ed Hummel, bass, and Mrs. E. Hummel, soprano. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brackett gave a reading from Charles Dickens. The meeting was closed with refreshments served by Mrs. Northcross and her committee.

Church School to Present Pageant

The First Methodist Episcopal church school will present as an Easter pageant, "The Dawning," by Lyman Baird, next Wednesday evening. Miss Holly Lash will direct the production in which 50 men, women and children will appear. Those who have attended the rehearsals express themselves as delighted with the splendid musical numbers.

P. E. O.

Mrs. Mary P. Mathews, 605 E. 4th street, entertained the P. E. O. at an all day meeting of that organization yesterday. The ladies worked on fancy work all afternoon. Mrs. Mathews read "Nothing in the Grand Canyon de Luxe" by Irvin S. Cobb. At the noon hour Mrs. Mathews served a very delightful luncheon. The table was tastefully decorated in the Easter motif and in the center was a basket of favors with streamers attached to which were Easter cards.

Chapter D will meet for 1 o'clock luncheon on Monday at the home of Mrs. Elsie Kennedy, 729 South Ross street. Hostesses will be Mrs. Genevieve Humiston and Mrs. Hester Hunter.

Ebell Travelers

Members of the first Travelers' section of the Ebell club will meet at the Laguna cottage of Mrs. J. P. Baumgartner on Monday for a pot luck luncheon.

MELLON PLAN WILL APPEAR IN NEW GUISE

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The "Mellon" tax plan, providing sharp reductions in surtax rates on incomes of $100,000 and over, is to be given a new dress and a new name before it is introduced again in congress.

In all essentials it will still be the tax child of Mellon's dreams, which he sought in vain to have adopted and legitimatized by the last congress.

But the Mellon paternity, which was stressed when the bill was previously before congress, will be evaded, if not actually disclaimed.

Although congress is not in session, preliminary steps for the shaping of the new tax measure will be taken during the summer by members of the Ways and Means committee of the House and Finance committee of the senate.

Recognizing that opposition to the original "Mellon" bill was furthered by the fact that it originated with the secretary of treasury rather than with congress and that the secretary would benefit personally thereby by some hundreds of thousands of dollars administration leaders are agreed that the new bill must bear, on its face at least, due evidence of its congressional origin.

Wherefore, we will have not the "Mellon" bill again, but the "Smoot-Green" bill with the Mellon theories present but cloaked under a congressional patronymic.

The mark at which the tax reductionists are setting their sights is a maximum surtax rate of 25 per cent.

The present law established surtaxes running to 40 per cent on incomes over $500,000, as against 50 per cent on incomes over $200,000, previously assessed.

The proposed reduction on the tax on large incomes, therefore, would be considerably sharper than that granted by the last congress, being a cut of approximately 40 per cent of the present rate.

William R. Green of Iowa, chairman of the house committee, who opposed the Mellon rates in the last congress, has now been won over to the 25 per cent maximum.

A campaign in favor of reduction of surtax rates to this figure is to be carried on this summer. This will be done under the guise of missionary work for "tax reform" rather than as a straight campaign for reduced surtaxes.

Every effort will be made, when the congress reassembles, to get quick action on this issue of reduced surtaxes.

This will be urged as desirable in order that the new rates may be made effective before the next assessment is due.

A further reason will be that action on the revenue measure is desired before developments that may reasonably be expected during the session have aroused animosities that might endanger its chances of passage.

Once the revenue bill, with its cut in the tax on big incomes, is out of the way, a deadlocked congress won't much matter. For that is the dominating domestic issue on the administration slate.

SHE'S MISS LOS ANGELES

Being up in arms in the case of Vita L'Ehmann merely means that she has the most beautiful arms—according to the chamber of commerce of Los Angeles—in all the world. And for this reason she is officially Miss Los Angeles.

FROM LAND OF MESQUITE

Maria Conesa, highest priced Mexican actress, will soon be seen in a Spanish play on the American stage. Here she is shown in a typical Mexican costume.

Our Neighbors

FRESNO.—William John Cooper, who for four years has been City Superintendent of Schools in Fresno, was today offered the position as president of the State Teachers' College at San Jose by the State Board of Education, it was announced here today.

Cooper's term as superintendent here expires June 30, next, and it is understood that the Board of Education contemplates reappointing him at an advance over his present annual salary of $6000. Such action is expected at the board meeting next Thursday night.

VAN NUYS—As a slap at all jazz music, saxophone playing and the modern tendency toward ragtime pace, the Van Nuys High school authorities have asked for some sober music study within the institution. As a result all the students now will turn their hands literally to trying to play the pipe-organ. Miss Ruth Snow, the school's piano teacher, has called for volunteers from the student body and there has been a liberal response.

SANTA BARBARA—Santa Barbara's oldest building, the commandante's headquarters of the old Presidio group, was purchased from Salisbury Field today. It will be restored by the Community Arts Association. The building, which was erected in 1782, two years before the old Mission was founded, has fast been falling to ruins. Civic plans call for the eventual restoration of a large portion of the old Presidio, which is located near the center of the city. The old adobe building has housed a Chinese laundry for many years, and was all but forgotten when the Native Sons focused public attention on it two years ago in an attempt to restore it.

ONTARIO—"The citrus situation looks good to me and I am hoping for the best results that have been obtained for the growers of this section in a number of years." That is the way the situation is viewed today by Harry B. Harlow, manager of the Ontario-Cucamonga or O. K. Exchange, which handles 85 per cent of all citrus fruit produced in this district. Manager Harlow said that the recent splendid rains and bountiful snow in the mountains mean plenty of water and water means money to citrus growers. It is said that in the citrus districts of Southern California there are approximately 4000 carloads of Washington navels yet to be shipped and one-fourth of this, or 1000 carloads, are on the trees of the O. K. district. This section is famed for the fact that the navels hang on the trees longer in good condition than in many other districts, and since this fruit usually brings the best prices it means prosperity for local growers this year.

MONROVIA—Plans for a Spiritualist camp in Clover Leaf Canyon in the north edge of Monrovia, have been abandoned by the California Science and Research Association, it is announced today by Lincoln G. Backus, their attorney here. The twenty-six acre tract, purchased by the association in January is for sale, Backus states. Thirty families, adhering to the spiritualist cult, plan to form a colony at some other place, Backus shtates, "within forty miles of Los Angeles, but not inside a municipality." He declined to state the location of the new colony. D. J. Gessler, who recently resigned as president of the association and disappeared following domestic difficulties, was the prime mover in organizing the Monrovia colony.

THIRTY-SEVEN BROKERS CLOSE REALTY COURSE

Thirty-seven real estate brokers in Orange county last night completed their course in real estate, prepared and put out by the University of California.

The class held its final meeting at the offices of the Orange County Title company, the subject being real estate investment. After the papers have been graded by the university and returned here, arrangements will be made for formal graduation exercises, according to J. C. Wallace, who directed the class through the two semesters. Diplomas will be given by the university.

The subject, presented several problems, tending to bring out the knowledge of the members as to what constituted good investments. A concrete problem was worked out as to the rental that should obtain on a lot worth $50,000 with a Class A business building costing $150,000. The problem, contained the intricacies of computing interest, depreciation, retiring a loan, different rates of interest on the land and on the building costs, and appreciation in value of the property.

It was the consensus that in the example given, the lot value would increase 50 per cent immediately the building is completed. It also was pointed out that the history of increased values shows that lot values in cities, on an average, double every 12 years.

In preparing the lesson, Robert A. Swink, of Pasadena, past president of the California Real Estate association, treated on "investments vs. speculation," declaring that "investment should not be confused with speculation, although it is hard to say where one ends and the other begins."

In the study lesson, the writer says: "Speculation differs from investment in that safety of principal is sacrificed in the hope of obtaining a large return. Some one has illustrated the difference between investment and speculation in the following language: 'A speculation is an investment so risky that an investor will not take it; an investment is a speculation so safe that a speculator will not take it.'"

At the conclusion of the lesson, the dealers went through the plant of the Orange County Title company, with Roy Shafer, title holder, explaining the devious details of running down a title and the preparations made by the company in copying and permanently maintaining documents registered in the offices of the county recorder and county clerk.

One of the interesting features brought to the attention of dealers by the tour of the plant was the fact that the company has complete records of documents concerning Orange county lands filed in Los Angeles county prior to the organization of Orange county in August, 1889.

Title insurance was discussed by Robert Mize, secretary of the company. Explanations were made of the various types of titles.

Expressing the appreciation of members of the class of the services rendered by Wallace in directing the class, Harry Bladen presented Wallace with a purse of money on behalf of the class members. Wallace has been present and directed the class in each of its 32 lessons.

The Orange County Title company complimented the class by serving French pastry and coffee after final adjournment.

Local Elks Will Install Officers Of Valley Lodges

Joe Burke, past exalted ruler of the Santa Ana lodge of Elks, and also a past district deputy, will install the officers of Calexico, El Centro and Brawley lodges, at a joint meeting in Calexico Saturday night.

Among the Santa Ana Elks who will accompany Burke are William (Stormy) Gordon, Sam Jernigan, Henry Gerken, Earl Abbey, M. R. Scott, Fred Ross, William Jerome, G. C. Ross, W. C. Dubois, Lee Boyle, Bob Gram and Charles Van Wyck. Gordon is the incoming exalted ruler of the local lodge.

Burke is scheduled to install the Santa Ana officers in the local lodge April 14.

Patrol Leaders Will Hold Two Training Camps

Two patrol leaders' training schools will be held this month, instead of one, as planned, it was stated today at Boy Scout headquarters.

The first will be held April 10 and 11 in Orange County park. The other will be held in the same place April 12 and 13.

A complete training in patrol methods will be given the leaders and their assistants.

Mexico Trip of Scouts Abandoned

Due to conflicting vacation periods, the proposed trip of Orange county Boy Scouts to Mexico has been postponed, it was announced today by Roland E. Dye, Scout executive. It was planned to leave here April 15 and return three days later.

According to Harold Goddard, scribe of Orange troop No. 1, his troop will take a trip into Mexico, leaving here April 13 and remaining for a week. Ensenada will be the destination.

Court Notes

Frozen Fruit.

Cecil Wright, of Artesia, who attempted to bring a load of frozen fruit through this county, not only lost the fruit but today lost $25 in the form of a fine for violation of the law.

On complaint of A. A. Brock, county horticultural commissioner, whose inspectors "picked up" Wright in Brea canyon, Justice K. E. Morrison fined the defendant $25. Brock's men had already "dumped" the fruit, of which they said more than one-fourth was frozen. There were 50 boxes of the oranges, which Wright had purchased from a fruit association at East Highlands, in San Bernardino county, it was said.

The fine levied upon Wright was declared to be light, because the offense was his first.

Case to Court.

G. M. Ketscher and J. A. Simpson, of Santa Ana, will continue their court battle over a land lease on April 20, Superior Judge F. C. Drumm having designated that date for renewal of the trial, which was not completed yesterday.

Ketscher is suing Simpson, owner of the land, for damages, claiming that Simpson "faked" a sale of the property in order to terminate a lease held by Ketscher and to recover possession of the premises. Ketscher claims damages in the shape of profits he might have made had the lease continued in effect.

Statutory Charge.

An information charging Marcil Deatrich, Santa Ana, of a statutory offense against a 15-year-old local girl, was filed in Superior Judge Z. B. West' scourt today by the district attorney's office.

Awarded $1000.

Miss Alta La Gorgue, of Anahiem, won a verdict of $1000 damages against George J. Pickering, Anaheim-Placentia rancher, it was shown today by superior court records of a jury verdict in the case. Miss La Gorgue had sued for $30,000 damages.

The jury returned its verdict late yesterday in Superior Judge R. Y. Williams' court, where the trial started Wednesday afternoon.

Miss La Gorgue was injured in a collision between cars driven by her father, F. R. LaGorgue, and Pickering, at an Anaheim street intersection. A suit was filed by her father, who asked $16,800 damages, is now pending.

Asks Foreclosure.

Mrs. Belle D. Boring, of Orange, and her son, Ronald A. Boring, were plaintiffs in a superior court action on file today to foreclose two mortgages, aggregating $5500, upon property at El Modena, owned by E. M. Sharar.

One of the mortgages represents security on a $2500 note given by Henry Behrmann, original owner of the property, to Charles N. Sharp. Sharp assigned the note to the Borings. Behrmann subsequently sold the land to William A. Henry, who later gave a note to the Borings for $3000, secured by mortgage. Henry later sold the land to Sharar. Henry and Sharar are both named defendants in the foreclosure suit, which was filed through Attorney John B. Nichols, of Santa Ana.

Seek Note Judgment

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Baggott, of Anaheim, were plaintiffs today in a suit on file in the superior court against Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Lehmberg, to recover judgment for $637.58, alleged to be due on a note. Attorney Roger C. Dutton, of Anaheim, represents the plaintiffs.

Must Serve Four Years

Francisco Valencia, sentenced to San Quentin from Orange county, March 1, 1924, for second degree burglary, must serve a term of four years, it was stated today in a communication received here from the state board of prison directors.

ASK $45,596 DAMAGES FROM PAVING FIRM

The husband and children of Mrs. Alice C. Harris, Santa Ana woman who died recently from injuries sustained in an automobile accident, today had taken legal steps to recover damages. An action for $45,596.75 was on file in the superior court against the Griffith company, paving contractors.

Rex K. Harris, manager of the Danz piano company, at Anaheim, and his two children, Alice J. Harris and Ernest K. Harris, were the plaintiffs, represented by Attorneys C. N. Mozley and L. A. West, of this city.

Mrs. Harris was riding in an automobile with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Ramsdale, on February 7, when the car struck an alleged obstruction at the intersection of West Seventeenth street and Garden Grove road, according to the damage complaint. Mrs. Harris was thrown against the top and sides of the car and received injuries that caused complete paralysis of her body below the neck. She died February 13.

The asserted "obstruction" in the highway was said to have been a 3-inch iron pipe, elevated about 10 inches above the pavement on wooden blocks, and covered with dirt and asphalt. It was alleged to have been placed there by the paving contractors, who were at that time engaged in paving West Seventeenth street, a link in the "Arrow Highway" connecting Santa Ana and Long Beach.

According to the complaint filed in court, the obstruction could not be observed by approaching motorists until too late to avoid it.

The plaintiffs' bill of damages contains $45,000 for loss of the wife and mother companionship of the deceased, and $596.75 for medical and funeral expenses.

LOCAL KIDDIES MAKE BIG HIT WITH PAGEANT

Enthusiastic praise is being heard today of the splendid showing made by the children of local grade schools at the performances of the Pageant of Seasons yesterday afternoon and evening in the high school auditorium, under the supervision of Mrs. Frances Beeson, director of music in the grammar schools. The production was repeated this afternoon and will be offered again tonight at 8 o'clock.

Effective costuming and staging makes the pageant a noteworthy effort, artistic and beautiful, and reflecting much credit on those responsible for the production.

In the prologue, Father Time leaves the stage, and The Old Year is seen dozing away. April Food slips in and gets on the throne, throwing things into confusion by playing a prank and changing the order of the seasons. The rabbits and flowers are upset because they do not know when to grow. Santa Claus does not know when to bring his gifts to the children who look forward to his visit.

Father Time finally straightens things out. He crowns the Little New Year king and declares that the seasons shall be as they have always been. All are happy and delighted to appear in their proper order.

The snowflakes (Lowell school) representing January, were lovely in their white, dainty costumes and gave a beautiful, graceful dance as they scattered the snow.

February (Spurgeon school) presented adorable Cupids and Valentines. George Washington and the snappy, fine flag drill received hearty applause.

March (Roosevelt school) presented the whirling leaves and snowflakes. The rabbits gave a clever, typical bunny dance, and were quite unafraid as they gambelled right up to the throne of the king.

The stage was a mass of beautiful, rich coloring, with April flowers, represented by McKinley school.

May, interpreted by John Muir school, had a May Queen who presided over the bright colored butterflies which flitted among the flowers.

Lincoln school presented June and July. The wedding scene was exquisite in song and coloring. The firecrackers literally popped in July and had a gay time.

August, from Jefferson school, presented a clever barnyard scene which received enthusiastic applause. The group of children at the seaside had a happy time. The movements and song by the reapers were very pretty.

It was a surprise to see what the Mexican schools could do. We was reminded of old days at school by the school bell and games given by the children from Logan school.

The Hallowe'en scene with Jack o' Lanterns, cats, wi'ches and brownies from Artesia school was very clever.

The Indians gave a realistic dance, but were frightened and crept away when they heeard the Puritans approaching. Evelyn Marshall gave a dance with a horn of plenty, representing the spirit of Thanksgiving.

Franklin school had the December scene. The living Christmas tree was unique and effective. Children danced about the tree. The tableau at the end with the Angel, Madonna and Wise Men was most artistic.

At Spicer's Tomorrow

Many Merchants To View Window Light Displays

More than 75 merchants of Santa Ana and vicinity are expected to attend the merchandising display exhibit at 423 North Sycamore street tonight at 8 o'clock, according to P. S. Lucas, secretary of the Merchants and Manufacturers association. Frank Smith, lecturer for the California Electrical bureau, who explained the value of proper lighting last night, will speak again this evening. According to Lucas, the exhibit is worth thousands of dollars to merchants. Through the manipulation of lights, Smith shows how merchandise may be shown to the best advantage.

QUEER ACCOUSTICS

LONDON, April 3.—In St. Alban's abbey the tick of a watch can be heard from one end of the building to the other. In the Gloucester cathedral, the gallery of octagonal form conveys a whisper 75 feet across the nave.

Inauguration day was first set as the "first Wednesday in March." That happened to be March 4, and ever since the ceremonies have been held on that day.

Phone Progress

The greatest period of telephone expansion in the history of Southern California has just reached its climax in the installation of the 250,000th telephone in the city of Los Angeles. In reaching a quarter of a million telephones, nearly 42,000 were installed during the past twelve months. Even greater growth is predicted for the year 1925.

Bears mistake the humming of telegraph wires for bees, and do much damage in the west by seeking honey around the poles.

Committee Is Appointed to Organize Permanent Body In Orange County

WILL DECIDE DATE AND EXHIBITION SITE

Agricultural Board Passes Resolutions Opposing U Branch Location

Definite decision to hold a county fair this year, probably in September, appointment of a committee to make arrangements for the organization of a permanent fair association, adoption of two resolutions on the branch university site matter, and passing of a motion expressing disapproval of the old custom of congressmen sending out fee seeds and their speeches under the franking privilege, featured the all-day monthly session of the Orange County Farm bureau directors in the hall of records building yesterday.

The many advantages incidental to a county fair were pointed out by A. M. Stanley, secretary-manager of the bureau. Stanley declared that a fair, properly managed, is educational, inspiring and of great advertising value.

While the exact dates for the fair have not been set, it will undoubtedly be held in September, it was indicated. The place has not been decided upon. A committee, composed of J. A. Smiley, chairman; C. B. Henry and J. B. Eaton, was appointed by President S. W. Stanley to seek a fair site near the center of population.

Committee Is Named.

The committee named to arrange for the permanent fair association consists of Dr. J. R. Schofield, Buena Park, chairman; S. H. McCracken, Yorba Linda; John Ragan, Villa Park; John Osterman, El Toro; A. M. Stanley, Santa Ana.

The last county fair in Orange county was in 1923. Due to the hoof and mouth disease last year, it was decided to not hold an exhibition.

Following reports from Sacramento that the farm bloc there, headed by Assemblyman S. C. Hart-

S. A. COUPLE OBSERVES HALF CENTURY OF MARRIED LIFE

SWEETHEARTS STILL AFTER FIFTY YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lane, Of Santa Ana, Celebrate Their Golden Wedding

Married 50 years without a single serious disagreement—and still sweethearts.

The foregoing sentence tells the story of the matrimonial adventure of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lane, who are today celebrating their golden wedding at their little home at 717 West Fifth street, Santa Ana.

It was 50 years ago to the day, in the little mining town of Nortonville, Contra Costa county, Calif., on a sunny spring day, that Miss Margaret J. Watkins—a winsome slip of a girl—sweet seventeen—became the wife of Martin Lane, an ambitious bookkeeper and salesman, working in a general store.

Asset of Abundant Love.

Martin had a good job, paying him $125 a month, but their main asset was abundant love and a determination to make a success of their partnership—trusting in God for the future.

From the very minute that the officiating clergyman, the Rev. William Parry, a Baptist minister, pronounced them man and wife, with the "honor and obey" clause, they worked and lived together as one from their youth to this crowning event of their life.

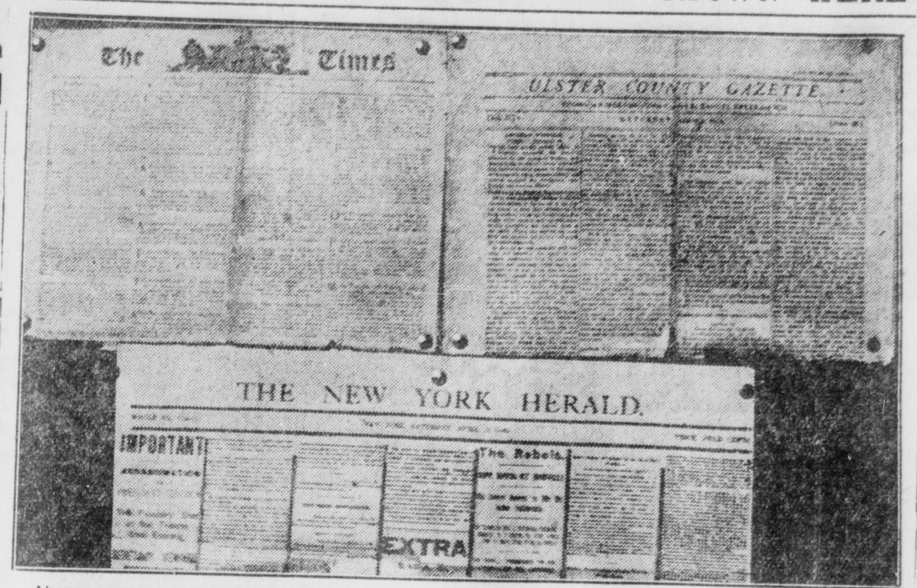

The groom hails from Dodgeville, Iowa county, Wis., and his wife is a native of Zanesville, O. Both came to California when mere children.

"Too much mother-in-law has been the cause of too many unhappy marriages, and not a few divorces, and this insistence on the part of meddlesome mothers to run the affairs of newlyweds will continue to furnish fresh cases for the divorce dockets," Mr. Lane remarked, setting forth his observations on married life.

To Santa Ana in 1880.

Mr. and Mrs. Lane came to Santa Ana in 1880. Mr. Lane was a clerk in the employ of the Pacific Development company, a subsidiary organization to the Southern Pacific railway. After leaving the service of the railroad company, he became a partner of John McFadden in the hardware business. He remained with McFadden for about 15 years. He then went into the furniture business for himself with office and salesrooms in the Masonic Temple building, which business he sold several years ago on account of failing health.

By ARVID E. GILMOUNT

TREASURED as documents of historical interest, contributing, as they do, important items of valuable information about certain great events in the world's history, are the original copies of two old newspapers, the Ulster County Gazette, of New York state, and the London Times, now in possession of William Cook Tralle, a well known Santa Ana real estate broker, with offices at 416 South Sycamore street.

In the matter of seniority, honors go to the American document. Its dateline says that it was printed in Kingston, Saturday, Jan. 4, 1800. The copy of the British paper was published 16 years later, or to be exact, June 22, 1815.

Both are yellowed with age, and show signs of fair "wear and tear" of a rather prolonged existence. Aristocrats in the realm of bibliography, they carry with them an atmosphere of venerable respectability, decidedly British in tone. Oozing with dignity and conscious of the relative value in the market of precious manuscripts, they are waiting to take their appointed places in some million-dollar library or museum.

No breezy stories by enterprizing reporters; no bold headlines stimulating street sales; no scandals for the breakfast table, grace the pages of these veterans in the newspaper field. Nor is space given to "innocent September Morns" nor striking photographs. Every word is on the safe side of decency and approved propriety.

Full of General News.

A comparison shows, however, that while form, style and purpose have undergone marked changes, there is a parallel as regards general news. There are accounts of wars, armies, navies, deliberations of governments and activities of prominent men.

Added to the Tralle collection is a copy of an "extra" published by the New York Herald on the morning following the assassination of Abraham Lincoln, dated Saturday, April 15, 1865. By a curious coincidence, another copy of this particular edition is in possession of Robert E. Knowles, living at 519 North Daisy avenue.

Sam Fraser and Son published the Ulster County Gazette. In those early days of the craft, the word "Gazette" was a popular name for a newspaper. Its origin is traced to the first European newspaper published in Italy, called "Notizia Sciotta" which became known throughout Venice and surrounding country as the "Gazetta."

An account of George Washington's death and entombment at Mount Vernon, as well as eulogies prounounced by President John Adams, General Marshall, of the house of representatives, and by the presiding officer of the senate, take up most of the space devoted to news matter in the Ulster county publication.

Here is the story of the funeral:

"George Town, Dec. 20.

"On Wednesday last, the mortal part of Washington the Great—the Father of His County and the Friend of Man—was consigned to the tomb, with solemn honors and funeral pomp.

"A multitude of persons assembled, from many miles round, at Mount Vernon, the choice abode and last residence of the illustrious chief. There were the groves—the spacious avenues, the beautiful and sublime scenes, the noble mansion—but, alas! the august inhabitant was now no more. That great soul was gone. His mortal part was there, indeed, but ah! how affecting! how awful the spectacle of such worth and greatness, thus to mortal eyes fallen! Yes! Fallen! Fallen!

"In the long and lofty Portico, where oft the Hero walked in all his glory, now lay the shrouded corpse. The countenance still composed and serene, seemed to depress the magnity of the spirit which had dwelt in that lifeless form. There those who paid the last sad honnours to the benefactor of his country, took an impressive—a farewell view.

"On the ornament at the head of the coffin, was inscribed Surge ad Judicium—about the middle of the coffin, Gloria Deo—and on the silver plate

"GENERAL
"GEORGE WASHINGTON,

FINES LEVIED ON LIONS CLUB WILL BE GIVEN TO EDUCATION

Board of Directors Decides On Way of Expending Levies Made on Members

EXPECT FUND WILL GRADUALLY INCREASE

April Fool Pranks Played At Meeting of Organization In St. Ann's Inn

Fines imposed on members will in the future go to the scholarship fund of the Santa Ana Lions club, it was announced yesterday by Harold E. Wahlberg, president, at the meeting of the club at St. Ann's Inn, as a result of a decision by the board of directors to devote fine money to the cause of education.

O. H. Egge, chairman of the scholarship fund, reported that decision had been made to create such fund by volunteer subscriptions by each member, the money to be loaned to students graduating from junior college, who may be in need of financial assistance in order to complete their college education.

Recommending that the club make the fund one of its major activities, Egge said that it would not be necessary to pay the obligations until next August, by which time the committee would know definitely whom it would help by lending money without interest. It is expected persons to whom loans are made will repay the amounts within two years after they have completed their college course.

See Increase of Fund.

It was pointed out that at first the club fund would not be sufficient to offer assistance to a large number of students, but that, by raising a sum each year, eventually the fund would be of considerable proportions by reason of the annual subscriptions and the return of morrowed money.

With Harry Hanson as program chairman, the April Fool season was featured to some extent, the cleverest of the stunts being the stationing of Harry Brackett at the entrance to the grounds at St. Ann's Inn and posing him as a blind mendicant. Dressed as an old man, with shoulders stooped and hands trembling, he received much sympathetic attention from Lions who dropped dimes and quarters into the tincup as they passed him on the sidewalk. A phonograph sitting on his lap was the entrancing music he offered to attract the attention of passersby. The money collected later was turned over to the club.

With S. J. Mustol directing, Hanson introduced to the Lions for the first time in Santa Ana what he declared to be an important band. The "band" was a quartet of fanfaron trumpeters with Mustol, Raymond, Hutchins, Joe Paul and Harry Louis Hanson jr. as the "windjammers."

a Play Joke on Pastor.

The jokesmiths carried their program even to purported invasion of the home of the Rev. Perry F. Schrock, pastor of the First Congregational church, and "sky pilot" of the club, when Gar Ross exposed to view a book said to have been found at the home of the pastor. When the volume was opened, a pint flask of alleged whisky was found secreted between the covers.

TEAMS PREPARE FOR FIRST AID WORK CONTEST

Organized for the purpose of studying and demonstrating first aid to injured persons, two teams composed of Orange county employes of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company today were engaged in intensive study in preparation for an elimination contest in first aid work, to be held at Riverside, Saturday, April 11, with teams from Riverside county as competitors.

Similar contests are to be held at San Diego between teams representing San Diego and Imperial counties, and contests also will be held at San Pedro, Pasadena and Glendale. In May, the 10 teams having the highest points in the inter-county contests will meet in Los Angeles in semi-finals for the selection of four teams to compete with a similar number of teams selected from Los Angeles county, the employes being grouped into two divisions, those outside Los Angeles composing one division, and the other being formed of employes within that county.

Best Team Gets Cup

The winner in the finals at Los Angeles in June will be awarded the silver cup offered by the company for the best team. The cup is now held by a San Diego team. Individual prizes also will be given to the first, second and third teams.

Following is the personnel of each of the Orange county teams: F. K. Stowe, Santa Ana, captain; E. C. Hunter, Santa Ana; L. Gulley, Orange; E. Mosiman, Anaheim; H. W. Jones, Santa Ana, victim.

D. E. Barnum, Fullerton, captain; H. L. Weaver, Santa Ana; J. C. Carter, Anaheim; U. B. Underwood, Santa Ana; T. M. Jolly, Fullerton, victim. L. T. Ellis, Santa Ana, is substitute for either team.

The local team will practice on Monday evening at the former headquarters of the telephone company, on North Main street, and it was announced today by E. T. Brannan, supervising foreman, that any one interested in first aid work will be welcome.

Little Advance Notice

"Problems given at the contests are not known to the teams until they are ready to work them and then they are given only two minutes to read and study the problem," Brannigan said, in discussing the subject of contests.

"These problems may consist of any conceivable injury, from a small cut or simple fracture to severe arterial bleeding, compound fractures, gas asphyxiation, electric shock, drowning, or any number of these injuries in one problem, with a time limit for completion. The teams are judged on thoroughness, doing the most important first, carefulness, neatness and time."

Stating that the telephone company in the early part of last year created a safety department to organize and teach the employes first aid, Brannan said that a course consists of 15 lessons, and upon a group completing the course, teams of five men each are organized. The teams hold regular meeting for study of first aid problems.

Form Safety Committee

"Out of all this training has grown the employes' safety committee of three men, one new man being appointed each month," the foreman continued. "The committee meets once a month, and it is the duty of the committee to hear all unsafe complaints, including complaints that may be made against the unsafe condition of a plant, and unsafe methods used by employes. The findings of a committee are broadcast to all other similar committees and posted where they may be read by all employes."

Missionary from Java to Address Salvation Army

Mrs. R. O. Morrison of Los Angeles will speak tonight on "Javanese Life and Customs" at the Salvation Army building, 214 North Sycamore street, at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Morrison has been a medical missionary in Java for a number of years and with her husband, Dr. Richard Morrison, had charge of the entire leper colony in Java. She knows the country well and has had a number of very interesting experiences in her work amongst the Javanese.

Mrs. Morrison will appear in the native custom of Java and she will bring with her a number of interesting curios.

URGES UTMOST CARE BE USED IN WINDBREAKS

Many Orange county ranchers, according to A. W. Rutan, attorney for the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation company, are building windbreaks for the better protection of citrus fruits. "These windbreaks," said Rutan, are usually planted on or near the boundary line of the Boy Archers Emulate William Tell

A new method of unroofing a house was revealed yesterday. A report received by the local police stated that serious damage was being done by two small boys, who were shooting arrows into the roof of a house at 934 West Pine street.

Following is the police report made of an investigation which followed the report:

"Found Harold Fore, 940 West Pine street, and Everett Picknell, 938 West Pine street, had been doing a William Tell stunt on a small orange tree. Also had shot about half of the roof off. The boys were very severely reprimanded and told to not do same again."

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS

WEST END—"The Deadwood Coach," with Tom Mix.

"THE GREAT DIVIDE" TO CLOSE RUN TONIGHT

The picture for the most part was filmed in Arizona, the locale of the romance.

Barker was particularly pleased with the assignment, for he was stage director for Henry Miller when the latter triumphed in the William Vaughn Moody play, and ever since he entered motion pictures he has wanted to present it on the screen.

After considering a number of prominent men and women for the two leading roles, Alice Terry and Conway Tearle were selected. They represent the ideal types for the roles of Ruth Jordon and Stephen Ghent, and are worthy of carrying successfully two such prominent and significant parts.

Waldemar Young wrote the continuity and others in the cast are Wallace Beery, Huntly Gordon, Zasu Pitts, Allan Forrest and Ford Sterling. Cedric Gibbons was art director.

"SALOME OF TENEMENTS" AT YOST TONIGHT

An outmoded tram car which helped solve New York's transit problems 25 years ago enjoyed new life, though a short one, during the filming of a scene for this new Sidney Olcott production. A quarter of a mile of track was laid at Paramount's Long Island studio and the dingy conveyance wound its way through the tenement district of Manhattan the scene of most of the story, adapted to the screen by Sonya Levien from the popular novel by Anzia Yezierska.

Jetta Goudal, Godfrey Tearle (brother of Conway) and Jose Ruben appear in featured roles in the picture.

"THE DEADWOOD COACH" NOW AT WEST END

Interest in the Wild West of the early eighties with its daring cowboys, its hostile Indians and its perilous stage coach routes, is not confined to America.

When Buffalo Bill Cody took his first Wild West show to England he was quite the hero of the London season. Wherever he went he was wined and dined in a literally royal manner. He was made an honorary member in all the best clubs, notably the Reform club, where he was presented to the Prince of Wales now King George, the Duke of Cambridge, and many other prominent people.

He gave performances before the royal households of Denmark, Saxony, Belgium, Greece, Austria, Germany, Sweden, Norway, Prussia, Sparta and Russia.

Observe Pennant Night at Church

Tonight is to be "Pennant Night" at the evangelistic service at the First Baptist church. The participants in the contest for the pennant have not beeen announced, a sthis is to be a surprise feature of the service. The meeting will open at 7:30 with a big "sing" under direction of Miss Rita Gould.

A number of young people's organizations will be present tonight to add enthusiasm to the service.

Miss Amy Lee Stockton, evangelist, is to preach on the subject: "Life's Greatest Battle." Miss Gould is to sing in the preliminary part of the meeting a song especially for Civil war veterans, who have been attending the meetings. The selection will be: "The Old Flag Never Touched the Ground, Boys."

Last night was "State night." Practically every state in the Union was represented and several countries across the sea. The choir sang old negro spiritual songs. Mrs. A. M. Sammis sang with Miss Gould "All o' My Sins Been Taken Away," and Miss Gould sang as a solo, "We'll Understand It Better Bye and Bye."

Miss Stockton preached on the subject: "The Greatest State in the Union." This she declared to be the state in which abode the great apostle of the ages, Paul, the state of contentment.

That is what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Wilhelmy, and it will do as much for any suffering woman.—Adv.

GOLFER AND WIFE REFUSED DIVORCE

Joe Szarfinski, golf club manager and professional golfer, and his wife, Nora, were still married to each other today.

After hearing their divorce suit, Superior Judge Z. B. West late yesterday refused to grant a decree to either husband or wife. Their charges of drinking liquor and oth-accusations of cruelty, which both made, were not sufficiently corroborated, the court decided.

Mrs. Szarfinski was left in possession of their son, aged 9. The court declined to make an order regarding custody of the boy, or provision for his support. Testimony before the court indicated that the wife, as well as her husband, had property, though Mrs. Szarfinski denies that the property she has is of the $10,000 value she once testified it was.

Szarfinski, formerly connected with the Fairway Country club, at Villa Park, and at present manager of the public golf links at Newport bay, was defendant in the action in court. He, however, filed a cross-complaint, also asking for a divorce. At the trial yesterday, he was attired in golfing costume.

Use Lemons to Whiten Skin

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.

L. B. EXPOSITION TO BE BIG EVENT

To make the Harbor Industrial exposition an affair as well known to Southern California as the Tournament of Roses or the Orange show, is the task undertaken by the executive committee sponsoring the fifth annual Harbor Industrial exposition, to be held in the municipal auditorium at Long Beach, April 22 to 29.

In addition to the elaborate exhibits planned, entertainment features will be staged each afternoon and evening. Movie celebrities will be on hand each evening, and concerts by the Long Beach municipal band will entertain both afternoon and evening.

Among the industrial firms which have reserved exhibit space are the California Almond Confections company, Union Rock company, Graham Brothers, Dexter company of California, Seamless Shoe company, Colby Management corporation, Marbelite corporation, Shell company, Associated Telephone company, Reid-Galleher company, Foster and Kleiser, Shotes and Mountain, American Battery works, and others.

To enhance the individual exhibits, it is reported that approximately $25,000 worth of decorations and lighting effects will be used by Alen Decorators in making the municipal auditorium a blaze of light and color.

TOKYO, April 3.—The Japanese population is increasing at the rate of 1.2 per cent a year or at the rate of about 733,000 persons. The birth rate in Japan is higher than in any other nation in which vital statistics are kept.

TREE REAL APARTMENT.

MT. UNION, Pa., April 3.—When workmen chopped down an old apple tree near here they found a hen and a nest of eggs near the ground, a nest of field mice midway up the tree and a big screech owl was living near the top of it.

DRIVES AUTO WHILE DRUNK; GETS 3 YEARS

For driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, Jack Duncan, of Paularino, must serve a term of three years at San Quentin.

This was announced today in an official communication from the state board of prison directors, received by County Clerk J. M. Backs. The board gave notice that Duncan's term has been fixed at three years.

Duncan has already served more than a year of his sentence. He was sent to San Quentin, after pleading guilty to the offense, on March 1, 1924.

The severity of Duncan's sentence, as compared to the punishment imposed on most motorists who "mix liquor with gasoline," as court attaches phrase it, was believed due to the fact that he was regarded as an old offender.

Duncan had been in difficulties with the authorities for driving while intoxicated, on several previous occasions. He managed to escape conviction, however, until a serious wreck on Newport avenue was laid at his door.

The authorities, it was said, felt that he needed a term of confinement sufficiently long to enable him to shake off the drink habit, as well as to expiate his violation of the law.

Evangelists Will Hold Meetings In Christian Church

A series of evangelistic meetings will be opened in the First Christian church Sunday morning by J. T. Stivers, evangelist, and H. K. Shields, tenor, it was announced today by the Rev. F. T. Porter, pastor.

Stivers has just concluded a campaign in Medford, Ore. Shield is coming from Wellington, Kas.

The services will begin at 10:45 o'clock Sunday morning and will last throughout the month. "Each Man His Work" and "The Greatest Book in the World," are the subjects for the Sunday morning and evening services, respectively.

Organization of a chorus of 60 voices will be undertaken by Shields immediately after the services Sunday, the Rev. Mr. Porter says.

"Mr. Stivers and Mr. Shields are widely known to members of the Christian church and their coming is the cause of much rejoicing," said the Rev. Mr. Porter today. "They attract large crowds wherever they hold services and I am confident that our church will be crowded at each meeting."

KEEPS CANARIES DRY

NEW YORK, April 3.—An inkwell water bowl for canaries has been invented to decrease the number of birds which die while being shipped on a railroad train. Heretofore the movement of the train splashed out water and caused the birds to catch cold. The new bowl won't release any water except when the bird pecks it.

SINGER DIES

Madame Bernice De Pasquali

OMAHA, April 3.—Madame Bernice De Pasquali, 43, coloratura soprano, formerly with the Metropolitan Grand Opera company, New York, died at a hospital here today from pneumonia.

Madame De Pasquali, one of the few American-born opera singers, was to have achieved the climax of her career in September.

She was engaged to sing the title role of the new opera, St. Cecilie, at the Holy Year celebration under auspices of the Roman Catholic church in Rome.

She was awarded Europe's highest musical honor—honorary membership in the Royal Academy Philharmonic of Rome, the only singer in the world to be so distinguished.

2 UNAWARE OF STREET'S END HURT IN WRECK

Ted W. Cooke and son, Warren Cooke, 1329 West Fourth street, were slightly injured at 9 o'clock last night when the car in which they were riding, turned a somersault at the extreme south end of Broadway, near Borchard street. Both were cut by flying glass and were badly shaken up.

Cooke, driving the car, did not know Broadway came to an end at Borchard street police were told today, and the car plunged over an embankment for a distance of 45 feet before it hit the ground. After the first jump, the car again plunged a distance of 20 feet.

The car is the property of the Henderson Petroleum company. Cherry and Hill streets, Long Beach, and was badly damaged.

ARCTIC MUSHER AND HUSKY DOG ARE CROWD SHY

LOS ANGELES, April 3.—Balto, world famous dog hero, and his master, Gunnar Kasson agreed today that civilization is just a maze of unimportant details.

"It all seems strange here—the crowds, the buildings, the traffic—and the climate, it is so different," declared Kasson. "It's strange to Balto, too, and the other dogs. We must go back north soon."

The sturdy 6-foot musher and his 12-dog team have come to the states from Alaska to receive the plaudits of a nation for their heroic dash to diphtheria-stricken Nome. It is Kasson's first glimpse of civilization since he left Norway, 20 years ago, for Alaska.

Shy at Admiring Crowds.

Both Balto and the musher were shy and ill at ease when admiring throngs paid them public tribute on their arrival here. If no one else understood their feelings, they at least understood each other, and they showed it.

Balto, half fox and half dog, with piercing red eyes and heavy black coat, merely sniffed indifferently when Mayor Cryer offered him the bone of the city. A bone means nothing to Balto. He eats frozen fish as a regular diet. The canine hero registered the same polite indifference when Clara Horton, screen actress, placed a collar of white roses around his neck.

Kasson blushed heavily when Miss Horton kissed him, and remarked, "I was never treated like this before."

The Viking musher feels sure the warm climate will not hurt his dogs, but he is equally certain they prefer the frozen north country to the sunny Southland.

"I feed them frozen fish and that makes them feel more at home," he said. "Of course they can't be worked down here like they are up in the north country.

Mind Like Children.

"I call them Balto, Mactuck, Cella, Tilly You, Dick, Dodge, June, Blackie, Bill, Fox and Silva, and when I call them they stay called. They mind like model children, but they are my best friends. Balto is my pal."

Kasson, attired in a plain black loose-fitting suit, appeared ill-suited to his luxurious quarters at the Biltmore hotel, but they were the finest Los Angeles could afford. While talking to the interviewer, he stood near the window, eight floors above the street, watching the hurrying throngs below.

"I won't dare to cross the street alone for several days," he said. "With all of those automobiles and street cars, it is a wonder you don't kill more people than you do. Alaska is safer than this country."

Balto has been provided with quarters at the fashionable Biltmore hotel also. The rest of the pack have luxurious kennels out on the movie lot.

The Alaskans will remain here about two weeks, until they complete a movie-thriller of their Nome expedition. Meanwhile press agents are arranging a vaudeville tour of the country, but Balto and Kasson may decide to return to Alaska when the film contract is fulfilled.

SEES NO NEED OF CHANGING

Arkansas Man Is "Perfectly Satisfied" With Black-Draught and Takes No Other Liver Medicine.

Wiville, Ark.—Mr. H. B. Wilkerson, of this place, says that for 56 years his health has been so good he only once has had to place himself entirely in the care of his family physician. But Mr. Wilkerson has taken medicine, when needed, for he says:

"I have used Black-Draught for at least thirty-five years. It is my medicine. I use it for indigestion or biliousness.

"When I feel the least bit bad, I go and take a dose of Black-Draught. After it acts I feel all right again. I am perfectly satisfied with it and do not find any need for any other medicine—I do not see any need for changing around when Black-Draught gives satisfaction, and it certainly does in my case."

Thousands of others have found satisfaction in the use of Thedford's Black-Draught in cases of indigestion, billiousness, headache and constipation, when caused by a torpid condition of the liver.

Black-Draught is a purely vegetable medicine, with a record of success extending back more than eighty years. So extensive is the popularity of Black-Daught, for liver ills, that druggists and retail dealers now sell nearly a million packages per month.

FARM BUREAU BACKING FAIR

ranft, Fullerton; Senator Hollister, Gaviota, and Assemblyman Van Bernard, Butte City, had determined to block appropriations for the establishment of the branch university on the Westwood-Beverly site, the directors passed a resolution expressing their entire approval of the action of the farm bloc.

The legislators representing the farmers feel that the Westwood-Beverly site is not suitable for the university and that it would prove a grave mistake to locate the buildings there, it was brought out at the meeting. No land is available there for the establishment of a college of agriculture, it is declared.

The other resolution expressed disapproval of the selection of the Westwood-Beverly site. Copies of this resolution will be sent to Hartranft, Van Bernard, Hollister, the California Federation of Farm Bureaus and the Southern Site committee.

J. A. Prizer, the farm bureau's representative on the Southern Site committee, reported concerning a meeting of the committee in Los Angeles Tuesday. Prizer expressed opinion that the site matter is not entirely settled and that the Westwood-Beverly site may not be the university site after all.

The custom of congressmen in sending out free seeds and their speeches under the franking privilege was condemned by the directors as wasteful.

"We can feed the seeds to our chickens, but the speeches aren't good for anything," said one director, amid laughter from his fellow farmers.

The resolution condemning the practice will be sent to the California Federation of Farm Bureaus, with the request that the national legislators be notified.

Secretary Stanley exhibited a collection of seeds which had just arrived from Washington with a note stating that they were "very rare and valuable." As a matter of fact, said Stanley, farmers in Orange county have been using this seed for more than 10 years.

The directors voted to hold the annual farm bureau picnic May 23, at Orange County park.

A grain growers' field day will be held May 16 at El Toro, John Osterman announced.

Stanley stated that a survey is under way to determine the amount of water being pumped in Orange county. At the next meeting of the directors, a government expert will be on hand to speak on this subject, he said.

Following is the text of the resolution expressing disapproval of the Westwood-Beverly site:

"Looking toward the future welfare and development of the Southern Branch of the University of California, the Orange County Farm bureau earnestly protests against its location at Beverly Hills in the section known as Westwood, for the following reasons:

"1. Expansion for the future development of agricultural instruction would be impossible at this location.

"2. That close proximity of said location to amusement zones would detract and hinder the best educational development of the students.

"And that we earnestly request that you use all your influence to secure a location in keeping with the best development of an institution such as the southern branch will some day be."

cial institution is the following advertisement:

"Any person inclined to purchase, may know the particulars by applying to JOHN SCHOONMAKER, Jun. at Rochester."

That life in those days was not entirely divorce proof may be inferred from the following:

"Second Notice

"Of my wife, Hannah, is hereby given, forbidding all persons whatever, from harboring or keeping her, and from trusting her on my account, as I am determined to pay no debts of her contracting.

"Matys Van Steenbergh."

War news, giving details of the historical battle of Waterloo, which brought about the downfall of Napoleon Bonaparte, covers two full pages of the London paper.

Lead to Waterloo Story.

Serving as appetizer to the main story, is the following introduction:

"We have seen a gentleman who left Brussels on Sunday evening, at which time the people were manifesting the greatest joy for a decisive victory gained by the Duke of Wellington on that day. The wounded were beginning to be brought in, in wagons, as that gentleman quitted Brussels." The statement, referring to Wellington's victory over Napoleon, goes on to add, "The Duke of Wellington exposed himself as usual to imminent danger; the bullets, says our informant, were whizzing about him in all directions."

The next page is taken up with a detailed report of the battle of Waterloo, signed by Wellington, and addressed to Earl Bathurst, his majesty's principal secretary for the war department. The dispatch, dated Waterloo, June 19, 1815, was brought to England by Major Percy.

Lauds War Heroes.

Commenting on the general behavior of the troops, the Iron Duke goes on to say:

"In this affair, His Royal Highness, the Prince of Orange, the Duke of Brunswick and Lieutenant Sir Thomas Picton and Major General James Kemp, and Sir Denis Pack, who were engaged from the commencement of the enemy's attack, highly distinguished themselves, as well as Lieutenant General Charles Baron Alten, Major Sir C. Halket, Lieutenant General Cooke, and Major Generals Maitland and Byng, as they successively arrived.

"Our loss was great, as your Lordship will perceive by the enclosed return, and I have to particularly regret His Serene Highness the Duke of Brunswick, who fell fighting gallantly at the head of his troops."

In closing his report, the British field marshal referred to his German ally as follows: "I should not do justice to my feelings or to Marshal Blucher and the Prussian Army, if I did not attribute the successful result of this arduous day to the cordial and timely assistance I received from them.

"The operation of General Bulow upon the enemy's flank, was a most decisive one; and even if I had not found myself in a situation to make the attack, which produced the final result, it would have forced the enemy to retire, if his attacks should have failed, and would have prevented him from taking advantage of them if they should unfortunately have succeeded."

Wants Monarch Recognized.

Another part of the paper is devoted to a declaration of the Duke of Orleans, First Prince of the Blood of France, addressed to the French people, asking for the recognition of Louis XVIII.

As they had no "funny pages" in those days, readers seeking relief from the dull accounts of official proceedings and operations of war, turned to the classified ad section for a touch of humor. Here are a few of the "bon mots":

"Society of Ireland—Tomorrow, the 23rd of June, 1815, will be held at the New London Tavern, Cheapside, the annual meeting of the Baptist Society for Promoting the Gospel in Ireland. Breakfast at 7 o'clock and Chair is to be taken at 8 precisely. The principal objects of this institution are to establish schools in Ireland for teaching the native Irish language, and to employ persons to read the Holy Scriptures in Irish to their neighbors."

"To Cabinet Makers. A young man, aged 20, wishes to ARTICLE himself to a respectable man for three years, to complete himself in the art of Cabinet Making."

"One Thousand Pounds will be presented to any person who can procure for a Gentleman of respectability an ADEQUATE MERCANTILE SITUATION."

"A PLACE OF ALL WORK. A Young Woman, in a small genteel Family, where there is no children. Can have a good character. Direct to E. B. 71 Fetter Lane."

"As Household Maid in genteel family, a Young Woman. She has lived Two-and-a-Half-Years in her last place. Direct to S. D. Little Britain, Aldersgate street."

"President Lincoln and his wife, with their friends, this evening visited Ford's Theater, for the purpose of witnessing the performance of the American Cousin.

"It was announced in the papers that General Grant would be present, but that gentleman took the late train of cars for New Jersey.

"The theater was densely crowded, and all seemed delighted with the scene before them. During the third act, and while there was a temporary pause for one of the actors to enter, a sharp report of a pistol was heard which merely attracted attention, but suggested nothing serious until a man rushed to the front of the President's box, waving a long dagger in his right hand exclaiming 'Sic Semper Tyrannis,' and immediately leaped from the box, which was in the second tier to the stage beneath, and ran across to the other side, making his escape, amid the bewilderment of the audience from the rear of the theater, and, mounting a horse, fled."

"OH, I SAY"—

"Lend us a 'elping 'and, old chap." At least this is probably what Lizzie, bear inmate of the London Zoo, is saying to her mate, Sam, who is shown trying to help Lizzie out of a 12-foot pit into which she has fallen.

URGES CARE IN WINDBREAK USE

ranch property." Continuing, he said:

"It has been the usual custom of water companies to procure their rights-of-way for underground pipe lines, and the like, as near the boundary lines of ranch properties as is practicable, in order to interfere as little as possible with the use of the main body of land for agricultural purposes. Both for the benefit of the land owner building windbreaks and the water companies using the rights-of-way for underground pipe line purposes, care should be taken that the windbreak is planted so that roots from the trees will not damage or destroy the underground pipe line.

"It is for the mutual benefit of the owner of the windbreak and the water company, which may have its pipe line adjoining same, that the trees should be planted so that the roots do not damage the pipe lines. Citrus trees must be irrigated, as well as protected from wind.

"The owner of the windbreak is liable for any damage to the pipe line, and in addition the water company has the right to cut the roots of any trees which are interfering with the pipe line which may result in the tree falling down thereby destroying that portion of the windbreak.

"There has been some discussion about this matter by the various boards of directors of the water companies and among land owners, and it would be well to keep this matter in mind when planting windbreaks."

Ruth Hits Ball Hard In Yankee Spring Contests

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 3.—With Babe Ruth hitting sensationally and playing the best spring ball of his career, the New York Yankees are sure they are headed for another American league pennant.

The players laughed when asked about earlier stories that the Babe was a fat old man, that he had only one more year of major league baseball in him and that he wasn't taking care of what he had.

The Babe is hitting .480 in the spring games against the Brooklyn Robins and the Yankees have been looking at some good pitching. He has changed his style of batting slightly with a view of placing his hits.

Freeman H. Bloodgood was the speaker, the subject announced by the chairman being, "Why a Chamber of Commerce." However, the speaker treated an entirely different subject, developing in an eloquent and thoughtful address the thought that the trained mind or eye learns and sees more than an untrained eye or mind.

He illustrated his point in many ways, in one of which he pointed out that in a block of stone, the untrained sees nothing but the stone, while the sculptor sees in the same block the image of an angel.

When Mrs. Henry Wood wrote "East Lynne" she had much difficulty in finding a publisher. Since then the novel has been translated into some thirty languages, and in Great Britain alone its sales have totalled many millions.

OLD PIONEER OF BEACH CITY RECEIVES CALL

NEWPORT BEACH, April 3.—Considered the oldest pioneer in this section, John W. Struckenbruck, died last evening at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Eva Hadley, in Newport Beach. He was 72 years old. Death was due to paralysis. Funeral services will be held Monday at 10 a. m. at Winbigler's funeral parlors in Santa Ana.

Mr. Struckenbruck had been a resident here for 38 years, coming here in 1887 and working for James McFadden as a butcher. That was before this area was nothing more than a sand-swept section. When the town was organized he served as city marshal. He was also the first mail carrier the community had, bringing the mail from Santa Ana behind a span of little mules. This was the only vehicle that would haul passengers to the outside world.

When work on the old embankment running to the Newport prier was started by the McFaddens, Mr. Struckenbruck took an active part in its building. He lived long enough to see most of it removed after a lapse of a quarter of a century. While he served as the town's first city marshal, later he was a member of the board of trustees.

The deceased was active almost up to the last. He has considerable property interests in Orange county, owning a business block in Newport and ranch property in the vicinity of Tustin. The city is planning to close business houses for an hour or more.

TO REGULATE CLUBS

LONDON, March 31.—A bill is being considered to revive the war-time regulation of night clubs. It would authorize the searching of a club at any time by a police officer without a warrant.

An English woman painter who died not long ago at the age of ninety-three did not begin as an artist until she had passed her seventieth birthday. In the following twenty-three years she achieved distinction as a painter of religious subjects.

TUG DISABLED IN CANAL ZONE AS CREW FISH

News has just been received of the sinking of the Navy Tug Scioto in fifty feet of water beside the docks in Balboa harbor. The cause has not been determined.

A humorous side to the story was the fact that most of the crew had gone on a fishing trip, and returned to find nothing but the top of the mast above water, and their worldly belongings consisted of bathing suits.

The huge cranes, Hercules and Ajax, were brought from Paraiso to try to lift the boat, but so far have been unsuccessful. When the boat is brought to the surface, it will be transferred to the dry dock nearby for repairs.

The cranes, Hercules and Ajax, are sea-going "war veterans," one of them in service on the Atlantic coats, the other in a harbor of France. The services of these monsters are often required in the canal. During the writer's visit of a few months, a large freight steamer, with a cargo of grain, nosed into the bank and stuck fast with a list. Several days were required to right her and tow her to the harbor pier, when unloading began rapidly, as the water-soaked grain was threatening a menace to the vessel. Gases had formed in the hold, so that many of the men were overcome. The gas-masks of the army were called for and used in finishing the work.

The Pacific mail liner, Colombia, which went on the rocks on the coast of Central America several months ago, was towed back to the Balboa dry dock for repairs and complete renovation. The salvage company held an auction of the freight which was in the hold of the Colombia. The housewives, and some of the other sex, flocked to the docks to pick up bargains. They found everything being sold in a minimum of dozen lots. The greatest bargains were quantities of fine wool blankets, the most useless possible things in that climate, and subject to a prohibition duty if they wished to send them to friends in a colder climate. They "sold for a song," and yet "went begging."

The writer found the harbor the center of interest. Vessels arriving from every quarter of the globe, strange flags flying, foreign seamen, notable personages on board, something constantly to intrigue one's interest.

The monster English warship, "The Hood," the pride of the British empire, passed through the canal with a clearance on either side of one foot, and the toll for the passage was $40,000.

Warships of the Peruvian, of the Japanese, and of the Italian governments were in the harbor during those months.

The Italian vessel was an exhibition ship, featuring a showing of the merchandise and manufactures fo that nation. Among them were some wonderful things, and the interest of many of the men centered on the motor exhibits in the last hold, down six stories under the water. When the man of my family came from that "inferno," there was no dry stitch of clothing left on him.

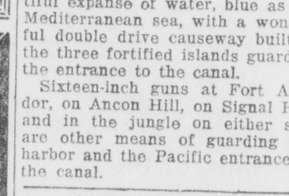

One day, after an unusually copious deluge of rain, a large slice of Signal Hill slid without warning down toward the docks. A long train of heavily-laden freight cars broke the weight of the slide, though they were toppled over, but the offices were saved. In removing the mass of rocks and soil, later, one man was killed.

Balboa harbor is a marvel of engineering and dredging. Originally mud flats at low tide, now a beautiful expanse of water, blue as the Mediterranean sea, with a wonderful double drive causeway built to the three fortified islands guarding the entrance to the canal.

Sixteen-inch guns at Fort Amador, on Ancon Hill, on Signal Hill, and in the jungle on either side are other means of guarding the harbor and the Pacific entrance to the canal.

A Delightful Row

"My wife had suffered from stomach and liver trouble for many years and had taken medicine enough to sink a ship; so when I brought home a bottle of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, on the advice of my employer, she refused to take it. Her liver trouble hadn't helped her disposition any. We had a big row, but she took it the next week. Her ailments have all disappeared." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.—Adv.

Hiding a rash wont heal it
Attempts to conceal complexion blemishes usually fail and only serve to draw attention to the defects.
Underneath most unattractive skins is a clear, pleasing complexion—all that is needed is the proper treatment! It is surprising how often a brief use of Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap will clear away blotches, redness and roughness and give the skin its natural freshness and charm.
Ask your druggist for Resinol.

HEROES OF DASH TO NOME

The thrill Gunnar Kasson and Balto, his lead dog gave the world in winning the midwinter race with death to get diphtheria serum to Nome is to be followed by movie thrills. Kasson, his wife and Balto reached Hollywood yesterday. The husky hero and his master were given a civic ovation in Los Angeles. "Balto won the race," says Kasson. "When I was blinded by the blizzard, I gave Balto the lead, and he outfought the storm."

Many from Here Are Present at Camp Institution

Calumpit camp and auxiliary, United Spanish War veterans, represented Orange county and Santa Ana at the institution of Gen. William Mitchell camp No. 85, Huntington Park, Wednesday night.

The delegations from the various districts of Los Angeles and Orange counties assembled at the city hall in Huntington Park, at 7:15 p. m., and formed a line of march. The parade had an escort of mounted police, followed by the past department commander and his two aides, Department Inspector Charles E. Dixon and Past Commander E. H. Kjelgren. The came the department drum corps, composed of members of Roosevelt camp No. 9, and which contained six fifers, seven snare drummers, a bass drummers, one pair of cymbals and six buglers. These were followed by the auxiliary department drill team, under command of Capt. B. Gilly, representatives of the various auxiliaries, and the comrades, as the rear guard.

About 400 persons were in the parade. The following cities were represented: Los Angeles, by a delegation of 50 from Roosevelt camp and 45 from Admiral Glass camp; Orange county, by 30 from Calumpit camp, and smaller delegations from Hollywood, Alhambra, Inglewood, Covina, Pomona, Long Beach, San Pedro and Santa Monica.

Roosevelt camp officers filled the chairs at the institution and installation and Commander C. R. Judd mustered in the 21 candidates who appeared for muster. Past Department Commander Tom C. Galbraith was the instituting officer, assisted by Past Commander Kjolgren. Department Inspector Charles E. Dixon acted as installing officer with Past Department Commander John T. Curtin assisting as master of ceremonies.

Adjutant Leavenworth's big bass drum was utilized as a contribution box and in lieu of the auxiliary's "penny march," Organizer Galbraith called for a march in which not less than five cents nor more than five dollars should be offered. The march gave the new camp $45.

The department drill team gave an exhibition of advancing and retiring of the colors.

An auxiliary for the new camp will be instituted by National Aide Josephine Galbraith in two weeks.

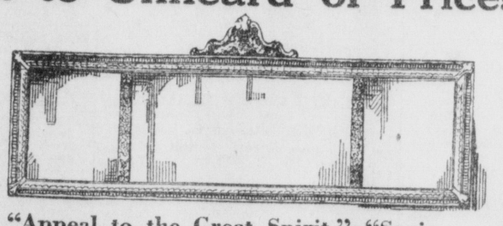

Those attending from Orange county were: Department Inspector Charles E. Dixon, District Inspector Robert H. Lee, Senior Vice Commander C. W. Kincaid, Officer of the Day F. P. Rowe, Quartermaster John Markwalder, Chaplain Forrest Gay, Past Commander Clinton Imes, Color Bearers C. W. Winter and H. T. Reed, and Comrades Patmor, Kellogg, Ellison, Lutz, McClure; President Nannie H. Reed; and Sisters Kincaid, Winter, Rowe, Deaver, Dugdale, Kellogg, Patmor, Lee, McClure, Lindquist and Cooper.

HOW TO ANSWER BLIND CLASSIFIED ADS

In answering blind addresses (for instance, L, Box 36, Register, or other similar addresses), please be careful to use the precise address given in the ad. Write address plainly. Letters brought to The Register office do not require stamps. Always inclose your answer in sealed envelope.

T. F. (TILL FORBID) ADS

If an advertiser who has made application for credit and opened an account with The Register Credit Department in the regular form desires to have any "liner" advertisement published continually "until further notice" he may do so by signing a "TF" order to that effect. An advertisement thus begun will appear regularly until countermanded by written order.

BOX OFFICE REPLIES

The Register postoffice department is conducted for the benefit of patrons who wish answers to come to the office. Advertisers are furnished with identification cards, which must be presented at The Register office. For the protection of our patrons, replies are not given out except on presentation of box card.

No record is kept of the names and addresses of patrons using The Register postoffice, and therefore no information concerning these advertisers can be supplied.

ORDINANCE No. 769

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF SANTA ANA, CALIFORNIA, ACCEPTING THE DEDICATION OF A PORTION OF WEST WASHINGTON AVENUE AS AN OPEN PUBLIC HIGHWAY, BY REASON OF ITS PUBLIC USE FOR TRAVEL.

The Board of Trustees of the City of Santa Ana do ordain as follows:

SECTION I. That Whereas, affidavits of certain citizens of the City of Santa Ana, owning property and living on what has been known as West Washington Avenue for a period of some thirty or forty years; and whereas, said affidavits show that Washington Avenue for a width of forty feet or more has been in the use of the public as a public highway for travel for a period of about 20 years last past; the Board of Trustees ordain that Washington Avenue, between Lowell Street and Artesia Street in the City of Santa Ana, be accepted as dedicated by user and that the same is hereby accepted as an open public street for a width of forty feet from Lowell Street to Artesia Street, all in the City of Santa Ana, and it is hereby declared that such portion of street be, and it is henceforth, an open public highway in the City of Santa Ana.

SECTION II. This ordinance shall be published three (3) times in the Santa Ana Daily Evening Register, a daily newspaper, printed, published and circulated in the City of Santa Ana, and shall take effect and be in force thirty (30) days after its passage.

The above and foregoing Ordinance No. 769, was regularly introduced before the Board of Trustees of the City of Santa Ana, at a regular meeting thereof, held on the 16th day of March, 1925, and passed and adopted by the said Board of Trustees at a regular adjourned meeting thereof, held on the 30th day of March, 1925, by the affirmative vote of the following named members thereof:

AYES—Trustees C. H. Chapman, Geo. McPhee, E. B. Collier, F. L. Purinton.

NOES—Trustees, None.

ABSENT—Trustee J. W. Tubbs.

The above and foregoing Ordinance No. 769, is signed and approved by me this 30th day of March, 1925.

E. B. COLLIER,

ATTEST:

I hereby certify that the above and foregoing Ordinance was passed and adopted by the Board of Trustees of the City of Santa Ana, and signed and approved by the President Pro-Tem thereof, at a regular adjourned meeting held on the 30th day of March, 1925.

(SEAL). E. L. VEGELY,

SAY FILMS ARE AMERICANIZING OLD WORLD NOW

It appears so.

Sir Sidney Low warns England that the omnipresent American film—the chief entertainment of millions of people in Europe—is remoulding the tastes, the minds, the very lives of the masses in England an dthroughout the continent. While there are other films on the market they cannot compete with the Yankee film. The result, says Sir Sidney, is the steady, inexorable Americanizing of the Old World.

"People have got so used to seeing American styles on the screen," he continues, "that they insist on having them; native styles in shoes, hats and wearing apparel don't seem 'right'. Constant familiarity with American business methods and American sport al ltends to promote America ndomination of the world."

This process, beginning with material things, will end up with non-material things," says Sir Sidney.

"We are growing every day more accustomed to the American 'atmosphere' on the stage and in fiction and we tend to modify our manners, our tastes and our morals to suit American standards. We shall express our thoughts in the English language as spoken in the United States and those thoughts themselves will have been largely moulded for us in the U. S. A. We shall cultivate American ideals and adopt American habits."

British film producers declare that it is hopeless for them to compete against American film "dumping" under present conditions. Among the things they demand are:

1. Removal of vexatious red-tape restrictions. For example, it is against the law in England to film a fire brigade in action. No films may be taken in Hyde Park (which is a Royal park) nor in the Tower of London. These restrictions are typical.

2. Special taxation of the earnings of all foreign films in England.

Prohibiting the import of more than one negative and one positive print of each film so as to encourage the film-printing industry.

But as the theater-owners are lukwarm toward the British films and are up in arms at the first suggestion of any restriction in imports, the situation will not change in th enear future, leaving the Americanization of England to proceed unchecked.

Regarded as one of the finest makers of artificial eyes in the world, Miss Millauro, a London girl, twenty-three years of age, can make a perfect specimen in fifteen minutes.

A recent survey indicates that the average girl college students spends four and one-half hours a week in dancing, or about one-fifth as much time as she devotes to study outside the classroom.

Financial and Market News

WALL ST. JOURNAL

NEW YORK, April 3.—Speculative sentiment was in a confused state today. About the only point on which a semblance of unanimity existed was that a period of quietness would be a good thing for the market. This viewpoint was reflected in the trading fraternity's reluctance to take a definite position.

Renewed weakness in wheat checked attempts by constructive interests to revive Bullish enthusiasm in groups like the oils and motors but the selling of grain was no longer effective as a weapon for stock exchange Bears and efforts to force prices down to this basis fell flat.

The general list made a gratifying response to an increase in the $4 Allis-Chalmers dividend to a $6 basis, which was announced in the late afternoon. Another Bullish point was a drop in call money to 3½ per cent in the late afternoon which produced an atmosphere of relative cheerfulness in the final trading.

NEW YORK, April 3.—Wall Street awaited the outcome of the Allis-Chalmers meeting at 1:30 p. m. today as an interesting test of the market's position. Establishment of a $5 dividend on Wabash "A" and similarly favorable developments in recent weeks have proved the signal for selling. With an increase in Allis-Chalmers' rate from a $4 to a $6 basis expected, the speculative community was more concerned with the probable effect of such action on the general list than on the particular issue affected.

The market closed lower. Closing prices included:

U. S. Steel, 114¼; Baldwin, 112¾, off ½; Studebaker, 43½, up ¼; Can, 162; Woolen, 37; Cast Iron Pipe, 166, up ½; General Electric, 257, off 2½; General Motors, 70, off ⅛; American Locomotive, 123½, off ½; Texas Company, 44⅛; Pan-American "B", 75⅛; Mack Truck, 136⅜, off 1⅝; Allis-Chalmers, 79¾, off ¼; Radio, 52⅝, up 1¾; M. K. and T., Pfd., 76¼, off 1¼; Wabash "B" 62; N. Y. Central, 114, off 1⅛; Union Pacific, 139, up ½.

CHICAGO BD. OF TRADE

CHICAGO, April 3.—Grain futures closed at the lowest level since last August on the Board of Trade today. Corn was leader in the weakness. Leading Bull interests were principal wheat sellers.

Weakness in corn affected the entire list. Heavy arrivals from southwestern markets presumably for delivery in contract were dumped on the market.

POLY CINDERPATH SQUAD PRIMED FOR BIG LEAGUE MEET AT L. B. TOMORROW

Just one more major event—the second annual Coast Preparatory league meet at Long Beach tomorrow afternoon—remained today before the Santa Ana high school track squad draws down the curtain on its 1925 season. Teams from San Diego, Long Beach, Santa Ana, Pasadena, Fullerton and Whittier, all members of the Coast League, will contest in the Long Beach classic and while San Diego is expected to win handily the local men have an outside chance to nose out Long Beach and Pasadena for second place.

Athletes of great ability will be in the meet and half a dozen or more records, established in the first league affair last spring ,are expected to go by the boards.

Little "Howy" Paul, the greatest broad jumper that ever wore the Poly spangles, should have little difficulty in shattering to atoms his own Coast league record of 20 feet, 11 inches. Paul has consistently bettered 22 feet this season and it would not surprise local fans if he set up a record tomorrow that will stand the test of many years.

May Cop Low Hurdles

Paul also is considered a likely winner in the 220 yard low hurdles. He hasn't been beaten to the tape in this race all year so it is hard to tell how fast he really can step the barrier furlong. Fry of Long eBach and Stocks of Pasadena, both capable of running 27 flat, will be dangerous opponents.

Keith Howard, a fine quarter-miler if he's right, should make a bid for the gold medal in the one lap struggle. Howard has been the victim of a number of bad breaks this season. He was injured early in the year and was thrown off his training and in no less than two meets got off to such a wretched start that he "burned" himself out trying to catch the leaders and had nothing left for the gruelling dash on the straightaway. Saturday may be the hard luck boy's big day.

Although he will face four of the premier interscholastic sprinters of the Southland in Holloway and Kemp of San Diego, Caines of Pasadena and Doty of Long Beach, Harvey Bear, Poly's speedy 100 and 220 entrant has a chance to glom some sorely needed points for the locals. Bear's best race is the 220 and he should place in this event. Cafnes recently trimmed Doty in both the 100 and 220 and since Doty defeated Holloway and Kemp, the Pasadena sprinter is favored to finish first in both races.

Lewis Best 880 Man

Lewis, Long Beach, is the leading half-miler in the field with Johnson, Whittier, the "dark horse." McCormick of San Diego is a cinch to capture the mile. The high hurdles probably will go to Welch, Pasadena captain, who ran 15 4-5 seconds in the Long Beach meet last week.

None of the broad jumpers can show records that compare with that of Paul so the diminutive Santa Anan should win easily. Donahue and Ritchey of San Diego are good for close to 21 feet and so is Stocks of Pasadena but Paul can beat that mark without half trying.

Ray Dawson, Poly's football captain elect, will have a real battle on his hands to win the shot but he has an even chance. Moeller of San Diego, Schleimer of Pasadena and Dawson's own teammate, Charlie Cathcart, will be his closest competitors. Dawson won from Moeller in the Santa Ana-San Diego dual meet but Moeller got revenge on the Polyite in the Southern Counties meet at Huntington Beach. Schleimer hurled the 12 pound pellet 44 feet, 7 inches against Long Beach and he must be figured.

Hubbard Leading Vaulter

Hubbard of San Diego is a cinch to win the pole vault if he has recovered from the injury to his leg that he suffered when atempting to clear 12 feet, 3inches at the Huntington Beach meet.

Here Are Big Meet Marks Set Last Year

Many records should be shattered in the second annual Coast Preparatory league meet at Long Beach tomorrow afternoon. Here are the standing marks, all established last spring in the first cinderpath classics:

880 yard run—Courtney (Fullerton)—2 min. 3 8-10 sec.
Discus—Dungan (Santa Ana)—113 ft., 2½ inches.
120 yard hurdles—Miller (San Diego)—16 8-10 sec.
440 yard dash—Lewis (Long Beach)—52 4-10 sec.
220 yard dash—Garner (Long Beach)—23 8-10 sec.
Pole vault—Smith (San Diego)—12 feet.
220 yard low hurdle—Lutz (Santa Ana)—27 9-10 sec.
Shot put—Morris (Santa Ana)—43 feet, 7 inches.
100 yard dash—Garner (Long Beach—10 3-10 sec.
Mile—Courtney (Fullerton)—4 min. 45 8-10 sec.
High jump—Tweedy (Whittier)—5 feet, 6 inches.

TUSTIN IS FAVORITE TO WIN ANNUAL ORANGE COUNTY TRACK MEET TOMORROW P.M.

Victorious in dual meets against all the teams that are entered, Coach Earl Murray's Tustin high school cinderpath squad was the favorite today to capture the lion's share of the honors in tomorrow's eighteenth revival of the annual Orange County league track and field meet which will be held at Tustin field.

Preliminaries will begin promptly at 1 p. m. At that hour trials in the 100 yard dash, pole vault and shot put will be staged.

Tustin's most dangerous opponents will be Huntington Beach and Orange, the teams which gave Murray's tracksters their closest rub in dual competition.

Medals will be awarded first, second, third and fourth place winners in each event. Handsome trophies go to the winning relay team, the high individual point winner and the winning team.

That there will be numerous close and thrilling contests appeared virtually certain. Holder of Anaheim, Watson of Orange, Holbrook of Tustin, Stroscheim of San Juan Capistrano and Terry of Huntington Beach all are speedy sprinters. A close race is expected to result when McIntire of Tustin, Wulff of Orange, Lentz of Anaheim and Hill of Huntington Beach hook up in the 440. Jiminez of Tustin should have little difficulty in capturing a brace of gold medals in the distances.

Marriott of Tustin is the favorite to win the hurdles but he will have to hustle to "take" Cate, the long-legged Huntington Beach timber topper.

The weight events should go either to Bradbury of Huntington Beach or Brubaker of Orange. The former also is a pole vaulter of ability. McCue and Crawford, both of Tustin, appear to have the edge in the high jump. Coach Ray Walker's Huntington Beach broad jumpers should finish one-two in this event.

The relay is a toss-up but Tustin has whatever advantage dope can give.

The entries follow:

Garden Grove—Fitz, Ward, Williams and Jentges.

Huntington Beach—Adams, Barry, Bradbury, Brewster, Cate, Dart, Durkee, Grana, Hathaway, Hill, Higgins, Lockhart, Mark, Mollica, McGuire, Moomow, Palmer, Rardin, Sutherlen, Stinson, Tamura, Terry, Turner, Wadwell and Woodington.

LEADS BOWLING TOURNEY

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 3.—Clarence ("Lefty") Long of the Weisser Blue Ribbons, Buffalo, bowled into the lead of all events of the A. B. C. tournament with a score of 1977. Long's score was the only one entitling a bowler to a position within the leading ten.

Diminutive Jumper Rated Best In S. A. Cinderpath History

HOWARD PAUL

The greatest broad jumper in the history of Santa Ana high school track athletics. That's what they are saying of Howard ("Howy") Paul, diminutive member of Coach Ray Adkinson's team and "they" are about right.

Paul shattered the Santa Ana record several weeks ago when he jumped 22 feet 5 inches. He has not been beaten by a high school jumper this season and he is counted on to win his favorite event in the Coast Preparatory league meet at Long Beach tomorrow afternoon. In addition to his broad jumping ability, Paul is a fast low hurdler and sprinter and a pretty fair discus thrower.

MAJOR LEAGUE TEAMS AWAIT PENNANT RACE

Fine Weather at Training Camps Getting Clubs In Shape For Fast Start

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, April 3.—With the exception of the Chicago Cubs, all of the major league baseball teams are showing fine condition in the exhibition games that are bringing them home from their training camps.

Unusually good weather during the training season helped the teams to get into advanced condition and put them in shape for the fast start that will be an important factor in deciding the pennant in each league. Both the American and National league races begin April 14.

The Cubs are badly handicapped by the crippling of "Rabbit" Maranville, who broke his leg in a training game. Frank Frisch and Freddy Lindstrom, two of the stars of the New York Giants, were injured but they will be ready to start the season.

In the exhibition games against formidable competition the Giants have shown the best form. The team advanced so quickly, in fact, that bohn McGraw had to order them to slow up to avoid the danger of going stale.

Too much stock canont be taken, however, in the form shown in these exhibition games and much depends upon the policy of the management. It will be recalled that the Brooklyn Robins looked like one of the worst teams in the major leagues last year in their games against the New York Yankees and that the Yankees looked like sure American league champions. Yet the Robins only missed the National league pennant by two games and the Yankees were nosed out by the Washington Senators.

HEROES OF 2 WORLD SERIES BOTH WITH WASHINGTON CLUB

The world series idol of 1924 greets the hero of 1920. Here we have Walter Johnson, baseball's greatest character, also pitcher, extending a welcome to Stanley Coveleskie, former star of the Cleveland club.

Johnson reached his greatest heights by his remar kable pitching in the final game of the 1924 classic, while Coveleskie's peak was staged in the world series of 1920, when he won three games for Cleveland, enabling the Indians to beat Broklyn for the title.

Washington secured Coveleskie in a trade for Pitcher Byron Spreece.

SHIELDS PAINTERS TO MEET BEANMEN AT IRVINE SUNDAY; VAN DIEN-YOUNG SERIES OFF

Fresh from countless triumphs over less powerful adversaries and determined to show the wide world it is on a par with any of the semi-pro teams in this neck o' the woods, the Shields Paint company baseball team of Santa Ana today completed negotiations for a game Sunday with the Irvine Beanpickers, long the champions of Orange county.

At the same time, official announcement was made that the Irvine Van Dien-Young company series, which began two weeks ago, had been cancelled.

Disagreement between the respective club managers, growing out of the much-discussed decision when Jamison, Van Dien-Young player, was called out for his asserted failure to touch first base on a home run hit that would have tied the score, was said to have been the cause of the break between the teams.

Expect Large Crowd

On the basis of its record the Shields aggregation is perfectly capable of giving the Beanpickers a busy afternoon so a goodly number of fans is expected to put out cash at the turnstiles.

The game, in a measure, will test whether the Painters can play fast enough ball now to sten into a fast semi-pro league with such clubs as Irvine, Shell Oil and the La Habra Standard-Murphys. If they can beat or play impressively against the champion Irvine team the Shields club must be given serious consideration for a franchise. If Irvine finds itself up against another "set-up," the Shields boys will have to begin building if they hope to land a berth in the contemplated circuit.

Sinsley to Pitch

Sinsley, a young pitcher who has shown unusual promise in his games with the Santa Ana men, will start against the Beanpickers. Babcock, former Van Dien-Young backstop, will be behind the log. "Toby" Tyler, late of Garden Grove, will be in there at first base with the rest of the infield composed of Oleson at Short, Hudson at third and either Kruger or Jewell at second. Crist, Hayden and Garr will be in the suburbs. Half a dozen reserves, including Blaeholder, Heard and Windler, will be available.

The customary mystery surrounds the choice of Irvine pitchers. The Beanpicker magnates like to keep the scribes as well as the fans wondering who'll start. We'll guess "Dutch" Hinrichs so the champions now are safe to use Archie Hawkins.

S. A. MEN GET 2984 PINS AND BEAT VISITORS

Rolling in the most consistent form they have displayed this season and incidentally their own high series record, the Bowles Motor company bowlers came to life at the A. and B. alleys here last night and took a 3 to 1 decision over the powerful Examiner cafe quintette of Los Angeles, one of the leading aggregations in the Southern California league.

Led by the rotund "Larry" Larrison who curve-balled into the woodpile for a 661 series, the Santa Anans shot games of 944, 1008 and 1032 for total pins of 2984, just 16 maples shy of a 1000 average for three games. "Moose" Ames, the team's high average man was not in the lineup because of an injured finger but his bowlers carried on without the services of their veteran expert.

Clark of the visitors rolled brilliantly, getting games of 223, 257 and 223 for a 703 series, an average of 234 a game. This is the third highest series for three league contests ever shot in this city.

Herman Efker with a 598 evening came next to Larrison for the locals. Captain Bill Bordon, despite the toughest of breaks, totaled 592.

The Bowles team still has six more series before it completes its Southern California league schedule. Next Tuesday the locals hook up with the Pico Main cafe five at the Pekomane alleys, Los Angeles. The Baldwin lunch crew, also of Los Angeles, come to the A. and B. driveways Thursday night.

ANNOUNCE SCHEDULE FOR COURT TOURNEY

Schedule of play for the Orange county tennis singles championship tournament which will be held on the Santa Ana high school courts Sunday was announced today by John Cress, secretary of the Santa Ana Tennis club, which is conducting the classic.

First and second round matches will be played in the morning with the semi-final and final contests billed for the afternoon. Entries may be made at the Poly grounds until 8 a. m. Sunday.

Poly Nine Seeks Revenge In Game On Anaheim Lot

For a final strenuous workout before the beginning of spring vacation next week, Coach Lyman Kidman's Santa Ana high school baseball team was at Anaheim this afternoon where it was to combat the strong Mother Colony prep nine.

Anaheim last week defeated the locals, 4 to 0, and Kidman announced he would use his first string players today in an effort to avenge the reversal. Oscar Spencer was to do the flipping with Middlebrook handling the big mitt. The other Polyites who made the trip were Siegel, Norton, Pea, English, Daley, Smith, Bell and Reister.

While the varsity was on foreign soil, the Poly reserves were to play the Huntington Beach first team here.

Giants to Carry One Rook Pitcher

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 3.—Ten pitchers, four catchers, six infielders and five outfielders will be carried by the New York Giants after June 15, according to plans of Manager McGraw. Kent, Greenfield, Kentucky rookie, probably will be the only new pitcher retained.

Abandon Plan for Wills-Renault Go

NEW YORK, April 3.—Negotiations for a contest between Harry Wills, negro heavyweight challenger, and Jack Renault, Canadian champion, as the feature bout of a benefit show for the Italian hospital fund have been abandoned, it was learned today.

BOWLING

GAS MEN BOWL WAY OUT OF LEAGUE CELLAR.

No longer does the Southern Counties Gas company bowling team occupy the cellar of the Broadway Winter league. By winning a 4 to 0 series from the Chandler Furniture company at the Broadway academy last night, the Gas company moved out of the basement bag and baggage. A YEAR AGO TODAY

APRIL 3, 1924

More than 250 persons, including a number of city officials, attended the formal opening last night of the new A. and B. bowling alleys here. Guy Evans rolled high game of 266.

Irvine baseball team joined the Greater Southern California association and will compete in a league beginning April 20.

Dee Walsh Bought By Portland Club

PORTLAND, Ore., April 3.—Dee Walsh, shortstop has been obtained by the Portland Beavers from the Lincoln, Nebraska club of the Western league, it was learned here today. Walsh was with the San Francisco team last season and went to Lincoln on a sale.

Under the terms of the trade, Lincoln will get Ted Pillette, Portland pitcher, and some cash.

ELECTRICIANS, HALEYS WIN IN INDOOR GAMES

The concluding match of the first week in the Santa Ana Indoor Baseall league will be played at Poly field tonight when the Kiwanis club and Excelsior Creamery company teams clash at 7:30 o'clock. There will be no game tomorrow night.

O. A. Haley's D. B.'s and the Robertson Electric company aggregations got off to flying starts in their dash for the city championship when they emerged victorious after last night's doubleheader.

The Haley's, considered by many the "ace" team of the loop, squashed the Roehm-Sylvester company, 10 to 5, in the opener and the Robertsons spanked The Register, 9 to 3, in the second joust.

The Haleys found the Roehm-Sylvesters a tough proposition. Some erratic suport behind Pitcher "Red" Angell gave the winners a six-run lead in the first inning.

The Register-Robertson match was a nip and tuck affair until the last ining. At that juncture the support behind Don berome, Register flinger, collapsed and the electricians tallied five runs on errors.

Umpire Hank O'Day's Sarcastic Retort Put the Quietus on an Inquisitive Fan

BY BILLY EVANS

The average New Yorker has the idea you are just camping out the moment you get over 45 minutes from Broadway.

Well, Hank has an even greater impression of the importance of Chicago. With him all cities are simply stations on the road to "Chic."

For over 30 years as player, manager and umpire, O'Day has been a notable public character. Perhaps no one in public life is closer to the masses than the ball player or umpire. As a result many fool questions are often fired at him by total strangers, who merely seek to strike up a conversation.

Ordinarly a most agreeable person, Hank can get decidedly brusque when an inquisitive fan seeks to get the inside dope, particularly the type that wants to know who is going to win the game today.

To such persons Hank gets much pleasure in secretly confiding to them that the team that gets the most runs is certain to win. Real inside stuff.

During the summer with various cities using different time there is always much confusion over the same. This is often caused by some adopting the daylight feature and others going on with the routine system.

While getting shaved in a hotel barber shop in St. Louis one afternoon, several fans became enmeshed in argument as to whether or not the time in St. Louis wasn't an hour slower than Chicago.

Seeing O'Day in the chair, and knowing he resided in Chicago, one of the fans decided to put it up to Hank. No one cares to be disturbed when getting shaved and O'Day is no exception, so when the inquiring fan said:

"I'l leave the argument to you, Mr. O'Day, isn't St. Louis one hour slower than Chicago?"

"You lose," drawled Hank, "it's a hundred years slower." That settled the argument.

Billy Evans Says

TARPON SPRINGS, Fla., April 3.—What about the St. Louis Browns and how does George Sisler look?

In making the rounds of the training camps, once I let it be known that I have seen the Browns in action, Sisler becomes the topic for discussion.

Fandom and rival players are equally interested in the condition of Sisler. It struck me as quite a tribute to the manager of the Browns.

When an eye affliction forced Sisler out of the game for the entire season of 1923, the sympathy of the baseball world went to the star of the Browns.

Returns Loudly Heralded

The return of Sisler to the game last season was applauded everywhere. Keen interest was shown in his play. While the Sisler of last season was several notches away from the Sisler of 1922, still he performed a most remarkable come-back.

What will Sisler do this year? Was his showing of last season the peak of his game or has a winter of rest so improved him physically that he will be much like the Sisler of old?

George Sisler

Surface conditions make Sisler look in great shape. The worried look that he wore most of last season is gone. There is a snap to the eye and the swing he takes at the ball. I would say offhand, that physically he looks at least 50 per cent better than last season.

During batting practice and in a couple of games with the Brooklyn Dodgers I watched closely his form at the plate. American league pitchers say Sisler can't hit a low ball. The pitching I saw him face was perhaps a shade below the major league brand of June or July, but it was pretty good pitching. And take it from me, Sisler wasn't bothered particularly by the curve or the fast one at the knee.

Should Be Better

Everything may look different when the season opens and the teams and pitchers swing into high, but judging on spring form, I would say Sisler is due to play a much improved game over last season.

Sisler hopes to improve his batting about 40 points, admits that will still be a trifle below normal, yet he will be content with that much progress, trusting that one or more years will restore his 1922 batting punch.

What about the Browns? I asked Sisler that question after I had given him the once over, up and down. I will let Sisler answer that part of the story.

"The Browns are going to be a much better ball club than last season. I want to make that most emphatic.

"I am not pointing toward a pennant. Of course I wouldn't offer the slightest objection to winning, but that isn't my goal. I am shooting at the first division and feel that I have a reasonably good chance to make it.

Infield Much Stronger

"My infield is going to be much stronger. The third base problem, long a worry on our club, has been solved. There isn't a better third baseman in the American league than Gene Robertson. He found himself when he overcame his weakness against southpaws.

"I feel that my play will be much better both in the field and at the bat. I will hit in runs where I failed last season. That should help.

"At the other spots in the team there will be no change. We are well fortified. The veterans of other years will be first choice with capable substitutes in reserve.

"Fourth or better will satisfy me and my club and we have a great chance to make it."

Young Stribling has been signed to take on Hughie Walker for a 10-round bout to be held at Augusta, Ga., early next month.

BRIEFS from the TRAINING CAMPS

SHREVEPORT, La.—The Chicago White Sox were back in permanent training qarters today after a week's trip in the South. The twelfth straight exhibition game was won yesterday when the sox took an 18 to 7 game from Louisiana state university.

OAKLAND, Cal.—The Cubs won the second game of their series with Oakland here yesterday, this time by only one run. Both teams used as many substitutes as posible. The final score was 4 to 3.

SAN FRANCISCO—Mid season pitching by Flint Rehm, young Cardinal moundsman, is the outstanding event of the Cardinal-Seal series. Rehm blanked the coast leaguers yesterday, 8 to 0.

NEW YORK—John McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, turned down several offers for added exhibition games to be played during a three day rest period provided in the schedule. "I'm afraid to take a chance," McGraw said.

MOBILE, Ala.—Ferguson, Ehmke and Quinn, the Red Sox' first line of pitching defense, were battered by Mobile yesterday for a clean cut 5 to 4 victory.

SHORT SPORTS

NEW YORK—Jean Borotra, French tennis star and Wimbledon champion, and Jerry Lang, of Columbia university, will meet here today in the semi-final round of the national indoor tennis championships. The winner will play Fred C. Anderson, New York, tomorrow for the title.

BODY IS IDENTIFIED.

MONTEREY, Calif., April 3.—The body of a man, found in the woods near Carmel, was identified as Reeves Davis, 50, Oakland mining engineer, who had been reported missing for the last 10 days. A chemist's analysis of the contents of the dead man's stomach showing poison, indicated suicide.

LONG DISTANCE TICK.

HAVANA, April 3.—The ticking of a watch which was broadcast by a station here was heard distinctly by Clayton B. Straw at his home at West Hopkinton, N. H.

Architects Are Urged to Show Creative Talent

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 3—Modern architecture should represent new creative instinct, a fresh inspiration and should be symbolic of our age and not a copy of the work of the past," Raymond Hood, one of America's most talented architects an da leader of the so-called "younger school," told the Yale Art school here.

"The buildings we design should be distinctive, embodying a style we can call our own, although godo architecture has always been modern," Hood told the students. "In every age, individuality can be remarked in some periods more than in others.

"The Renaissance work of Italy was modern in its day as was the Francis of First's work of France. The artists of these periods took their courage in both hands and added something to the world's storehouse of wisdom and art.

"America today is full of people who feel not only satisfied but take great credit to themselves if they reproduce what other ages did for them. They are parasites.

"People who copy are not playing the game squarely. We can study the work of other ages and incorporate what is good and beautiful in our own work without coupying. We should take methods, not details, from the old masters.

"What we should ask ourselves is what will our grandsons think of our civilization, of what we have done. Are we adding to what exists for them to study or have we merely warmed over our own needs the work of others? It is time to take stock and face the truth.

"It is up to the architects of our day to build something new that will stand as a monument to our epoch. Architecture should be fully representative of its own age."

BRITISHERS TAKE TO GRAPEFRUIT

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Grapefruit, which hitherto has been considered a purely American dish, is fast making its way toward a regular place on the breakfast table in English homes, according to reports from the American consulate in London, telling of the yearly increases in the amount of that fruit imported into Great Britain.

Although grapefruit is still considered a luxury by the average Englishmen, and a delicacy not to be indulged in too often, it is yet found on the menus at the better class of hotels, and is served with considerable regularity in the homes of more wealthy Londoners.

During 1923, the department of commerce was advised. Great Britain imported 50,000 hundredweight of grapefruit, an increase of nearly 59 per cent of the imports for the previous year.

Plan Ballrooms On Water Tanks

CHICAGO, April 3.—Dancing floors for thousands of couples topping a series of enormous filtration plants is vast project just outlined for Chicago by John Ericson, city engineer. He estimates the cost at $30,000,000. A large part of this sum would be expended for concrete work. Ericson points out the growing difficulty of making safe the water supply for nearly 3,000,000 persons by the chlorination process and suggests filtration as a way out. The engineer proposes four or five enormous filtration plants in the form of piers along the water front. These would be placed above the present tunnls carrying water from the lake to the inland pumping stations. In outward appearance they would be pleasure piers. Beneath would be the filtering tanks.

MANY HAVE EYE DEFECTS

NEW YORK, April 3.—Forty-seven per cent of the candidates for admission to the college of the City of New York had eye defects serious enough to require glasses, it is disclosed in a special report by Dr. Frederic A. Woll, acting director of the Department of Hygiene, to the Eye Sight Conservation Council of America.

PLANES TO SPRAY CANE.

HONOLULU, April 3.—Hawaiian sugar planters are seeking airplanes to spray the great sugar cane fields on the Hawaiian island of Oahu, and check the spread of "eyespot," a plant disease which is ravaging the fields. Army airplanes must be used.

BOMBAY BECOMES TRADING CENTER

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Bombay is fast becoming the main distribution center of India for trade, instead of Calcutta, according to reports received by the department of commerce from James E. Miller, American trade commissioner for India.

Appreciating the rise of Bombay as a commerical center, the department has transferred its trade commissioner's office from Calcutta, expecting thereby to be better able to promote American trade.

Far-reaching plans have been inaugurated by the Bombay municipality to make that city the country's metropolis. Contracts for the building of subways have been let, and ambitious schemes for reclaiming a part of the city's water front from the sea by filling in are in progress.

Man Buys Store After Holdup; He Is Held Up

NEW YORK, April 3.—When Louis Reich bought a jewelry store at 805 East Tremont avenue, the Bronx, a year ago, from Mrs. Bernard B. Brown, he knew that Mrs. Brown was a widow and that the shop was purchasable only because her husband just a month before had ignored a command by robbers to open his safe and had fought them. Reich decided then that if ever he were in a similar position he would not resist.

When he found a man covering him with a pistol as he came from a rear room into the store, he threw up his hands at once and turned to the wall when told to do so. Two other men then entered the store and took $5,000 worth of jewelry from the safe.

When leaving, one of the robbers told Reich not to move, and he obeyed. Only when he heard the door opened again and his name called, did he turn around. It was his wife.

Receivership of Chicago Packers Is to Be Lifted

CHICAGO, April 3.—Wilson and company, one of the "big four" packers, will be out of the hands of the receivers within three months, bankers estimate, following announcement of a plan of reorganization. The plan is to sell Wilson and company to a new company under court decree and exchange the new securities for old. The present financial structure will be scaled down. The first mortgage 6 per cent bonds are due in 1941 and will not be disturbed. Holders of other securities and claims will receive securities in the new company.

Get Home Ready For President

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass., April 3.—"White" Court, which President and Mrs. Coolidge have engaged as their summer home, is undergoing its spring house cleaning.

Cleaners and decorators are in charge of the handsome 3-story dwelling, landscape gardeners have been called upon to see that the formal garden is all cleared of weeks and trimmed neatly, and common vegetable gardeners have been asked to make sure that the carrots and lettuce are growing as befits presidential vegetables.

The house contains 26 rooms. Arrangements call for the house being ready for occupancy by June 1st.

BIG OPERATOR FREED.

CLEVELAND, O., April 3.—Josiah Kirby, of Los Angeles, former president of the Cleveland Discount company, a $30,000,000 mortgage concern, was found not guilty by a jury here on a charge of issuing a false financial statement for the company.

APPROVE VOLCANO CAMP.

HONOLULU, April 3.—A naval recreation camp a short distance from the active volcano Kilauea has been approved by the navy department. Construction work starts this spring. The site is one of the most beautiful in the Hawaiian islands.

OLD-TIME WINTERS.

MINOT, Me., April 3.—Snows this winter have been so heavy for the first time in more than 50 years it was necessary to transport mail by dog teams.

International Child Welfare Meet Is Called

GENEVA, April 3.—Switzerland has just taken the initiative in summoning the first world-wide international congress on child welfare. he conference will be held at Geneva from August 24 to 28, just preceding the sessions of the League of Nations assembly, and it is expetced that at least fifty of the leading nations of the world will be present.

While child-welfare conferences have been held in the past, notably at Geneva, Stockton, Vienna and Budapest, these have been largely for the purpose of propaganda. The conference just summoned by Switzerland on the other hand, is expected to take up the whole international character of the subject and to launch a definite world-wide program and movement for the interests of the child.

WHEAT EXPORTS GAIN

OTTAWA, Que., April 3.—There was a heavy increase in the quantity of Canadian wheat supplied to the United Kingdom in 1924, amounting to 50 per cent over 1923, according to a report of the department of trade and commerce.

You must like hard work if you do without a Hoover

To the woman who owns a Hoover it often seems that the woman without a Hoover actually likes hard work.

For, these days, it is so easy to own a Hoover that it is almost impossible to imagine anyone being without it unless they simply don't want it.

Yet we can't conceive that you wouldn't use a Hoover if we gave it to you. So it must be the cost after all.

And what is the cost? $6.25, and a few equally small payments once a month. That's all! And in return your time and strength are saved, your rugs are things of beauty and long life, and home is a happy place for everybody.

Is it worth $5.00 to start this? Or trade in your old cleaner.

Guarantee to Grow Hair

Stop Falling Hair — or Money Refunded

THERE has been a mistaken idea about hair growth. Authorities now say the hair has no root. It grows from a bulb. Hairs may get sick, weak and fall out. But the hair bulb rarely dies in the early stages. It merely lies dormant—like a plant bulb in winter. Revive these inactive hair bulbs and hair grows again.

Now a new method of treating the scalp accomplishes this result. It wakes up sluggish, inactive hair bulbs. It stops falling hair. It grows new hair. In writing we guarantee it. Money back if it fails.

Hair Bulbs Revived

The principle of this treatment is new. Scientifically correct. Leading dermatologists agree on this point. It stimulates circulation of blood in the scalp—providing nourishment to the hair beds. It removes caked sebum from the hair follicle allowing new hair to push through. It destroys harmful bacteria. It regulates the oil glands to function properly. It treats simultaneously each of the four causes to which 90% of all hair bulb inactivity is due. Hence its remarkable success.

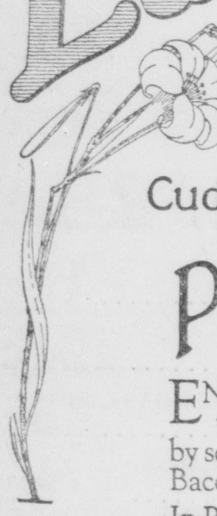

New Hair or No Money

No matter what your condition or how many tonics you have used unsuccessfully, we urge you to test STIM SCALP TREATMENT. It revives inactive hair bulbs. Stops falling hair. Grows new hair. These statements may seem incredible but remember we assume the risk. We guarantee results or we refund your money without question. Our written guarantee in every package protects you fully. STIM leaves no after odor—no oil—no grease. Sanitas Co., Sta. W., Brooklyn, N. Y.

S. S. CLASS AT TUSTIN HONORED

TUSTIN, April 3.—Mrs. W. L. Leihy was the hostess to the members of the Berean class of the Presbyterian church Wednesday afternoon. Devotional services were held. A preview of the lessons for this month was given by Mrs. Charles Hallett.

With a party at stake for the winning side, the two teams which were selected two months ago made their first report. The group led by Mrs. John Dryer were reported to be in the lead with 130 calls to their credit. A partial report given by Mrs. Leihy, captain of the opposing team, revealed 75 calls. Refreshments were served following a short business meeting.

Those present were Mrs. C. P. Marshall, Mrs. G. E. Hatfield, Mrs. M. C. Pollard, Mrs. Eva Logan, Mrs. nS. W. Suddaby, Mrs. Joh Dryer, Mrs. P. H. Ebel, Mrs. W. Satterwhite, Mrs. L. McIntire, Mrs. J. Denio, Mrs. Charles Whitney, Mrs. Charles Hallett, Rev. and Mrs. W. S. McDougall, Mrs. R. B. Carswell, Mrs. A. D. Turner, Mrs. George Lange, Mrs. Dan Adams, and the hostess, Mrs. Leihy.

Mr. and Mrs. William Snider, Miss Dorothy Mae Warner, and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brown motored to San Pedro Thursday to see the battleships.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dryer spent Thursday in Los Angeles on business.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. King and family motored to San Pedro Wednesday night.

Miss Marjorie Wallace of Long Beach is spending the Easter vacation as the guest of Miss Elizabeth McDougall.

SOCIAL AFFAIRS AT TUSTIN MANY

TUSTIN, April 3.—Local people are facing a busy week in social and club events it was revealed here today. Last night the junior play was given at the high school before a large audience.

Following is a list of activities which will take place here over the week end and during part of next week:

Mrs. Horace White entertained the Aid society of the Presbyterian church at her home on Holt avenue this afternoon.

The annual firemen's ball will be staged this evening at the garage on the corner of Third and C streets. The final arrangements for the ball were made today by the committee in charge.

Mrs. Owen Murray and Mrs. Earl Murray will entertain the Neighbors club Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Owen Murray.

Mrs. E. Farquar will entertain a number of small friends in honor of her daughter's birthday anniversary Saturday afternoon.

The election of officers of the Scientific Motherhood club will be held at the meeting of the organization Wednesday morning at 10 a. m. at the grammar school auditorium when Dr. Beebe, a member of the state board of health will speak.

The annual dinner and business meeting of the Presbyterian church will be held at the church Wednesday evening.

Election of officers of the grammar school Parent-Teachers' association will be held at the regular meeting of the organization at the grammar school Thursday afternoon. A special program is being prepared by the children of the kindergarten.

Baptist Church To Dedicate New Addition at H. B.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 3.—Rev. James Holmes, convention evangelist of the Los Angeles Baptist church, will be the speaker of the evening at the dedication services of the Baptist church, Tuesday evening, it was announced today by Rev. Luther A. Arthur, pastor.

The services will be held to dedicate the newly completed addition to the church. The improvements include several new Sunday school class rooms and will relieve the crowded condition of the Sunday school at the present time. A dedication supper is set for Tuesday evening. Special entertainment features have been arranged.

ORDINANCE No. 244

An Ordinance of the County of Orange, California, regulating tent shows in Orange County, outside of incorporated towns or cities, providing for a license fee therefor and fixing a penalty for violation hereof.

SECTION 1. Every person, firm or corporation conducting, managing or carrying on any tent show outside of incorporated towns or cities in said County, shall and is hereby required to first make application to the Orange County Health Department for a license to conduct such show in Orange County, stating the seating capacity and kind of show, also the location and name of community in which they intend to show.

Section 2. For such license, they shall pay the sum of TEN DOLLARS ($10.00) a day per hundred seats or fractional part thereof; same to be paid in advance.

Section 3. All shows are required to bury or remove all refuse, such as garbage, tin cans, glass, papers, manure or anything of the nature of rubbish; also maintain the temporary toilet or toilets in sanitary condition at all times. Where a vault toilet is used, the vault must be at least 18 inches wide, 3 feet long and 3 feet deep. The toilet is to be made as nearly flyproof as possible.

Section 4. All stock, such as ponies, dogs, monkeys or other animals are to be kept tied or in cages, so as not to endanger human life or destroy growing crops or other property adjoining the show ground.

Section 5. All such license fees collected shall be turned in to the gen-

BOTH CITY AND COUNTY IDEAL, SAYS NICHOLS

Got Start In Police Work As Patrolman of Grounds Of N. Y. Exposition

ANAHEIM, April 3.—Starting his career as a policeman during the Pan-American Exposition in Buffalo, New York state, during 1901, and later becoming sheriff of Cat;taraugus county, Charles D. Nichols, newly appointed chief of police of Anaheim, today declared that he had found, in Anaheim and Orange county, the place of his dreams, and was happy and contented to remain here.

Chief Nichols represents the begining of a new mile post in the Anaheim police department, since with his appointment the department has been completely reorganized and placed on a modern basis with efficiency as the watchword.

The work of Chief Nichols in police activities started with the exposition and after the close of this event, he was placed on the Buffalo police force, later being promoted to a position on the Buffalo detective bureau. Remaining in Buffalo until 1914, he received an appointment as deputy sheriff of Cattaraugus county. In 1916 he was elected sheriff of that county, serving his term of three years.

After terminating his position as sheriff, he traveled in several western states, finally coming to California in 1923, when he became special agent of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company. He later returned to the east but decided to make California his home and came back here in 1923, becoming associated with the sheriff's office in Los Angeles, where he remained until accepting the local appointment as chief of police.

Chief Nichols declares he has traveled over practically all of the United States and over the entire state of California and has found Orange county an ideal place in which to reside.

"I think Orange county and cities in this county are the most beautiful to be found anywhere," said Nichols, "and after first seeing this district on my initial trip to California, I always desired to return here to live."

Charles D. "Nick" Nichols, newly appointed chief of police at Anaheim. He declares Anaheim is the ideal city and Orange county the ideal county for a home. He became identified with the sheriff's office in Los Angeles and it was while he was employed there the city trustees of Anaheim asked him to take over the direction of the police in the Mother Colony city. He formerly was sheriff of Cattaraugus county, N. Y.

Chamber Opposes Move to Give L. A. Colo. Water Line

FULLERTON, April 3.—A bill now pending before the state legislature which would enable Los Angeles to form a water district to make possible the bringing of water from the Colorado River, received the official disapproval of the local Chamber of Commerce, yesterday.

The local opposition, it is stated, is based upon the manner in which the bill is rwan, not its purpose. It is asserted that the present form of the bill would give Los Angeles a majority on the Board of Directors created by such a district and practical control of the whole project.

TO REPRESENT REALTORS

ANAHEIM, April 3.—W. J. Elliot, local realty board member, and Arthur S. Porter of the First National Bank, escrow department, have been selected to represent the local realty board at the presidents' and secretaries' meeting to be held in San Diego on Saturday.

Fullerton Body Not to Take Part In Orange Show

FULLERTON, April 3.—Deciding that the necessary expense would be too great a strain on their treasury as it now stands, the directors of the local chamber of commerce yesterday devided against participation in the Anaheim Orange show this year.

It was brought out that $500 at least would be necessary to finanec a display that would properly represent the Fullerton chamber and it was the general opinion that such an expenditure would be inexpedient.

April Fool's Day Observed by Club

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 3.—The annual April Fool meeting of the local Lions club was held here Wednesday.

Jerome Shaffer, entertainer, humorist and musician, was the speaker of the meeting.

Misses Wilma Potthoff and Irene Loose were the chairmen of the day. Visiting Lions from Long Beach and Santa Ana lent additional color to the meeting and the local club was also able to chalk up a 100 per cent attendance for the second meeting during the attendance campaign. Miss Ardy Cuttell, teacher at the grammar school, sang several solos. Local Lions raised considerable money for their charity funds.

PERSONAL NOTES OF PEOPLE AT BEACH

Mr. and Mrs. George Stinson, 420 Fifth street, are the parents of a baby boy, born Tuesday.

Mrs. T. C. Vincent, president of the local American Legion Auxiliary, attended the regular meeting of the Presidents association of American Legion Auxiliaries, in Orange, Tuesday.

Preparations were being made here today for special Easter Sunday services at the First Baptist church. Other churches are also preparing special features for their Sunday programs.

NEW WELLS AT BREA-OLINDA ARE PREDICTED

FULLERTON, April 3.—The past week's activities in the Richfield, Olinda and Brea oil fields has been largely centered around the comparatively small number of new wells which are being developed in various parts of the area. The next few days will undoubtedly see the completion of one or two located in proven territory. The wild-cats are still uncertainties.

Standard is putting down two of the wells which are expected to become producers in a few more hundred feet. Kraemer 218 in the Richfield district had reached Monday a depth of 3846 and after 40 or 50 feet more will be cemented for a water shutoff. It is anticipated that the drill will be sent down approximately another 600 feet before the crew will call it a day and "bring 'er in."

Standard's Kraemer 219, in the same vicinity, is standing cemented at a depth of 3180 feet and it is intended to send it down to a depth equal that planned for 218. The two wells will probably begin flowing on about the same date.

Things are not so rosy with the crew re-drilling Standard No. 23 but slight progress having been made during the past week. Cable tools are being employed and the loss of under reamers in the hole early last week has held up operations.

Chicksan No. 2, also in the Richfield area and in close vicinity of Standard's two near-producers, is also expected "in" very shortly. Monday the drill had reached the 4492 mark and was bringing up indications of oil sand. The probabilities are that the 4700 foot mark will see its completion. When finished the crew will move onto No. 3, which is now being rigged up.

A fishing job last week and extremely hard formation encountered this week, are responsible for very little footage being run up by the Union's wild cat, Olinda No. 1 on the Olinda Land company lease.

Discuss Plans For Erection Of Car Factory

FULLERTON, April 3.—Plans for the erection by the Balboa Motor Corporation of a factory on the Fullerton industrial site, will be discussed at a meeting tonight to which officers and stock-holders of the corporation, members of the Realty board, and of the industrial committee of the Chamber of Commerce are invited. More than a year ago the directors of the local chamber of commerce negotiated with the motor car manufacturers for the erection of a factory in Fullerton as a community enterprise. Progress in arrangements have been delayed pending arrangements for financing the corporation which has just been completed.

Three exhibition cars of the type which the company plans to assemble in Fullerton, have been assembled in their temporary headquarters here and placed on exhibition in the Auto Show in Santa Ana. Orders, however, have not been taken.

NEW EXHIBIT OF PAINTINGS SEEN AT BEACH

Norman Chamberlain and Helen Chambers Please With New Offerings

LAGUNA BEACH, April 3.—The April exhibition of the Laguna Beach Art association was opened to the public Wednesday afternoon in the art gallery.

The genearl trend of the pictures shown is toward a popular note and the April showing should be most interesting to the passer-by who loves to look at paintings that tell a story. There are many large canvases, the one by Norman Charmberlain showing "Temple Hills," being especially enchanting. The old eucalyptus grove at the top of the highest hill, which is a larndmark, is charming in its mistiness.

Another canvas that will prove a drawing card is by Helen Chalmers, the wife of Stephen Chalmers, the writer. The picture shows an Algerian flower girl and the color combinations are positively fascinating. The work has been done in the English style, closing following the English idea of detail, and is most attractive. Yesterday's first day crowd liked the Chalmers picture.

Another canvas that attracted a great deal of attention was by a Long Beach artist, Henry Richter. It depicts an old man, holding a newspaper on his lap and looking kindly over his spectacles. It is just such a character picture as the ordinary picture lover wants to see. The face has great character and the subject matter is well treated.

The regulars, who never fail to exhibit things worth while, were in force. Frank W. Cuprien, the artist who paints the sea as though he loved it, is represented by a wonderful canvas, showing Cat alina island in the distance, with a clump of cypress trees peeking around the edge of a bluff. And over all shines the glowing sun, the sky a mixture of greenish blues and yellows with the greens predominating. It is a lovely Cuprien picture.

Roy Clarkson Colman has chosen a desert scene to show in the April exhibit and the first day visitors seemed to like it even better than the scenes of the sa that he has been showing lately. Mr. Colman's desert scenes have the atmosphere that one remembers on the desert. They are full of life and spirit.

Edith Truesdale is represented by a large canvas showing a family group of 1880. The least that can be said is that the children of 1880 must have been exceedingly ugly. Great splashes of vivid color, especially the red hair of one of the children, make the cpainting rather bizarre. It is not a picture that will attract the masses, although they will examine its idiosyncrasies. The idea back of the picture seems to be the use in close juxtaposition of cool and warm coloring.

"Halmar," a study in delicate tones of a little girl, is a charming portrait, done in a new style by Oscar Knuteson. Mr. Knuteson seems to haev hit upon a definite medium for transcribing to canvas the delicacy and charm of childhood. He catches the personality of his subject and injects into the painting a large degree of reality.

Ruth Peabody has hung a colorful, distinctly worth while painting of snapdragons in a bowl resting on a standard of Chinese teakwood. Leish cover is on the table where the bowl rests and a bluish violet vase of small proportions makes a distinct bit of delicacy, the entire picture being well developed as to color values. Mrs. Peabody seems to catch the real value of still life.

Karl Yens, always exhibiting the unusual, has this time shown "A Child of Bazan," a picture that will remain in one's memory because of the characteristic deviltry lying in the eyes. The picture is very ugly but also very good. Mr. Yens is also showing a splendid mountain scene. A great splash of deep blue gives an atmospheric effect of looking a vast distance across the canyons, while behind the far hills lies the quiet grandeur of the snow covered peaks. It is a picture that will make a universal appeal.

Anna A. Hills, the president of the art association, has had hung two widely different pictures. One is in the typical Hill maner, showing the wonderful yellows in the tres that she knows how to do so well, and the other is a scene near teh coast, great cypres trees listening to the surge of the surf.

State Officer of Legion Auxiliary Visits at Beach

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 3.—Mrs. Anna Chapline, state vice president of the American Legion Auxiliary, was the guest and speaker at the regular meeting of the local Auxiliary at the Legion hall, Tuesday night. Mrs. Chapline told of the work being done by the auxiliary for the disabled soldiers at hospitals and appealed to the local post for the support of the campaign this year.

Mrs. T. C. Vincent, president of the local Auxiliary, was in charge of the meeting. A business session was held at which time it was decided members would stage a "poppy day" here in the near future for the benefit of the disabled soldiers. The sale of wreaths, made by the disabled veterans, will also be undertaken by the Auxiliary in the near future.

WINS HONORS

MISS KATHERINE CARNER

ANAHEIM, April 3.—Miss Katherine Carner, local high school student who won over representatives from Santa Ana, Orange and Fullerton in the recent county preliminaries of the nation wide oratorical contest on the constitution, will go to Chaffee high school in Ontario, April 17, to compete with winners from other Southern California counties.

The winner of this elimination contest will then compete with the northern California representative, to select a state delegate, all state representatives later competing in Washington, D. C., where prizes will be awarded to the three best orators. Miss Carner is a senior at the local institution and is prominent in athletic circles of the school, being one of the leading baseball and basketball players.

Seeks Session Of Pen Pushers For Beach Town

In an effort to bring the Southern California Editorial association to Newport bay, S. A. Meyer, editor of the Newport News and other papers, has started the campaign and has been assured by Mr. Reed, managing director, that Newport Beach will be considered when the question of the location for the next convention is considered.

"There is no doubt but that the bringing of this representative gathering to Orange county would be a splendid thing for us and the efforts of the newspapermen to bring this about will be applauded in all sections of Orange county," Harry Welch, secretary of the Orange county harbor chamber said.

"Anyone who wants to help in this campaign is asked to get in touch with Mr. Meyer in time for the next gathering of the association."

REV. THORNTON RESIGNS POST AT FULLERTON

Pastor of Christian Church To Go East to Take Up Important Work

FULLERTON, April 3.—Prominent for three years in church and civic work of this city and famous throughout Southern Califronia as an orator of outtsanding ability, Rev. Walter Thornton, D.D., L.L.D., Wednesday night tendered his resignation from the pastorate of the Christian church of Fulerton, the same to be effective July 1.

Previous to his pastorship of the Fullerton church Rev. Thornton was head of the department of economics of Occidental college and had also taught in the University of Texas. His retirement from the local church did not come as entire surprise as he had intimated several months ago that he might make such a change.

Though he has declined to state definitely what hi sfuture plans will be it is possible that he will go east in an important capacity. He stated toda ythat it is his ambition to return to Columbia college some time inside the next few years and complete the work he began for the degree of Ph. D.

Local people of all denominations regard Rev. Thornton's departure as a distinct loss to the community. He was active in numerous civic enterprises and has been heard as a speaker in cities all over Southern California.

SPRING VACATION BEGINS AT ORANGE

As proof that the balmy sunny season is now on, Orange students, atending both the high school and elementary schools will take a week's respite from their studies in order to "rest up" before the last gruelling weeks of the school term.

The Spring vacations will begin Eastern Monday, April 13 and last until the following Monday, it was announced today by George C. Sherwood, grammar school-superintendent.

The high school will observe the same vaction period, it was announced by F. A. Henderson, high schol principal. Outlying schools at El Modena, Villa Park, Olive, Peralta and Silverado will enjoy similar vacations during the same period.

According to school authorities, this will be the last vacation before the end of the school term, which closes June 12. As Memorial day falls on Saturday, the students wil have no break in their studies during the final stretch.

UNCLE SAM NOT TO INTERFERE IN HUGE DEALS

WASHINGTON, April 3. — The government's attitude toward the huge industrial mergers announced in the last few days is one of benign interest, to be transacted into activity only if definite proof is forthcoming that their practices are to be detrimental to the public. As the trade policies of the new combination will not become apparent except with the passage of time, there is little likelihood of any government investigation now beyond cursory scrutiny.

The course of the administration with respect to big business was charted and laid down by President Coolidge during the campaign and epitomized in these words:

"Whether a business unit is good or bad is to be determined, not by its size, but by its practices."

Attorney General Sargent has signalized his intention to conduct his department in accordance with this policy by announcing that it will not act as a "harrassing agency" to meddle with the affairs of big concerns just because they are big.

Talbert

TALBERT, April 3.—The mid-week Bible study which has been held regularly Wednesday evenings at the Talbert Methodist church, South, has been permanently changed to Tuesday evening as a more convenient time.

Mrs. Vera Way and two children of Long Beach are spending a few days at the home of Mrs. Way's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bushard.

Earl Peer came Monday from Los Angeles to join his wife, Mrs. Thelma Sorenson Peer, who has been spending a week at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Tinker, and with friends.

Mr. Stone, who has resided on Mrs. Mosher's ranch for some time, has been transferred from the Huntington Beach field to Santa Fe Springs an dis moving his family there. Mr. Stone has sold his lease on the Mosher ranch, which expires, July 1, to Mr. Smidt, a Swiss dairyman, who has been employed on the Heil ranch. Smidt has also secured a term lease from Mrs. Mosher, extending on after the termination of the present sub-lease, and is taking possession of the place at once. Smidt bought out Mr. Stone's stock and implements as well.

Miss Flossie Draper visited over the week end with her sister and brother in law, Mr. and Mrs. John Shutt. She attends the Girls Collegiate, a private school in Los Angeles.

Miss Alpha Gilbert returned Monday evening from Monrovia where she was the guest of one of her girl friends, Miss Deda Gilbert, who attends school in Pasadena.

Rev. and Mrs. Oscar Gibson visited Tuesday at Westminster at the home of Mrs. Addie L. Blakey.

Mrs. Nichols, who has spent the past three weeks with Mrs. Hiram Proctor, returned to her home in Los Angeles in company with her son, Virtie Nichols and his wife, who motored down for her.

Rev. Walter McGehehy, pastor of the Pentecostal churches at both Orange and Huntington Beach, has just purchased a sedan to use in making the rounds of his pastorate.

Miss Dorothy Cozina, who has been sick, is improving.

MAY MAKE YANKEES PAY ZONE EXPENSE

EL PASO, Tex., April 3.—American merchants in border towns of the north side of the Rio Grande maye have to bear the burden of expense incidental to cleanup zones nistituted by the Mexican government in their border cities.

Advices here from Mexico City indicated a commission had been appointed by President Calles to visit the border towns to decide whether free port or dutyless zones should be established at Nevo, Laredo, and other Mexican points along the border.

Early closing of international bridges and strict enforcement of anti-gambling laws for American visitors have resulted in serious financial losses to Mexican business, it was stated.

TO OBSERVE BOOK WEEK.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 3.—Preparations were being made here today by J. A. Armitage, secretary of the chamber of commerce to observe "book week" beginning April 19 and ending April 25. Books will be received and distributed to the sailors and soldiers in the camps and on the ships. The citizens will be asked to donate any books which they do not want or which they think would would interest the soldiers and sailors. The chamber of commerce will handle all books from this city.

BURTON FITTS TO SPEAK

ANAHEIM, April 3.—All former service men and their friends are invited to hear Burton R. Fitts, past state commander of the American Legion, who will be the speaker at the dance and entertainment to be given by the Anaheim post of the American Legion at the Knights of Pythias hall on April 14. The evening will start with a dinner which is to be prepared by the ladies' auxiliary. This will be followed by a vaudeville show, and then the leading feature of the evening, the dance.

Choir to Sing Easter Songs Near Seashore

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 3.—A special chorus of more than 50 voices is being selected to sing special Easter numbers on the beach here Easter Sunday during the afternoon band concert, it was announced today.

The chorus will be made up of singers from the choirs of the various churches of the city. According to J. A. Armitage, secretary of the chamber of commerce, under whose auspices the concert will be given, an unusual selection of sacred music will form the program.

Vocal selections, instrumental solos, band, orchestra and chorus numbers will be included on the program which is now being worked out by Harry G. Webber, bandmaster, and Will H. Gallienne, manager of the band.

Sun Radiation In Far Lands To Be Studied

WASHINGTON, April 3. — The National Geographic society has announced the organization, in cooperation with the Smithsonian Institute, of a four-year expedition to Africa and Asia to conduct measurements in solar radiation.

Dr. Charles G. Abbott, director of the Smithsonian's astrophysical observatory, has been named director of the expedition.

The ultimate goal is perfection of long range weather forecasting through accurate knowledge of the changes in the radiation of the sun't heat.

Freight Rates On Lumber Reduced

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3.—Reduction in California freight rates on lumber and lumber products, effecting a saving of $300,000 to $400,000 annually, has been ordered here by the state railroad commission and the interstate commerce commission jointly.

The decision particularly affects San Joaquin and Southern California lumber shipping points, equalizing rates in effect from northern California and Southern Oregon.

The commissions' order was given after hearings by B. H. Meyer, of the interstate commerce commission and Examiner J. H. Esselman of the railroad commission, and is simultaneous with an interstate commerce commission order from Washington on interstate lumber rates.

Proceedings were brought by the Los Angeles Lumber Products company and joined by San Joaquin valley lumber interests, charging discrimination in northern rates.

San Pedro, Pinedale, Madera and Merced Falls rates to points in California south of the San Francisco bay region are involved in the decision.

Women Lead In Dislocated Jaws

CHICAGO, April 3.—Sixty per cent of all cases of dislocation of the jaw are found among women, Dr. Dudley Reed, medical examiner for the University of Chicago, declared today. "But," he added, "although women talk more than men do, that isn't the cause of the accidents. It's yawning that does it. It indicates that women are terribly when anyone else is talking and that they gape frequently, which causes dislocation of the jaw."

Film Actress and Wealthy Mate Part

LOS ANGELES, April 3.—Ora Carew, screen actress, and John C. Howard, youthful millionaire of Haverhill, Mass., were separated today after a rugged matrimonial career.

Miss Carew received a decree of divorce from her wealthy husband on grounds of cruelty after presenting a doctor's certificate to prove he had broken her nose during one of their quarrels.

The actress also accused Howard of heavy drinking and brutal treatment on other occasions. They were married on December 12, 1922.

How to get Thin

French Specialist Tells How t Lose Excess Fat Without Exer cises, Habit Forming Drugs o Worthless Creams.

"If you are 10 to 100 pounds over weight, you can easily and safely lose all that fat," says a French specialist. "For years I suffered with high blood pressure and heart trouble, due to fifty pounds of excess fat. I was weak, short of breath and 'all in.' I could not find any clothes to fit me, and I was thoroughly disgusted with life until I found out about SAN-GRI-NA, a marvelous discovery. I know that a great many fat men and women are going through these same troubles today. And, for their benefit, I am glad to explain what I did to reduce, and how they can easily and gradually lose a few pounds each week without any danger. Go to any good drug store and get a package of SAN-GRI-NA—(remember the name, and do not accept anything else).

"SAN-GRI-NA, the formula of a French physician, has been used in Europe in private practice, where enormous prices have been paid for it. It is now sold at a price within the reach of all. Once you have started to take SAN-GRI-NA, you should feel greater pep and energy. No more tired feeling. SAN-GRI-NA IS GUARANTEED ABSOLUTELY HARMLESS.

Remember, that is all I did to get rid of 50 pounds of unhealthy, ugly rolls of fat. I have not regained one pound since I stopped taking SAN-GRI-NA. I look and feel years younger, and can sincerely recommend it to any fat man or woman. On sale at White Cross, Kelley, Parsons', Mateer's or Haddon-Jean drug stores.

PERSONAL NOTES OF LAGUNA BEACH

LAGUNA BEACH, April 3—Miss Ann B. Mason entertained at Wickiup" her charming home on the cliffs, at a bridge-tea. Assisting Miss Mason was Mrs. Andrew S. Hall, who poured. The games for the afternoon were delightfully interesting, the high score being won by Mrs. Frank B. Champion. The consolation prize was won by Mrs. Raymond S. Kelsch, a society matron of Montreal, Quebec, and a Laguna Beach visitor for the last few weeks. Following the bridge, tea was served, purple flowers adding their brilliant note of color to the unusually artistic "wickiup." Included in the invitation list were Mrs. Joseph S. Thurston, Mrs. Perry Warren, Mrs. H. R. Macbeth, Mrs. C. C. Cravath, Mrs. Raymond S. Kelsch, Mrs. William Swift Daniell, Mrs. Joe Skidmore, Mrs. Andrew S. Hall, Mrs. Eva G. Perine, Mis Lolita Perine, Mrs. Frances Andrews, Mrs. Walmsley Lenhard, Mrs. J. Walter Rankin, Mrs. Frank B. Champion Miss Emilie Boulanger, Miss Harriet Boulanger, Mrs. H. W. Planalp, Mrs. Philip Sheridan Weadock.

The Arch Beach Good Time club met at Ye Taxern for their regular meeting and had a jolly evening. All Arch Beach folks are invited to become members of this club which has been organized exclusively for amusement. All sorts of games are played, a delicious lunch is served by the hotel and a general good time is assured.

Louis Burnham, who has collected a roomful of curios from all over the Southwest has given the town quite a jolt. In front of his place of business he has installed the side of an old pirate ship that came ashore one day last week during the high tide. Four horses were called into service to drag the boat to its final home, and none too soon, for the next tide would have washed the unique treasure back to the deep waters again. The boat is sadly in need of paint, being water soaked and faded but its undeniable charm as a curio is recognized by all who see it. The boat has been set on a column sunk into the ground and has attracted much attention.

The Woman's Guild of the Episcopalian chapel, St. Francis' by the Sea, will hold a bazaar Saturday, many fine pieces of needlework having been made for the occasion by the women of the guild. The bazaar will be held in the offices of "The Laguna Beach Life."

LIVE NEWS NOTES OF LAGUNA BEACH

LAGUNA BEACH, April 2.—The April exhibition at the Laguna Beach art gallery is being hung today, the jury being composed of Mrs. Ida Randall Bolles, Mrs. Ruth Peabody, Roy Clarkson Coleman, Norman Chamberlain and William A. Griffith. The exhibition will be opened to the public tomorrow.

J. A. F. Jublin, Jack B. Tammis, and Albert Parks were here from Los Angeles over the week-end.

Madame Edith Venice, a Los Angeles resident, was a visitor to Laguna Beach this last week.

Miss Eleanor Boone of Oakland was in Laguna Beach looking over the studios and the gallery.

The Cliff Dwellers were entertained at "Journey's End," the hill home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew S. Hall, last Tuesday afternoon. The club is a bridge club, being composed of nine bridge enthusiasts. A prize is always given for the high score, the prize last Tuesday being won by Miss Ann B. Mason. Substitutes for Mrs. Mabelle Lord Frost was Miss Harriet Boulanger. The other club members who were present were Mrs. H. G. Heisler, Miss Annie Gayne Peake, Mrs. Frank B. Champion, Mrs. J. Walter Rankin, Mrs. Frank Case, Miss Ann B. Mason and the hostess, Mrs. Hall. A luncheon always precedes the bridge games, the hostesses vieing with each other in putting forth delicious viands.

Richard F. Marriner, Hal Forrest and Miss Halmar Forrest motored to Long Beach tdoay.

H. H. Henshaw went to Los Angeles on business today.

At the charming home of Mrs. Catherine Brooks, last Monday night, several artists entertained during the course of the evening. Little Courtney McElree and his sister, Joyce McElree, the children of Mrs. Maurice McElree and the grandchildren of Mrs. Brooks, were delightfully received by Mrs. Brooks' guests. Courtney, whose voice is of an unusual soprano quality, sang several Irish songs, "Mother Machree" and " My Wild Irish Rose" being favorites. He also sang "O Sole Mio" and "The Awakening." Little Joyce McElree is evidently destined to be a great dancer, for, although but five years old, her presentation of dancing ideas and her composition elicited much surprise. She was loudly applauded. Mrs. H. H. Henshaw, whose delightfully sweet voice charmed everyone, sang "The End of a Perfect Day" and "The Rose."

Mrs. Maurice McElree was the accompanist for her children's part of the impromptu program. The guest list included Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Henshaw, Mrs. Maurice McElree, Courtney McElree, Joyce McElree, Guy Skidmore, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Forrest and Miss Halmar Forrest.

The moving picture companies are finding Laguna Beach a wonderful place for taking water and hill scenes. The clear, clean air here makes picture taking a delight. At the present time the Universal company has a big force down here, the stars being expected Saturday.

Brea News

BREA, April 3.—At the meeting of the Brea Parent-Teacher association Tuesday afternoon, the second grade, taught by Miss Iva Dysche, cleverly entertained. A skit featuring Peter Rabbit and the coming of spring was cleverly given. Miss Joy Belshe was the Peter Rabbit.

At the business session of the meeting it was voted to consolidate the Brea P.-T. A. with the Laurel association. The Laurel association had already voted for the union of the two societies. The first meeting will be held with the opening of school next fall. Mrs. A. V. Sullivan and Mrs. Estelle Mitchell were appointed representatives on the committee to select candidates for high school trustees.

Dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Clayton and Mrs. Belshe assisted by the mothers of the second grade pupils.

In honor of Mrs. Scott Tremaine of Inglewood, Mrs. Ted Salveson, was hostess to a number of her friends at a delightful informal party at her home on Madrona avenue Wednesday afternoon. Games and conversation consumed most of the time, after which the honoree was given many beautiful gifts. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Present at the party were Misses Deborah McVeigh, Lucille Ball of Brea, Miss Lucille Deitzel of Puente; Mesdames Mabel Smith, Esther Miller, Alice Adelt, R. W. Sammons, Mitchell, Schweitzer, Maude Sayles, Eva Jarvis, Florence Angerson, Elery Tremaine, Lila Phegley and daughter, Florence Davis, Anna Ford, F. A. Ball, Violet Slaybaugh and daughter, Nellen Green, Rose Raynor, W. D. Tremaine, Marie Olmsted, all of Brea; O. F. Woods, of San Bernardino; Blanche Zink, Maude Every, Mae Every, of Los Angeles; Ruby Brooks and daughter of Long Beach; May Glaze, Nell Salveson, Grace Graves, of Fullerton; Hazel Deitzel and son, of Montebello, Marie Deitzel, of Puent, and the honoree, Mrs. Scott Tremaine of Inglewood, and the hostess, Mrs. Salveson.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Reynolds of Long Beach were visiting Mr. and Mrs. M. Chambers Wednesday.

A very interesting meeting was held by the Missionary society of the Christian church at the home of Mrs. Jack Burquist Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. C. R. Merrifield led the meeting on the subject "China." Talks were given by Mrs. W. E. Spicer and Mrs. Roberts. Mrs. Graham Porter of Santa Ana was present and gave a very interesting talk.

Following the lesson a social hour was enjoyed, after which a dainty luncheon was served by the hostess, Mrs. Burquist, who was assisted by Mrs. C. Reid and Mrs. Jess Gill.

Mrs. Bud Heimiller and daughter, Virginia, and Mrs. Virgil Ki ger were shopping in Los Angeles Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Campbell and children of Huntington Beach called on Mrs. Agnes Campbell on Wednesday.

The wedding of Miss Bessie Luckenbach and Jock Rogers recently, at Los Angeles, is of interest to their many friends here. The wedding was very quiet, only a few intimate friends witnessing the ceremony. Following the ceremony the party returned to Brea, where a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Luckenbach. Mr. and Mrs. Rogers will make their home at 245 South Redwood avenue.

W. A. Squires of Santa Fe Springs is visiting his daughter, Mrs. C. V. Hardman and family.

Mrs. Lum Lancaster of Indio returned Wednesday after spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Denham.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Corlett were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Will Reis and family of Inglewood Monday.

Mrs. Virgil Kiger returned Wednesday, after spending several days with friends at Alamitos.

Mrs. Homer Bailey and Miss E. Rankin were calling on Mrs. C. W. Vinson recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Salveson spent Wednesday at the home of Mrs. H. Salveson of Fullerton.

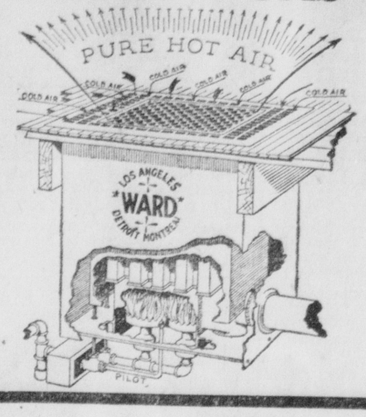

Ted Salveson is driving a new touring car with an enclosure. The car is a gift of F. H. Green of La Habra.

Did you ever drink coffee blindfolded?

Of course not. But here's an interesting blind coffee test you'll enjoy making. It removes all prejudice. The coffee that wins out deserves to win. The idea is to test FOLGER'S "Golden Gate" Coffee against the Coffee you are now using.

Get a can of FOLGER'S "Golden Gate" Coffee from your grocer and tomorrow morning serve Folger's for breakfast. The following morning serve the Coffee you have been using. The next morning serve Folger's again. Keep this up for a morning or two. But, you mustn't let the family know which Coffee you are serving. They must decide which Coffee they like without knowing the brand name. You'll really know then which Coffee you'll want to continue.

TELL TALE OF KIDNAPING BY RUM RUNNERS

PHILADELPHIA, April 3. — A tale of the adventurous rum runner, clothed with the magic of Mellville and the color of Conrad, was revealed in a federal grand jury indictment returned here, charging Chauncy F. Fyle with attempted extortion of $12,000 from T. Woodward Trainer, prominent resident of Chester, Pa., for the promised return of Trainer's son, Wetherill, 18, who disappeared in Cape May, N. J., last July.

Young Trainer was last seen on the beach and his family thought him drowned. In November last Trainer received a series of letters signed "Rum Runners," in which he was assured his son was alive and well on a rum running vessel and would be returned to his home on payment of $12,000. Because of their hazardous occupation, the rum runners stated, they did not dare approach shore and land the youth. The boy enjoyed his experience, the latters stated, but had become homesick and desired to see his parents.

The captors were willing to release young Trainer, but they feared he might expose their method of operation to Federal authorities and the $12,000 they asked was to recompense them for loss of time and the expense of changing their rum running system.

A system of communication was adopted in which Trainer gave his replies to the writers by depositing notes in a milke bottle along a trolley track near Chester.

Postal inspectors, police and detectives were posted near the spot and arrested Pyle when he picked up one of the messages.

He denied all knowledge of the extortion plot and said he was paid by a stranger to get the messages.

Pyle also has been indicted in the Chester courts for blackmail.

Colored Parson Argues Before Jury and Wins

CAIRO Ill.—Jasper Irons, negro preacher and merchant of Tamms, Ill., reached the zenith of oratory when he appeared before a jury to defend himself of charges of having liquor in his possession, which he alleged had been left in his store by another negro, just as the raiding officers approached.

"If I is gwin 'long de road and a hoss drap dead as he passes me, although another man is drivin' de hoss, is I responsible for de hoss's death just 'cause I was dah?—no suh, gemmen," reasoned Jasper. "If a thief steals de pocketbook of one of the juahhs and put it in my pocket and it is found dah, is I guilty?—no suh, gemmen."

And Jasper's appeal and logic worked. He was acquitted in less than ten minutes.

Garden Grove

GARDEN GROVE, April 3.—The Girls' Glee club of Redlands University, the Philomela Chorus, will give a concert this evening at 8 o'clock in the Baptist church.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Griffin and children of Los Angeles were Sunday visitors at the home of Mrs. Mary Winters.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Page of Fullerton spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. A. Gleason. Their children, Frank and Grace, who had been visiting their grandmother a few days returned home with them.

William J. McHugh and family have moved to Garden Grove from Pomona. Mr. McHugh is a grocery salesman for a Los Angeles firm.

Dr. and Mrs. Burns Chaffee of Long Beach visited the former's mother, Mrs. Susan Chaffee, on Sunday.

Mrs. A. D. Hoenshel and Miss Frances Barbour visited Miss Claire Newman in Glendale Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Armstrong and sons, Trenton and Peter, visited Mrs. Armstrong's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Pollins, in Long Beach Monday.

Mrs. G. C. Clemons celebrated her birthday anniversary with a dinner on Sunday. Pink roses and blue Canterbury bells intermingled with fern were used artistically in decorating. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Thompson, Miss Olga Thompson and Dan Richards of Van Nuys, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Brown and Miss Evelyn Duckworth of Los Angeles, Dick Thompson of Santa Fe, Mr. and Mrs. Clemons and children, Evelyn, Eleanor and Walter. Mrs. Clemons received many gifts.

The Joy Makers' class of the Methodist Sunday school met at the church Monday evening, where a box supper was served, the object being to raise money which the class had pledged toward the building fund.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kerner were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Turner in Glendora Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Seals of Anaheim was a Sunday visitor at the home of Mrs. E. Ladd.

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Jackson returned Saturday from a few days' visit with relatives in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Kelsey entertained the cast of the play, "The Little Clodhopper," at the clubhouse recently. They were assisted by their daughter, Miss Martha Kelsey, and Miss Connie Woodside. Old fashioned flowers and ferns were used as decorations. A very beautiful bouquet was presented to Mrs. Kelsey by the cast. The evening spent in playing cards and dancing old time dances. Prizes were awarded for the best waltzing, Miss Amy Redd and Francis Westgate receiving first prize and Mrs. C. B. Henry and Dwight Hogue receiving second prize.

London Experts Squabble About St. Paul's Dome

LONDON, April 3.—Around the old dome of St. Paul's has now gathered darkly a cloud of quarreling experts. The public is bewildered.

While the city surveyor, John Todd, has officially certified the cathedral to be a "dangerous structure" and demanded that the piers be entirely reconstructed and the whole cathedral placed on a concrete bed, the commission of experts which has been studying the subject with scientific instruments since 1921 replies rudely: "Pure tosh!"

That commission, which is headed by Sir Aston Webb, a leading architect, asserts that:

There is no immediate danger that the dome of St. Paul's will collapse.

That while it istrue the dome tilted a little there is every evidence that this occurred when St. Paul's was built and not since.

Which side is right?

The man in the street who looks apprehensively up at St. Paul's every time he passes it, afoot or on a bus would give a good deal to know.

As for the authorities, they are studying the mutually contradictory reports with considerable perturbation.

FRENCHMAN HAS CHANNEL BORE PLANS READY

PARIS, April 3.—Suggested a century ago and often discussed, but postponed because of international difficulties, the problem of constructing a channel tunnel will come up again at the international trade conference in Rome in April. Yvres Le Trocquer, former minister of public works, is chairman of the French committee which has been studying the project.

Engineer Draws Plans

M. Le Trocquer is a noted engineer. He has given to the parliamentary trade committee, presided by ex-Senator Chaumet, a detailed report on every angle of the problem. He explained the technical difficulties to be met in the construction, administrative problems later, financial needs, and, finally, the highly important military aspect of the plan.

The idea of a tunnel under the strip of water between England and France was broached seriously about fifty or sixty years ago by the Franco-British Association for the Promotion of Peace. But Franco-British relations were never very cordial until King Edward developed the entente, which finally became a wartime alliance, and so the plans never went beyond the state of preliminary discussion.

Discussed Many Years

In the last 20 years, however, the scheme has made headway and committees have been working on the plans in Paris, London and Brussels. It is not likely that anybody will now revive the old objections based on the ease with which a continental army could invade England through the tunnel. With that objection out of the way, the chances of putting through the plan are good.

Big Ben Chimes Are Carried 8523 Miles by Radio

LONDON, April 3. — Big Ben, London's famous clock on the house of parliament, has made what is called a world record in radio, his chimes having been heard in British North Borneo, 8523 miles away. Big Ben stopped ticking recently because his machinery had become clogged with soot and rust and workmen labored for several days, taking out thirty pounds of refuse. It was after this that the chimes were broadcast from station 2LO, and word came back from an Englishman in Borneo that he had heard the old clock strike.

Terrier Puppy Is Golf Enthusiast

OREGON CITY, Ore., April 3.—"Check," English terrier puppy, is the original golf hound.

Check belongs to B. R. McArthur, greenskeeper at the Oregon City Golf Club course.

He knows more golf etiquette beter than many of the hole-in-one boys, and he has now learned to help his master hold down his job.

His principal job on the course is retrieving balls which have been misplayed into some new fairways planted parallel to the old ones. A slice can easily cause a ball to get lost in them. The club had to make it a rule that no one could go on the growing grass to recover his ball, but here is where Creck comes in.

He has been trained to search for balls on the forbidden grounds, and he takes hundreds of them to the edge of the fairway where his master awaits him.

Check is efficient and for a time he attempted to carry two balls t once, but he found his mouth was too small.

Check will not touch a ball in play on the regular fairways. He knows his job and stick to it. He also knows the new seeded greens, and carefully walks around them.

DID YOU GET YOURS?

CHICAGO, April 3.—Every woman and girl in the United States above the age of 15 years might have 40 hair nets, two jars of cold cream, seven cans of talcum powder, one-half jar of rouge and one-third of an ounce of hair dye as her share of the 1924 production of thes articles, Emily Lloyd, beauty expert, announced in an address here.

After 12 years' suffering with constipation, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brought lasting relief

Florida woman feels ten years younger. No more headaches or medicine.

Think what it means to be everlastingly free from the dull, throbbing headaches, sallow skin and perpetual tiredness which are constipation's toll. But let Mrs. Bevis tell you her inspiring story:

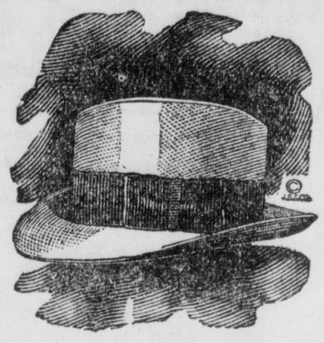

Words can't express my gratitude for Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. For 12 years I suffered with constipation, always taking medicine, had dull headaches and never felt well. For the past 12 months I've eaten ALL-BRAN and haven't taken one drop of medicine. I've gained in weight, my health is so improved I feel 10 years younger.

(Signed) MRS. F. S. BEVIS,
Jacksonville, Florida.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN will bring sure relief to you just as it has to Mrs. Bevis and thousands of others. It is a bulk food that doctors recommend. It is guaranteed to be permanently effective, if eaten regularly, or the purchase price will be returned by your grocer. Only ALL-BRAN brings sure relief.

Eat at least two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Try the recipes given on the package. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is nature's own way of cleaning the intestine. Made in Battle Creek, Mich. Served at leading hotels and restaurants. Sold by all grocers.

GRAND CHIEF OF PYTHIAN ORDER TUSTIN VISITOR

Mrs. Bessie Biddle, Santa Barbara, grand chief of the Pythian Sisters of California, was the guest of honor at the joint meeting of Santa Ana and Tustin temples of the order in the Tustin hall last night. One hundred and seventy-five members were present.

The degree work was put on undr direction of Mrs. H. Kellogg, most excellent chief of the Santa Ana temple. Mrs. Eva Logan, most excellent chief of the Tustin body, presided at the meeting.

In a brief speech, Mrs. Biddle told of the growth of the Pythian Sisters throughout the country. In California, the order is making wonderful strides, she said.

Mrs. Alice Goodhue, Los Angeles, past grand chief, and organizer of Santa Ana and Tustin temples, also spoke.

Among the other visitors present were Louise Whittaker, Long Beach, past chief; Clarise Winlack, Violet Paterson, Lela Mae Keady, Leona Scott, Los Angeles.

Gifts of Maderia napkins and flowers were presented to Mrs. Biddle and Mrs. Goodhue. An enjoyable reading was given by Leona Scott of Los Angeles. Refreshments were served.

Authorize Viaduct Across L. A. Street

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3.—Construction of a $1,000,000 viaduct across Macey street in Los Angeles was authorized and division of the cost between the interested parties was ordered by the state railroad commission. The commission directed that the city, county, Santa Fe and Salt Lake railways each pay 21 per cent of the cost. The other 16 per cent is directed to be paid by the Los Angeles railway, a street railway system.

FIND DAVID'S CITY.

JERUSALEM, April 3.—Ruins believed to be those of the City of David have been discovered after extensive excavations in Palestine by J. Garrow Duncan. The original Jebusite wall, standing in 1000 B. C. when David took the city, has been found in good condition.

NO BOILED EGGS THERE.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Government scientists say on account of the rare state of the air on Mars, water there boils at a lower temperature than on the earth. The difference is so great, they claim, that boiling water on Mars will not boil an egg.

EVENING SALUTATION

As to be perfectly just is an attribute of the Divine nature, to be so to the utmost of our abilities is the glory of man.—Addison.

FORTY DOLLARS NOT ENOUGH

The Register feels impelled respectfully to suggest to the City Trustees that levying a license tax upon them of $40 a year will not rid the city of the gambling slot machines.

The best information we can obtain indicates that these slot machines yield an average profit of about $10 per week—some of them more and some of them less,—and that half of this profit goes to the man in whose business place the machine is located and the other half to the owner of the machine.

Viewed from the local business man's point of view, the machine not only yields him a net profit of $5 per week but it also has some advertising value—that is, it has an attraction for people who like slot machines and brings them into his store or other place of business.

And from the point of view of the owner of the machine, certainly he can afford to pay a license tax of $40 a year when the machine brings him an income of $250 to $300 a year, without any expense whatever, except a trifling interest on the investment and the wear and tear on the machine.

If the license tax should be divided between the owner and the storekeeper, it would amount only to $20 for each of them while either of them could afford well to pay the whole $40.

If the object of the trustees in levying the tax is to rid the city of the gambling slot machine—as, without doubt on our part, it is—the proposed tax, in our judgment, is entirely too small. Even if the objective of the city be to derive revenue from these machines—which some people have been cynical enough to suggest,—they probably would get more money by levying a tax of $60 or $75 or even $100 a year than to hold it down to $40; for even the larger amounts would not put some of the more profitable machines out of business.

SUCCESS IN MUTUALS

Mutual and co-operative institutions and associations established in Orange county, in the main, have been highly successful. Our orange, lemon, walnut and bean co-operative associations are recognized as among the best. As much may be said for the Orange County Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance company, which has just moved into its new building at the corner of North Main and Eleventh streets, and for the Home Mutual Building and Loan association, which yesterday completed its thirty-second year in business.

Both of these institutions are recognized over the state as models. Each not only is sound financially but is also pointed out by state examiners as well managed and successful. Each is fortunate in having for a secretary a man of outstanding reputation for sound ideas and integrity. C. W. McNaught as secretary-manager for the mutural fire insurance company and O. M. Robbins as secretary-manager of the building and loan association are largely responsible each man for the high standing of his institution.

These institutions are conducted with a mind to the public good. Each has a service to offer; each has proven itself a worthy and valuable community asset.

AIR DEFENSE CONTROVERSY

The aviation row stirred up in the army and navy is all right as far as publicity is concerned, because it arouses interest in an important question. But it is unforunate in arousing bitter antagonisms, shifting interest from policies to personalities, and so obscuring the issue.

Whether or not there should be separate control for a branch of the national defense that army and navy both must use is probably a question for experts rather than laymen, although it is well known that some of the leading air powers do have centralized control, and are successful with it.

Perhaps what is really needed in this country is centralized control of the entire national defense, with the army and navy made equal branches of one great Department of Defense. This also is done by some other military powers. It would make the creation of a separate branch of air defense an easier matter.

Such unification has been urged for many years and was favored by President Harding, but was given up, presumably because of the same reluctance of the army and navy departments to surrender authority as seems to be at the bottom of their present objection to a separate Aviation Department.

One thing is sure, in the judgment of the public at least. This is that aircraft and airmen are going to play an immensely larger part in future warfare and national police work than they have played in the past. Wherefore the rational procedure is to experiment unceasingly, build aircraft and develop flyers, regardless of the official machinery by which the thing is accomplished, until such time as the powers agree to limit air armament.

YEARS AND WORLDS

The latest computations of the age of the universe, according to Prof. Gillon, of McGill University, Toronto, place it at "six million million years." The old arithmetics would have called it "six trillion" years, and expressed it in figures as 6,000,000,000,000.

It is impressive enough, whether in figures or words. It is a thousand times as great as the age estimated by astronomers up to a year ago.

Such a period, Prof. Gillson remarks, would afford time for the development of many solar systems like ours. According to his explanation, a solar system is produced by two suns approaching each other near enough to draw out a long filament of matter from one of them, which filament breaks up and forms planets revolving about the parent sun. This process, astronomers estimate, can take place only about once every billion years. On that basis, there might be a thousand solar systems, with planets capable of supporting organic life.

CRITICISES CAKE-EATERS

William Allen White finds it appropriate that an audience of students should applaud a screen presentation of Beau Brummel, who as White remarks was "the father of all cake-eaters." Blood is thicker than water, he finds, even in the present-day representatives of that breed.

Still, it isn't necessary to be quite so scornful and hopeless of contemporary youth, in spite of its cake-eating propensities and balloon trousers. The breed isn't hopelessly degenerate. It has no less applause for Robin Hood, and goes into ecstasy over the rough and heroic King Richard gnawing a hambone.

"A successful marriage,' 'remarks the Toledo Blade, "is one where the wife is boss but doesn't know it." And where the husband doesn't know it, either.

Los Angeles As Usual

San Bernardino Sun.

Perhaps, after all, the question of a permanent site for the southern branch of the University may still be open. It now develops that the site in Beverly Hills, offered to the regents and by them accepted, has not been bought and paid for, and it will not be until the City of Los Angeles votes a $700,000 bond issue. Which may or may not be done, and there are precedents for the latter horn of the dilemma.

Whether the announcement came as a shock to the people of Los Angeles Saturday morning can only be surmised, but we will wager that the proponents of all other sites in the contest for location of the State University sustained a very distinct one when they learned that the 400 acres offered and accepted had the string to it that it must yet be financed. Presumably, realty interests were responsible for the offer, which was legitimate enough on that basis, for of course, the location of an institution that is soon to have 10,000 students would not hurt neighboring real estate holdings, of which there are thousands of acres in the Beverly district that are awaiting improvement. But that these interests which expect to be so greatly benefitted should expect the City of Los Angeles to vote a $700,000 bond issue, when much of the city was distinctly favorable to other sites, rises to the degree of superlative presumption.

Los Angeles financial and business interests are full of such tricks. The site for the balloon school at Arcadia and what happened to the financing of it is still fresh in mind. We think it was the Chamber of Commerce, but if not it was some other presumably pro bono publico interest which offered the government the free site at Arcadia if it would locate an air school there, the land to be bought from Mrs. Anita Baldwin. A little later the facts were uncovered when the county of Los Angeles was asked to vote a bond issue to pay for the land, which the people of Los Angeles quite promptly refused to do. Nor have we forgotten the ill-fated commercial exposition staged at Exposition Park in 1917 or 1918 which ran into a deficit of something over $60,000, and the Los Angeles commercial interests, instead of levying on themselves, as we in San Bernardino did once or twice in the early years of the Orange Show when there was a deficit, hurried to Sacramento when the Legislature was in session, succeeded in getting an appropriation log-rolled through, taking that $60,000 and more out of the state treasury, after they had prevailed upon Governor Stephens to stand for the hold-up. Then they beat Stephens for a renomination in 1922.

The rest of Southern California will watch developments with reference to this $700,000 for the university site with no slight degree of interest. It was announced in advance, and we took it as the fact, that free sites were offered by land and commercial interests, one in Burbank, another near Pasadena, a third in the Palos Verdes Rancho, and a fourth at Fullerton. The Burbank site is in the city of Los Angeles, and its proponents can now have the fun of helping to pay for the site that defeated them—if this bond issue carries.

It might not be surprising if the site question is still an open one, and if so, we're for the Fullerton or the Pasadena site—50-50. A location that far inland, and that far from the center of the great metropolis that Los Angeles is certain to be, seems to us to be preferable.

Return of the Family Doctor

Santa Barbara News.

In the course of an address recently Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, of Stanford University congratulated the country on the return of the "family doctor."

In this age of specialization, for years the tendency in the medical profession has been for physicians to develop along some special line and in the process the old time "general practitioner" seemed destined to pass away.

The doctors who watched over the health of the entire family, who carried the mothers through child-birth and then took care of the little ones in the illness of babyhood, doctored them through measles, whoopink cough, mumps, chickenpox and to manhood and womanhood was thought to be a feature of the past.

He belonged to the day of the one-horse buggy and the nearly forgotten buckboard. He was the circuit rider of the country districts. As the friend, adviser and counselor he stood close to the affairs of his patients who were whole families. He assisted in carrying all the troubles of the district and its people. From the cradle to the grave he was always called upon in time of trouble.

Then came a time when the lines of specialization were tight-drawn. As a humorist once said the chest doctor "stopped at the diaphragh." It took a group of doctors to care for the human ills.

It is pleasing to record that the men who will watch over the health of the family, the old "family doctor" whose advice in ninety per cent of the human ailments will be final is not to vanish.

His scope will be widened by the automobile. His ability will be increased by the discoveries of science. But most of all it is important that the father, confessor and friend is to remain as an active element in American life. More power to the family doctor.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. CLIFFORD C. ROBINSON

VERTIGO

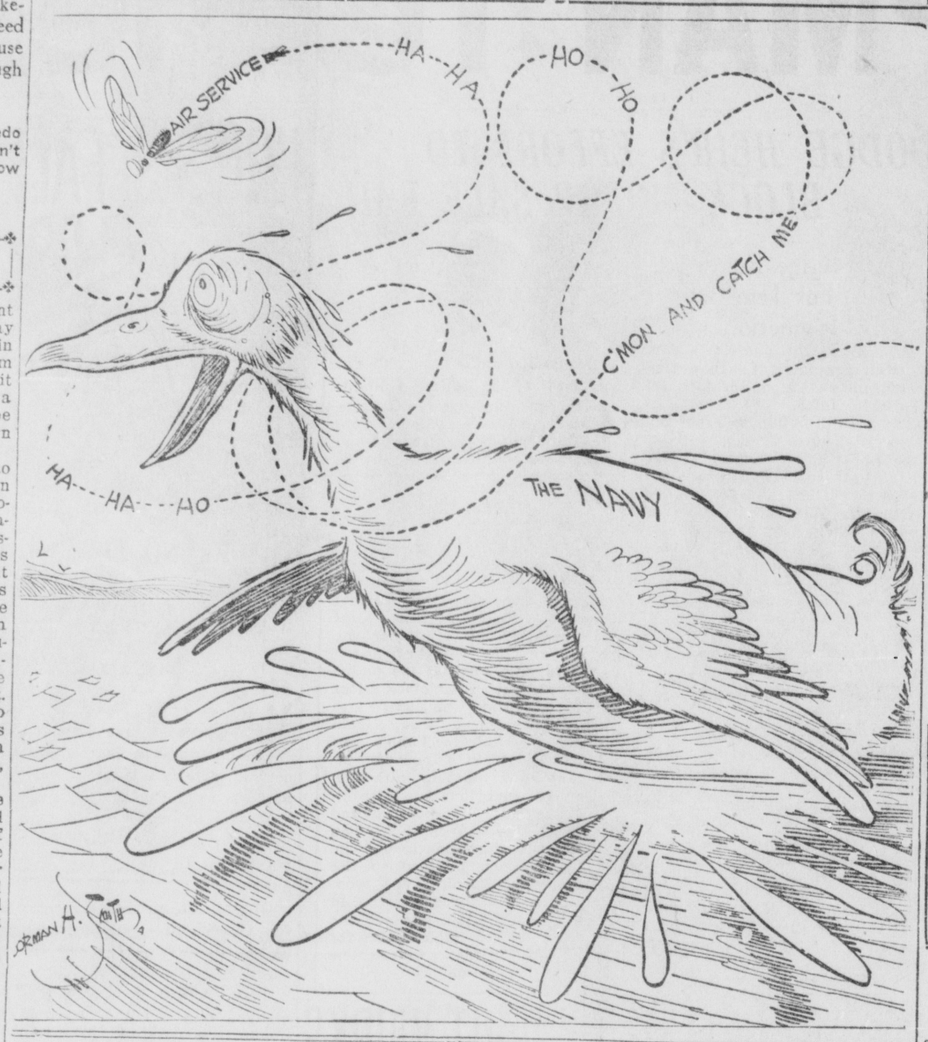

Many persons are subject to attacks of vertigo, which may be called plain dizziness. Looking at objects high in the air, or remaining in one position with the vision fixed downward, often causes this condition. Some people who ride backward in a train or automobile are also subject to this vertigo or dizziness which, if continued for any appreciable length of time, frequently results in rather severe nausea and a nervous, weak inactivity of the body. These conditions which have been mentioned are merely physiologic are are not the result of any disease conditions, but may be traced to lack of training in certain uses of the bodily powers in different situations and positions or for other reasons hard to explain.

Pathologic vertigo is another kind of dizziness which may appear at times in a rather moderate way as the result of some organic brain disease or distaurbance. It may result from some ear defects (aural vertigo). In certain kinds of neurotic patients, those suffering from neurasthenia, psychoneurosis or from congenital nervousness suffer vertigo and another cause may be from cerebral anemia or transitory cerebral intoxication.

In younger persons, the ordinary attacks of vertigo may be guarded against to a certain extent. Habits of eating at regular hours aid in a marked degree in reducing dizziness, either on arising in the morning or under conditions which strain the eyes or muscles to a far greater extent than usual. Careful attention to the blood condition, circulation and blood pressure will aid in avoiding vertigo.

Advanced cases in older perosns or in neurotic types must be treated in a most careful way by a physician. The symptoms in such cases are often indicatd by fear of this secret drain on the system and also by what is termed autosuggestion.

Greatest Compliment To California

Stockton Independent

What is the highest compliment that can be paid to California? Boost and commercial literature has emphasized fruits and flowers, sunshine, sunmaid, sunkist; attractions for the tourist, good roads, scenic wonders. Colonization literature has stressed agricultural production and the natural conditions favorable thereto. In California we break all crop records and our products are of infinite variety.

B. M. Rastall, manager of Californians, Inc., hsa supervised the preparation and dissemination of literally tons of such reading matter—entirely proper and legitimate exploitation.

And yet Mr. Rastall sees the highest tribute to the state in none of these things.

The other day he received a letter from a former Californian, Mrs. Hazel M. Sample, now living at Rawlins, Arizona, who is confessing a certain nostalgia for California, wrote:

I think the best gift I could give my boys would be to raise them in California.

In commenting upon Mrs. Sample's letter, Dr. Rastall said "I have read many thousands of compliments paid to California, but I don't think I have ever read a more beautiful tribute than Mrs. Sample's sentence 'I think the best gift I could give my boys would be to raise them in California.' Not only is it a tremendous tribute to a state coming from a mother of high intelligence, but it is also a testimony to the soundness of the appeal which is running through our advertising this year, attracting the attention of parents throughout the United States to he advanages of California in child developmen."

Mrs. Sample's letter, written in response to Californians, Inc., advertising, is a little gem in itself. See if you don't think so:

"Your splendid booklet and good letter at hand and I certainly appreciate the service you are offering. I am a business woman with two small sons to raise and educate and I want to do it in California. Many a night I dream of sunny California and I get so homesick for the ocean, for the flowers and for the trees. I think the best gift I could give my boys would be to raise them to California. It is a man sized job to bring them up, but I am not afraid."

Californians will hope that Mrs. Sample's dreams come true.

Worth While Verse

MARCH

The stormy March is come at last,
With wind, and cloud, and changing skies;
I hear the rushing of the blast
That through the snowy valley flies.

Ah, passing few are they who speak,
Wild, stormy month! In praise of thee;
Yet, though thy winds are loud and bleak,
Thou are a welcome month to me.

For thou, to Northern lands, again
The glad and glorious sun dost bring,
And thou hast joined the gentle train,
And wear'st the gentle name of Spring.

And, in thy reign of blast and storm,
Smiles many a long, bright sunny day,
When the changed winds are soft and warm,
And heaven puts on the blue of May.

Thou bring'st the hope of those calm skies,
And that soft time of sunny showers,
When the wide bloom on earth that lies,
Seems of a brighter world than ours.

—By William Cullen Bryant.

Time to Smile

PRETTY GOOD REASON

The superintendent was examining a class in geography, and addressing a small boy in the back row, he asked:' 'Now, sonny, would it be possible for your father to walk around the earth?"

"No, sir," replied the boy, promptly.

"Why not?" asked the inspector.

"Because he fell down and hurt his leg yesterday."—The Pathfinder.

A BAD SHOT

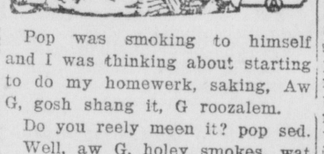

"Yes," said the teacher, "we have several plants and flowers named with the prefix 'dog.' Of course, the 'dog-rose' and the 'dog-violet' are well known to you all. Can any of you tell me others?"

For some seconds the class remained dumb. Then a bright idea illuminated the face of an urchin, and up went his hand.

Protesting Against Butchery of Trees

Sacramento Bee

In a strong editorial the Stockton Record recently denounced what it justly termed the "butchery" of shade trees on public highways, which shows this sort of ruthless maiming is not confined to the city of Sacramento.

Following a recital of the good work accomplished by the Arbor Club of Stockton, beginning twenty years ago, in bringing about the planting of shade trees on all the main roads leading out of that city, and most of which not only survive but "give promise of blessing future generations," the Record says.

If the promise is to be fulfilled, however, it is very evident that Stockton must have another Arbor Club, and it must remain alert and militant.

In proof of the need, witness the recent shameless butcherinf of over a mile of shade trees along the Mariposa road just east of the fair-grounds. Trees that were set out by Stockton public school children over twenty years ago, on a holiday declared for the occasion, have been horribly disfigured by gangs of official trimmers who have passed along the highway, sawing, chopping and hacking at will * * *

Fine trees have been shorn of all limbs * * * the sight is one to inspire sorrow * * *

If the trees were interfering with telephone lines, why not require the telephone company to install higher poles?

The Record contrasts this butchery with the progress made by Kern county in the planting and care of trees, which—to mention but one instance—line seventeen miles of highway south of Bakersfield, through what was originally a desert stretch of country. These "black and honey locusts" are watered in summer and otherwise well cared for, at county expense.

It seems from the Record's article that a state law should provide greater safeguards than now exist for protection of trees on streets and county highways. Much of the butchery appears to be done by gangs of men working for telephone or telegraph companies, with apparently no regard whatever for the public rights to the preservation of trees.

Fellowship of Prayer

Daily Lenten Bible reading and meditation prepared for Commission of Evangelism of Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

FRIDAY

The Willing Heart

Read Lk. 18:18-30. Text: 18:29, 30. There is no man that hath left house . . . for the kingdom of God's sake, who shall not receive manifold more in this time.

MEDITATION—The rich young man had a willingness of heart, sufficient for him to desire to know the Master's teachings. But Jesus saw that there was still selfishness in his nature and that he trusted in the power of riches, making it impossible for him to be a true friend of man and a faithful disciple. He had not the ability to master his money—his money mastered him. There are many rich men and women who bless the world continually by their wealth because they have learned how to use it for others. The world needs love and sympathy more than it needs material things and this greatest gift we all can give if we possess the willing heart. Let each one ask, What is it that stands in my way to largest usefulness?

"Not thy gifts, I seek, O Lord;
Not thy gifts, but thee.
What were all thy boundless store
Without thyself, what less or more,
Not thy gifts, but thee."

PRAYER—O our Father, sanctify the secret places of our hearts that we may follow thee in ministry to others. Make us rich with heavenly treasure. Deliver us from selfishness. Help us to do good to all thy needly children. For Christ's sake. Amen.

Phone Facts

With an increase in population of 364 per cent since 1900, the number of telephones in Detroit has grown more than 1966 per cent.

There are now 106,733 telephones in Oregon—more than there are in all of Belgium or all of Poland, or more than there are in Portugal and Spain combined.

At the Iowa State University every room in the dormitories is supplied with a telephone connected with the local exchange and listed in the local directory.

The total number of telephones in the United States would completely fill thirty freight trains of fifty cars each.

Massachusets has over 150,000 more telephones than the whole of France.

Cuba talks with the United States on the telephone on an average of fifty times a day.

There are about 2,700,00 telephones in the United States in farm dwellings, or nearly one telephone to every two rural homes. No other country has anything approaching this farm development.

More local calls are handled each year over the Dallas telephone system than by the telephone systems of either Belgium or Switzerland.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

"Is spring here?" asked Nancy. "We have fixed up so many things that it must be pretty well started."

"Yes," said the March Hare, "it is pretty well started. Indeed it is so well started that people are beginning to clean house. If you listen you can hear the carpet beaters at this very minute."

"Then is our work all over?" asked Nick.

"Just about," said the March Hare, "but not quite. We must go and see the Rubbish Man. We have to tell him to get out his old horse and wagon and go and get the rubbish that gathers in the winter."

So off they went to the Rubbish Man's house.

"What is it?" he asked in surprise when he saw his visitors.

"Spring is here," said the March Hare. "I am surprised you didn't know it."

"Why so it is!" sniffed the Rubbish Man. "I smell it now. With all my doors and windows shut, I never get a whiff of it. My, doesn't it smell sweet! I'll go and hitch up old Dobbin at once and we'll be gone."

"We!" cried the Twins. "Are we going, too?"

"Wouldn't you like a ride?" asked the Rubbish Man. "Dobbin isn't very fast, but he gets there. Besides, you could show me where all the rubbish is that I don't know about."

"Certainly," said the March Hare. "We'll be most happy, sir."

So they waited until the Rubbish Man had his cart hitched up, I mean his horse hitched up and off they all rode, the old wheels tilting this way and that as though any second they would fall off.

The Rubbish Man began to sing through his nose, "Rubbish, Rubbish!"

And then the back doors began to fly open and all the people stuck their heads out, and some even called out of their windows (which isn't, my dears, at all good manners, even to a rubbish man).

"Come and take my cans away," said Mrs. Wilson. "The garbage man won't take them with the garbage and I have about a million old cans in the cellar.

"Come and get my old springs," said Mrs. Johnson. "The children jumped on them until they are completely ruined. I had to get a new set."

"Yes'm," said the Rubbish Man, and he charged her a quarter.

"Is that for sale?" asked Mrs. Robinson.

"No'm," said the Rubbish Man. "He's a mine. I couldn't sell him."

The March Hare laughed, but the Rubbish Man looked uneasy. "It's getting late. I'd better be going back to work," he said.

They helped him put such rubbish away, and he made three dollars and fifteen cents that day.
